Raps Shift To Military Rule Over Viet Reforms

WASHINGTON (AP) — Sen. Charles H. Percy, R-Ill., signaled fresh senatorial attacks Saturday on President Johnson's policies by calling transfer of U.S. Vietnam pacification activities to military hands "a step in the wrong direction."

Secretary of State Dean Rusk goes before the Senate Foreign Relations Committee Tuesday for a private review of the whole spectrum of Vietnam policies.

Sen. Karl E. Mundt, R-S.D., a supporter of Johnson's war course, said he and others want a detailed explanation from Rusk of the reasons for placing under Gen. William C. Westmoreland the American phase of the program of civil and economic reforms.

Mundt said he would make no judgment on the action until he learns what was behind the move.

Percy, not a member of the Foreign Relations group, said in a separate interview he thinks the increased involvement of U.S. troops may result in time in almost complete Americanization of the pacification program.

"I have a feeling of concern already we are constantly taking over more and more of the effort in South Vietnam," he said. "This is a step in the wrong direction and I feel we are sinking deeper and deeper into the quicksand."

While Percy's position represents the feeling among many of Johnson's critics, the Senate's doves and hawks appear divided in their reaction.

Sen. Eugene J. McCarthy, D-Minn., who has been critical of some of Johnson's decisions, said he thinks the administration took a reasonable step that was forced upon it by the realities of the situation.

Pope Prays For Peace At Fatima Shrine Mass

FATIMA, Portugal (AP) — Pope Paul VI came to Fatima — a shrine revered by Roman Catholics as the scene of a peace miracle — and prayed Saturday for an end to war, hunger and the stockpiling of arms in a world he said is in danger.

A massive throng knelt before him during an open-air Mass just a few feet from the spot where three shepherd children said the Virgin Mary appeared six times in 1917 and told them to pray for peace at a time when World War I was spilling across Europe.

The Pope then returned to Vatican City a little more than 17 hours after his departure and told a throng of Romans in St. Peter's Square, "The stupendous, magnificent visions of the Virgin Mary assure us that these are the ways of peace — prayer, faith, concord."

As the Pope's plane taxied to take off from the Portuguese airfield of Monte Real for his return to Rome, the nose wheel snagged a bush and the aircraft had to be stopped and the bush pulled free. The Pope was unaware of the incident.

At Fatima, the mighty crush of the congregation caused many pilgrims to faint or fall. The Red Cross reported scores of persons lost consciousness or became ill during the 90-minute ceremony marking the 50th anniversary of the apparition of the Virgin Mary.

Police estimated there were a million persons in the vicinity of the shrine and another two million spread along the Pope's 25-mile route from Monte Real, where his plane landed, to Fatima.

Seated at the head of the congregation was Sister Lucia de Jesus, the sole survivor of the three peasant children who reported the apparitions, the first one May 13 and the last on Oct. 13 in 1917.

After the Pope's sermon, Sister Lucia, now 60, conversed briefly with the pontiff at the side of a sheltered altar. She kissed his ring. He bestowed his blessing upon her and patted her chubby cheeks.

"I am very sorry I cannot talk with you longer," the pontiff told her. "Tell your bishop anything you want to say to me and he will get the word to me."

The Pope's pilgrimage to Fatima, reported originally by the Vatican as a mission for peace in Vietnam, turned out to be an appeal for peace in the world in general.

Speaking in Portuguese, he tied the dangers of war to hunger in the world. He also prayed for the internal unity of the Roman Catholic Church at a time when it is facing the issues of birth control and Christian unity. He did not mention the war in Vietnam specifically.

After the ceremony, he lunched with Prime Minister Antonio de Oliveira Salazar, 78; President Americo Thomaz, and public and religious dignitaries, then left Fatima for the flight back to Rome. He had been at the shrine 5 hours and 40 minutes.

It was his fourth trip outside Italy in his four years as Pope.

Eighth Enemy Craft Claimed In Air Duels

SAIGON (AP) — The U.S. Air Force announced Sunday its pilots shot down seven Communist MIG17 jet fighters over North Vietnam on Saturday and that another Soviet-built fighter was downed Friday for a total of eight kills in two days.

Two other MIG17s were listed as "probably destroyed" in Saturday's air duels. The Air Force fighter-bombers flew through heavy antiaircraft fire and surface-to-air missiles to log 72 missions against targets in North Vietnam, their most active day in six months.

The seven MIGs shot down Saturday equalled the record set on Jan. 2. The latest kills brought to 57 the number of enemy planes shot down by U.S. warplanes over North Vietnam.

In the ground war, new fighting erupted Sunday morning between U.S. Marines, supported by tanks, and North Vietnamese forces in the rolling hills at the western edge of "Leatherneck Square," about three miles south of the demilitarized zone.

Associated Press correspondent Peter Arnett reported from the field that a Marine battalion supported by tanks squared off at point-blank range with Communist troops Saturday afternoon.

The action died down through the night as both sides dug in after a vicious three-hour fight. But it flared again Sunday morning.

Latest casualty figures list nine Marines dead and 46 wounded. The Marines reported killing 24 Communists.

Late Saturday night, a fire support base of the 3rd Brigade, 4th Infantry Division, 30 miles west-northwest of Saigon, came under Communist mortar attack and seven Americans were killed and 26 wounded.

The U.S. Command said that fighting between a force of the 3rd Brigade, 1st Air Cavalry Division, and perhaps 200 Communist troops near coastal Duc Pho, about 330 miles northeast of Saigon, ended Saturday night when the enemy broke contact. Seven Americans were killed and 17 wounded in the fighting. Twenty Communists were killed, the U.S. Command said.

In Saturday's dogfights over North Vietnam, the U.S. Command said no American planes were lost despite heavy Communist antiaircraft fire and surface-to-air missiles.

On Friday, three American planes were downed, making 16 U.S. planes claimed by MIG fire in the war.

With vengeance as a spur, Phantom and Thunderchief squadrons based in Thailand ripped purposefully into the Soviet-designed North Vietnamese fighters 24 hours after one of their number, an F4C Phantom, was shot down by a MIG17.

The Phantom, one of three American planes lost in raids Friday in the Hanoi area, was the 16th reputed to have fallen in Vietnam under MIG fire. The American list of enemy planes destroyed in combat soared with Saturday's action to 56.

Eight other MIGs have been reported destroyed and from four to six probably destroyed or damaged a ground since MIG bases were added by Washington order in April to the list of authorized targets.

Teamsters Halt St. Louis Strike

ST. LOUIS (AP) — Members of Teamsters Local 610 in St. Louis, on strike since April 17 against five members of a movers association, ratified Saturday a new contract and ended their strike.

Local Secretary - Treasurer Pete Saffo said union members voted unanimously for an agreement tentatively reached Friday by the local and the Public Movers Association of Greater St. Louis.

The 26-member association had reacted to the strike by ordering a lockout April 20.

Saffo said the Teamsters will return to work Monday. The contract calls for a 50-cent an hour increase spread over three years for city drivers, Saffo said. He said long-distance drivers will receive a 65-cent increase over the same period.

250,000 March In Support Of Fighting Men In Viet

NEW YORK (AP) — Thousands of flag-waving, singing people flooded in wave after wave down Fifth Avenue on Saturday in a massive show of support for American servicemen in Vietnam. The parade, a reaction to an antiwar rally last month, was expected to go on into the evening.

Although police made no official estimate of the number of marchers, a parade official said it could go as high as 250,000 or more. After the first 4½ hours of march, there were as many people waiting at the parade's assembly point as there had been before it began.

If the parade were as large as predicted, it would be twice the size of the April 15 rally and march against the war in Vietnam, which drew 125,000, according to a police estimate.

Ray Gimmier, the New York City Fire Department captain who organized the "Support Our Boys in Vietnam" demonstration, said he couldn't predict when it might end.

Most marchers carried American flags, either brought with them from their homes or bought from hawkers who did a brisk business along the parade route.

Throughout the metropolitan area, people hung flags in front of their homes and businesses.

A man described by police as an "antiparade demonstrator" was tarred and feathered on Fifth Avenue at 78th Street, apparently when he tried to join the march. He was rescued by police and taken to a hospital. A pile of warm tar had been dumped over him and feathers were thrown on the tar.

Many local police and fire departments had uniformed groups in the parade. There also were a few fire engines and heavy equipment from the New York City Sanitation Department.

There was a line of buses carrying disabled veterans unable to march.

There were several incidents of scuffling and sign ripping between marchers and antiwar advocates. At one point, police had to usher several antiwar pickets into an apartment house lobby for protection.

At least one person was slightly hurt.

Francis Cardinal Spellman, Roman Catholic Archbishop of New York, who has spent 16 straight Christmas seasons overseas with American servicemen, appeared at the official reviewing stand to watch the parade. Cardinal Spellman, 78, had to be helped to a seat but he appeared smiling and happy.

In addition to the marchers, tens of thousands turned out to watch the parade, standing 20 and 30 deep at some spots.

"Hey, hey, what do you say. Let's all support our boys today," one parade sign read.

Still Got That Old Feeling

Hannibal Cave Search Yields Sock

HANNIBAL, Mo. (AP) — A sock found in a quarry by members of the Mark Twain Emergency Rescue Squad on Saturday has been identified by relatives of one of the three Hannibal boys who disappeared three days ago.

Bill Bridges, vice commander of the squad, said the sock was found by searchers in the vicinity of Murphy's Cave where the boys were last seen.

Bill Dean, a stepbrother of 14-year-old Craig Dowell, said the sock is definitely Craig's.

"We went home and got one just like it," said Dean.

Dowell and Joey Hoag, 13, and Billy Hoag, 11, were last seen entering Murphy's Cave about 4:40 p.m. Wednesday.

A two-day search of Murphy's Cave, which the boys were reported to have entered, was fruitless. So, the searchers turned their attention to areas southeast of the cave.

Underground rescue teams, led by William Karras, president of the Speleological Society of America, searched passages under the road bed of a new highway being constructed through the south side of Hannibal.

Earth moving equipment had opened several entrances to caves and it was felt the boys might have entered one of the holes.

Venezuela To File Charges vs. Cuba

CARACAS (AP) — The Caribbean is crackling with a new crisis over what the Venezuelan government calls the landing of a guerrilla force led by Cuban army officers. Two of the officers are prisoners.

The government of President Raul Leoni is pushing ahead with plans to indict Cuban Prime Minister Fidel Castro on charges of aggression before the Organization of American States and possibly before the United Nations.

This is the first time a South American country has reported capturing Cuban troops on a subversive mission.

The Venezuelan government contends it now has indisputable, concrete proof of Cuban intervention in its internal affairs.

A announcement Friday by Leoni said Cuban army officers led a group of Cuban-trained Venezuelans ashore at dawn last Monday on a lonely beach 90 miles east of Caracas and near a guerrilla mountain hideout.

Venezuelan army troops killed the Cuban commander of the group, a lieutenant, the announcement said. Another officer drowned but two were captured, Leoni reported.

The two were presented at a news conference in Caracas and admitted leading the guerrillas ashore. They said they were Cubans.

A Havana dispatch said the Cuban Foreign Ministry reported it had no official word of the landing and capture of the Cubans. A spokesman said he could neither confirm nor deny the Caracas reports on the basis of present information. The Communist party newspaper Granma published a news account of the Venezuelan announcement but did not comment on it.

The captured pair gives Venezuela added leverage in its quest for collective sanctions against the Havana regime. It has been seeking support for a collective indictment of Castro by the Latin-American nations. It has also lodged complaints with nations trading with Cuba.

The prisoners could even help take the case to the United Nations, where Venezuela would, however, probably not enjoy as wide a support as in the Organization of American States.

An almost forgotten clause of an OAS resolution, calling for armed action against Castro's regime if it persists in acts of subversion, takes on new importance.

Venezuela is not likely to embark on any military action alone against Cuba. But it is likely that it will seek more than "moral condemnation" of Cuba in the OAS.

Vietnam: China's War Of Attrition

A general has sobering words for Americans.

The general is not William C. Westmoreland, who, in an action unprecedented for a field commander in a time of war, came home from Vietnam to address a joint session of Congress. He is Brig. Gen. Samuel B. Griffith (USMC, Ret.).

Like Westmoreland, however, Griffith foresees no early end to the fighting in Vietnam. Holder of a Ph.D. from Oxford in Chinese history as well as the Distinguished Service Cross, Griffith, now a research associate at the Hoover Institution on War, Revolution and Peace, believes the war will go on as long as Communist China wants it to go on.

In a recently published book, "The Chinese People's Liberation Army," he writes that Peking "will exert every pressure and take every measure short of direct intervention on the ground to prolong the fighting in South Vietnam and to prevent negotiation of a settlement."

China's regional foreign policy goals have not changed since the Korean War, says Griffith. They are the elimination of American influence and presence from the Asian rimlands and the eventual breaking out of what she sees as an encirclement of her by hostile and menacing American power.

For some time to come, however, she will not be able to muster the economic, political, psychological and military means to enable her to accomplish these objectives.

Thus an indefinite protraction of hostilities in Vietnam is altogether favorable to China's interests—"for a long war will sap American energies, focus American attention on this area to the exclusion of others, drain American strength, impair American morale, damage American prestige, undermine American alliances and so concretely alter 'the balance of forces' to China's benefit."

It has often been said that we must learn to live with an aggressive, militant China.

This is true, agrees Griffith. "But it is equally true that China must learn to live with us and with the world community. At the present time she shows slight indication of wishing to do either."

Lesson Learned From A Guest

If some of the more impatient among us ran the United States, Mrs. Svetlana Alliluyeva would never have come to this country. She would have died long ago, along with tens of millions of other Russians (and Americans), in a holy war of good against evil.

Fortunately, common sense on both sides has never permitted that holocaust to occur. Because it has not occurred, Americans are becoming acquainted with a woman who impresses all who meet her with her graciousness and intelligence and humanity.

There is a lesson here, and it is not that Americans are better people than Russians. Mrs. Alliluyeva has shown that we are all human beings, sharing the same hopes and desires and a spiritual need. She has shown that decency and the dream of freedom are common to all people and can be present even in one raised in the dark shadows of the Kremlin.

How many others like her must there be behind the Iron Curtain?

The lesson is that America's real strength is not in its military might nor the economic well-being its citizens enjoy, important though these are. America's real strength lies in its continued faith in the ideals on which it was founded, the ideals of free thought and speech and opportunity and the dignity of the individual — ideals which impelled all the millions who have come to our shores through the years.

The daughter of Josef Stalin would not have come to America were we but a mirror image of the Soviet Union — a totalitarian system of the right opposing one of the left. Others, who cannot come, would not look to America as Freedom's homeland and hope were we to adopt the methods of our opponent in order to defeat him.

The end to the Cold War, the reign of true peace throughout the world, is not going to come about as the result of some great military victory over communism. It will be with us only when people like Mrs. Alliluyeva no longer have to leave their native lands to find a place "where one can feel free."

Percy Uses 'Odd-One' Ploy To Promote Housing Bill

By DAVE BURGIN
Newspaper Enterprise Assn.
WASHINGTON — (NEA) — House and Senate members are still marveling at the way Sen. Chuck Percy, R-Ill., lined up support for his recently introduced housing bill.

"First Percy went after opposite Republican poles," said a Senate aide close to the scene. "Then when he had John Tower (Texas) and Jacob Javits (N.Y.) in tow, the ones in between on the political spectrum fell in easily." Tower is the conservative, Javits the liberal.

There were, however, a couple of Senate Republican hold-outs.

"When it came time to deal with them," the aide told us, "all Percy had to do was say, 'Senator, you don't want to be the only Senate Republican not supporting the bill, do you?'"

We were discussing names the other day. The session began with some of the delightful names strippers use — Stormy Summers, Mah Belle, April March, Knott Cover, Ricki Shay — and became more involved.

How come, we wondered, Hollywood has this thing about names? Why is it the screen idols always have names which sound like Bart Lancer and Jamie Lynn? Whoever said the American public couldn't worship an actor named Lester E. Blitnakowski?

But names are where politicians shine. They're so honest. A.J. Caleb Boggs, a Bourke B. Hickenlooper, a Jennings Randolph or a Claiborne Pell couldn't be anything but a senator. And where could a Speedy O. Long, a Page Belcher or a Horace R. Kornegay be but in the House of Representatives?

A colleague swears that if he ever sees any of the following (actual) names up for public office, he'll vote for them:

Donald K. Turnipseed, Casper K. Toolgoashen, Eldon Nootenboom, F. Archie Meatyard, Alfred Clinkscales, M. Bunkley Weakly, Prentice Onderdonk, Truman Twill, M. Spaulding Toon, Digory Venn, Denmark Groover, Hugo F. Srb and, a sure bet, H. Taliaferro Clapsaddle.

Rep. Henry Helstoski, D-N.J., was asked to contribute his favorite funny story for a Capitol Hill publication.

He thought a minute, chuckling to himself, then said, "I have several but this one I really like."

He went on to tell about the time he mailed his constituents a list of 150 pamphlets, dealing with practically every government program or service known. All the constituent had to do to get a pamphlet was put a check beside that pamphlet's name.

"We got back one list with none of the titles checked," Rep. Helstoski said, "just the constituent's name and address at the bottom."

Now for the punchline. "We could only assume he either wanted all 150 pamphlets or didn't like any of them and wanted another list!"

Anybody want to hear Rep. Helstoski's second-favorite funny story?

Future Of Politicians Rests On Luring Younger Voters

By BRUCE BIOSSAT
Washington Correspondent
Newspaper Enterprise Assn.

WASHINGTON (NEA)—Demonstrating their alertness to trends, politicians of both parties have been running around the country and telling everybody that half the U.S. population today is aged 25 years and under.

It happens not to be true. By careful calculation, the U.S. Census Bureau figures that in 1966 the median age was 27.8 years.

So, the total take-over of the nation by the young may have to be postponed indefinitely, since the bureau now estimates that, even assuming the highest reasonable birth rates in the years ahead, the median age cannot drop close to 25 years until 1990.

At the moment, the birth rate is, in fact, off considerably from the pace of recent years. Population experts are not ready to say it will stay at existing levels. They think many families might change their minds and have more children later. But the downturn is interesting.

Should the birth rate continue roughly at present diminished levels, the median U.S. age will actually rise a little in the decades ahead. Any further slowing of the rate could lift the median to 30.4 years by 1990, near the highest point in history.

On the other hand, it would take a sizable speedup in the rate to produce any drop at all in the median. And, as observed, a very sharp pickup would be required to get the median down to 25 in the next 23 years.

Yet none of this means the two major parties are not well-advised to be building up their "youth divisions" with an eye to channeling an avalanche of youngsters their way as the latter come of voting age.

The postwar "baby boom" is reality, not conjecture. In 1968, a presidential year, the impact will be felt for the first time with great force.

The Census Bureau says that in 1967, as in 1965 and 1966, 2.8 million Americans turned or will turn 21. Next year, however, the number turning 21 will shoot up to 3.8 million.

Obviously not all of these will be able to vote. Some will reach their 21st birthday after the election in November, and all too many will be barred by some complexity — or an early cutoff date — in the tangle of voting registration requirements.

Nevertheless, the figures carry a strong message. These youngsters, and the nearly 9 million others who have come of age since the 1964 election, represent a new field to be conquered.

If either party can put its imprint on a high proportion of these first-time voters, it may make its future secure for years to come.

Moreover, the baby boom's impact on voting prospects will not end with 1968. In 1975, some 4 million youngsters will turn 21. In 1982, the total will have risen to 4.4 million. These will be young people born at the outset of the John F. Kennedy regime in 1961.

Presidential prospects in the late 1970s and the 1980s may find at each outing that they will be dealing with upwards of 16 million new voters.

From 1968 on, plainly, politicians and political parties that do not have highly developed techniques and programs for capturing and holding the many millions of new voters are not likely to thrive.

This does not mean, as we have seen, an early take-over by youth. The attitudes and needs of young Americans will have to be attended to as never before. But there will also be sharply rising numbers in the more mature age brackets, as the life span continues to stretch out and as the baby boom voters of 1968 move up the age scale into their 30s and 40s.

The population profile, then, is not that of a country growing precipitately younger. Politicians can forget their "25 and under" cliché. But there will be, at least for the next two decades, enormous numbers of new young voters as children already born in the boom years reach the magic age.

Honesty Proves Best Policy

By ANN LANDERS

Dear Ann Landers: I hope you will continue to advise girls who have had babies out of wedlock to tell their sweethearts BEFORE they marry. This is what happened to me:

I had a little boy out of wedlock and decided to keep him. I cooked up a story about a brief, unsuccessful marriage which most people believed. When I met Ron I told him I was divorced. After several months of dating he asked me to marry him. I felt like the luckiest girl in the world.

Two weeks before the wedding my mother took me aside and told me I would be doing a terrible thing if I married Ron under the cloud of a lie. I wept and insisted I couldn't take a chance on losing him. If he was unable to accept me because of my past I would just die. After hours of talking, my mother persuaded me that she was right.

I told Ron the very next night. His reply was, "I knew it. I was just waiting to hear it from you. And now there is nothing between us to mar our perfect love."

So you see, Ann, once again truth paid off in a way that a lie never could. Please keep telling the girls who are in my boat that there is only one way to handle this problem. The honest way. —A HAPPY MRS. WITH A CLEAR CONSCIENCE

Dear Happy Mrs.: You told them, dear. And, on behalf of all the girls whose minds you may have changed, I thank you.

Dear Ann Landers: Quite some time ago my daughter-in-law suddenly stopped talking to my daughter. I tried to learn the details but nobody would talk about it. This family rift bothered me and I decided to get to the bottom of it. Last week I wrote my daughter-in-law and asked her to tell me why she had stopped talking to my daughter. I said, "Perhaps there was a misunderstanding which I can help iron out." I was shocked at her answer. She wrote, "I have always despised your daughter and decided to stop going through the hypocritical motions of being nice to her."

This reply cut into my heart like a knife. How should I treat my son and his wife now? Should I ignore them as they have my daughter? Or should I pretend that I did not receive the letter of explanation? —SORY I ASKED

Dear Sorry: Let this be a lesson to all self-appointed menders of ruptured relationships. The golden slogan "Mind Your Own Business" should be the cardinal rule for well-intentioned "fixers." Now, say nothing more. You've said too much already.

Dear Ann Landers: I met this girl when we were counselors at a camp last summer. We are both 14. My parents met her and they like her a lot.

She wants me to spend a weekend with her (it is a nice bus ride from here, about 60 miles), but my folks won't let me go because they have never met her parents.

Does this make sense? I don't think so and I hope you'll be on my side. —MISSED

Dear Missed: I suggest that the girl's mother write or telephone your mother and introduce herself. This would make your folks less uneasy about allowing you to make the trip.

P.S. You are a girl aren't you? I am assuming this although you didn't say.

Persecution has not crushed the church; power has not beaten it back; time has not abated its forces, and what is most wonderful of all, the abuses of its friends have not shaken its stability. — Horace Bushnell, American theologian.

WORLD ALMANAC FACTS

Most people would suffer from lack of oxygen at an altitude of 10,000 feet. Peruvian Indians often live at altitudes up to 17,000 feet, says The World Almanac. They are able to live at such heights because their lungs are larger than normal, they inhale more air with each breath, they have about two quarts more blood than most people and their hearts are about 20 per cent bigger than those of lowlanders.

Red Cross Drive Goal In Greene Co. Shy

CARROLLTON—Greene county as a whole is still short in the recent American Red Cross Fund Drive although five of the townships in the county have made their quotas, all of these going over their respective goals.

To date in the county $5,473.93 has been raised toward a quota of $6,006.00 with an emergency quota of $480 and a deficit blood quota of $722.

The south half of the county including the Carrollton and Greenfield areas had a quota of $3,500 and a blood deficiency quota of $400. They raised $3,575.95. Of this amount the Carrollton area raised $2,404.41 and the Greenfield area $1,171.54.

The north half of the county including the areas of White Hall and Roodhouse had a quota of $2,900.00 and a blood quota of $400 and have raised to date $1,897.98 including a donation from the Hillview area of $140.75. Of the entire amount, the White Hall area raised $1,757.23 and the Roodhouse area $570.01.

Townships making their goal and going over the top were Bluffdale, Carrollton, North Rockbridge and Rubicon, South Rockbridge and Woodville.

Mrs. Robert Reynolds was the chairman of the Bluffdale area. She and her workers have already been listed. This group went over the top first in the county.

Mrs. William Banghart and Mrs. Jerry Jones were the co-chairmen in Carrollton. Their assistants were W. P. Jung, Kenneth Ross, Ray Roll, Mrs. Bessie Schnelten, Miss Peg Schnelten, Mrs. Chester Gourley, Mrs. Joe Schnelten, Mrs. Darrell Schofield, Mrs. Charles Hartman, Mrs. Vincent Moulton, Henry Steinacher, Mrs. Charles Loyet, Mrs. Joe Alfeld, Mrs. Tom Carmody, Mrs. Gary Pruden, Mrs. Martha Robinson, Mrs. Kenneth Byland, Mrs. John Scheffel, Mrs. Robert Hamel, Mrs. William Vandersand, Mrs. James Bray, Mrs. Charles Bishop, Mrs. Jesse Hires, Clem Dunsworth, Mrs. Leroy Brooks, Mrs. Harry Sweet.

Mrs. Sam Greaves, Mrs. Eugene Batty, Mrs. Neil Carrico, Mrs. Paul Weber, Mr. and Mrs. David Brown, Mrs. Cleatus Reynolds, Neal Gillingham, Mrs. Jack Bertman, Mrs. Jake Frech, Mrs. H. Greenhagen, Mrs. Lyndell Smith, Mrs. Lee Pohlman, and Mr. and Mrs. Charles Lakin.

The names of the solicitors in North Rockbridge and Rubicon of which Miss Wilhelmina Heber was chairman have already been published.

Mrs. Wilbur Rathgeber and Mrs. Walter Fillager are co-chairmen of South Rock-bridge and their solicitors were by number, and over the years the worker's earnings are credited to that account. Should a worker suffer loss of income because of disability, death, or retirement, monthly benefits can be paid based on the average earnings credited to his account.

Vasconcelles concluded by advising students not to wait until school is out to apply for their social security numbers. In the event the student has had a card but lost it, an application should be completed to have a duplicate card issued.

Applications for cards may be obtained at the social security office located at 528 South Fifth Street in Springfield. Students living outside Springfield may get application blanks at their local post office.

Social Security Number A Must In Getting Job

As summer approaches, it's job hunting season for many high school and college students, some of whom will be taking a job for the first time in their lives and many have never applied for a social security number. For these students now is the time to apply to avoid an unnecessary delay this summer, says H. J. Vasconcelles, district manager of the Springfield social security office.

Since employers need to see a new employee's social security card before he goes to work, getting the card late could cause a delay in starting to work — even result in missing a good job opportunity.

Vasconcelles explained that while social security may seem unimportant to a young man or woman just out of school, social security credits provide the basis for future benefits under the program. An account is established for each social security number, and over the years the worker's earnings are credited to that account. Should a worker suffer loss of income because of disability, death, or retirement, monthly benefits can be paid based on the average earnings credited to his account.

Margaret Ryan Dies Saturday, Services Monday

Miss Margaret Ryan, 89, a resident of the Meline Nursing Home for the past two years, passed away at 4:05 a.m. Saturday at Holy Cross hospital. She was born at Franklin Oct. 6, 1881; daughter of Martin and Jane Kane Ryan.

The last surviving member of her immediate family, she leaves several nieces and nephews.

She was preceded in death by her parents, six brothers: William, Frank, Jerry, Morris, Daniel and Martin and three sisters: Mrs. Anna Carroll, Mrs. Katherine Doyle and Mrs. Alice Watts.

She was a member of the Church of Our Saviour and the Altar and Rosary Society of the church.

Requiem mass will be offered at 10 a.m. Monday at the Church of Our Saviour. Burial will be in Calvary cemetery.

Friends may call this evening at the Reavy Funeral Home where the rosary will be recited at 8 p.m.

R. H. Cummings Found Dead Late Saturday

Robert Howard Cummings, 59, of 506 South East St. was found dead at his home at 9:30 p.m. Saturday.

Coroner John B. Martin said the death appeared to be from natural causes.

He was born in Mulberry, Kan. Sept. 15, 1907; son of Brant and Emma a Johnson Cummings.

He made his home with his sister, Mrs. Homer Christison, who survives with another sister, Mrs. Raymond Miller of Pittsfield, a daughter Mrs. LaVerne Donaldson, who lives in Peoria and three grandchildren.

He was a veteran of World War Two and a member of the Amvets.

The remains were taken to the Williamson Funeral Home. Arrangements are incomplete.

WOUNDED TO DECIDE ON NOTIFYING KIN

WASHINGTON (AP) — The Defense Department has established an across-the-board policy which provides that relatives of a serviceman who suffers a minor wound will not be notified unless the serviceman himself asks for such notification.

Notification of next of kin in deaths or serious wounds is mandatory.

Defense Department officials said the notification procedure involving nearest relatives of men sustaining minor wounds is in line with general practice in World War II and Korea.

Card Of Thanks

We wish to thank the nurses at Passavant hospital and our doctor for making my wife as comfortable as possible during her illness. We wish to say thanks for all the kind words of friends and neighbors, and for the lovely flowers and other acts of kindness, during the loss of our loved one. May God Bless you all.

Loral Farmer, Danny, Phyllis and Connie

We wish to express our sincere thanks to the many friends and relatives who sent cards, flowers and other tokens of respect and sympathy before and after the death of our loved one; also to the nurses, nurses aides, Sisters of Holy Cross Hospital, Doctors and Ministers.

The family of Rodney Preston

My sincere thanks to my doctor, nurses and nurse aides at Passavant hospital for their kindness to me while I was a patient, also friends and relatives for their visits, cards and gifts.

Marsha Carter

Sincere thanks to my doctors, nurses, Sisters and personnel of Holy Cross hospital for all their kindnesses to me and to friends for cards, flowers and visits while a patient there.

Martha Baumann Dies Saturday, Funeral Tuesday

Mrs. Martha Baumann, 61, wife of Wayne H. Baumann of 1205 Edgemoor Rd., passed away Saturday evening at Passavant hospital where she had been a patient since Feb. 28.

She was born in Clinton, Okla. May 5, 1906; daughter of Cortland and Ada Fertig Davies. She and Mr. Baumann were married in Decatur May 29, 1927.

She leaves her husband, one son, Keith, who with his father owns and operates Baumann and Son Implement company here and three grandchildren: Gary, Jimmy and Nancy Baumann.

Two brothers preceded her in death.

Mrs. Baumann was a member of Central Christian church.

Funeral services have been set at 2 p.m. Tuesday at the Williamson Funeral Home, Reverend William Sturgess officiating. Burial will be in Memorial Lawn cemetery.

Friends may call at the funeral home after 11 a.m. Monday. The family will meet friends at the funeral home from 7-9 p.m. Monday.

Mrs. Corb Hume, Former Brown Resident, Dies

MT. STERLING — Mrs. Minnie Lear Hume, 68, wife of Corb Hume, long time resident of Mt. Sterling, died early Friday at Schmitt hospital in Beardstown. The family has lived in Beardstown the past two years.

Mrs. Hume was the daughter of the late James and Matilda Boss Lear and was born in Brown County Aug. 22, 1898. She is survived by her husband whom she married Nov. 8, 1917, and the following children: Roy of Chicago; Loren, Sterling, Ill.; Norman of Macomb; Richard, serving with the Air Force and Mrs. Ruth Johnston, St. Louis, Mo.

A brother, William Lear of Mt. Sterling, also survives.

She was a member of the Cooperstown Christian church.

Funeral services will be held at 2 p.m. Sunday at Rounds Funeral Home with interment in Hersman cemetery.

DeGaulle Sets For Tuesday's News Conference

PARIS (AP) — If it is true, as his critics say, that President Charles de Gaulle flourishes in a crisis atmosphere, then he should be content as he prepares the address he will give at his news conference on Tuesday.

For it is at this meeting with the press, the first one this year, that De Gaulle is expected to elaborate on his government's surprise request for special powers to reform the nation's economic and social welfare structure.

Motorcycle Damaged By Fire

Fire, which apparently started in the carburetor of a motorcycle, caused an estimated $1,000 damage to the vehicle Saturday afternoon.

City firemen said the motorcycle, owned by Jack Glisson Jr. of #10 Pitner Place, backfired and the gas in the carburetor exploded in the parking lot of Top's Big Boy, 1000 West Morton.

Glisson attempted to smother the flames with his coat, but the coat caught on fire. Firemen said that the engine, tires and finish on the body of the vehicle were heavily damaged.

A 1959 model car parked at 604 North East street for the past three weeks, caught fire about two o'clock Saturday afternoon.

City firemen said that the fire, of undetermined origin, damaged the dash and windshield of the vehicle. Heat from the fire was so intense it broke the windshield, but the cloth top on the car was only slightly scorched.

The car was owned by Mrs. Velma Burton of that address, who said she has not driven the car for three weeks, and could give no explanation for the fire.

Saturday evening about eight o'clock, an antique bobbed and doghouse at the 720 East State street residence of Paul Langdon were demolished by fire of undetermined origin.

Firemen, called to that address at 8:15 p.m. said that the two items were behind a garage at the residence, and firemen concentrated on saving the garage.

Cave Search

Mounted auxiliary policemen were searching Lovers Leap, a high bluff overlooking the Mississippi River.

Bill Bridges, vice commander of Hannibal's Mark Twain Emergency Rescue Squad, said many Hannibal youths play on the steep bluff sometimes digging their own caves.

"These boys have a history of digging. They were carrying a shovel when last seen," Bridges said. He indicated another search would be made of Murphy's Cave.

Operations at Murphy's Cave were abandoned Friday morning after repeated sweeps through the narrow passages turned up no evidence of the boys, although playmates said they were seen entering.

The underground search is being conducted by members of the Speleological Society's underground rescue team. Karras brought six members from Washington to join six members of the unit from St. Louis.

Fowler Sees

has such information, for any reestimate of Vietnam expenditures," Fowler told reporters. Some deviation from the official forecast is inevitable in wartime, Fowler said, but the extent would be pure conjecture.

Asked whether the variation in spending would be upward, he replied: "I think it is likely."

The council's panel of 25 professional economists forecast a slower business recovery than the administration has predicted, and suggested that the six per cent surcharge on income and corporation taxes proposed by Johnson should become effective perhaps on Oct. 1 instead of July 1, the start of the fiscal year.

When Fowler was asked whether he was sticking to the July 1 date, he replied: "I don't see the surtax going into effect July 1."

This was the first public admission by a qualified administration source that the July 1 target date has been abandoned, although officials in Washington have conceded it privately.

Fowler said he could not predict when it might take effect, and he refused to analyze the impact of a delay on the prospective $8.1-billion deficit for the coming year.

The council's economists had foreseen an $18-billion deficit, assuming there is no tax boost.

In his speech to the council, Fowler spoke of the coming of peace and tax reductions, rather than tax boosts and military escalation.

He told the council the government is working, under Johnson's instructions, on "the most explicit, detailed and inclusive effort" ever made to plan during wartime for peace.

Alpha B. Ewers Dies Suddenly Near Winchester

WINCHESTER — Alpha Basil Ewers, 73, of Route 1, Winchester died suddenly at the wheel of his car on a country road, enroute home about 7:30 p.m. Friday.

Authorities rushed him to a doctor's office where he was officially pronounced dead on arrival. Authorities said Ewers must have anticipated a heart attack since he stopped at the side of the road. He was a known heart patient.

He was born at Pleasant Hill, Illinois, March 7, 1894, a son of Basil and Savannah Windmiller Ewers. He was married to the former Leta Bray in Pleasant Hill in 1915 and she survives with two children, Mrs. Nina Lewis of Winchester and a son, Leon of Route 2, and one granddaughter, Danita Ewers.

Two brothers and one sister preceded him in death.

Mr. Ewers was a member of the Christian Church and the Pleasant Hill IOOF Lodge. He was a well-known Scott County farmer.

Funeral services will be held at the Ward Funeral Chapel in Pleasant Hill at 2 p.m. Monday. Burial will be in Crescent Heights cemetery.

Friends may call at the funeral home this afternoon and evening and Monday until time of services.

Reforms

"This is probably an honest recognition of the fact that we have something of a military occupancy on our hands in which we can't maintain the pretense of having an independent civilian agency," McCarthy said.

"It seems to me that it is a further indication that we don't have the political situation under control. I hope, however, that this military direction does not become permanent, does not go beyond the discernible future."

Sen. Hugh Scott, R-Pa., who has defended Johnson's war course as the only one open to the President, has noted his disagreement with the decision.

Sen. Gale W. McGee, D-Wyo., a Johnson backer said the quickest way to scrap Democratic domestic programs is for the party to divide over Vietnam policy.

McGee gave his views in a speech prepared for a Young Democrats' convention in Des Moines, Iowa.

"You, as Democrats, cannot pluck the Vietnam issues out of the basket and choose to oppose the party on this ground alone, unless you are also willing to see programs go down the drain that assist education from kindergarten to the university, provide for renewal of our cities, marshal the resources in our more depressed areas for development and bring added security and dignity to the nation's elderly," he said.

"You must remember that the people who have always opposed progressive programs to meet the challenges of our age are but using the war in Vietnam as an excuse to destroy them today. Even the most conscientious dissenter on Vietnam must realize that it is a wispy hope that the other party would pursue a different course in Vietnam."

FAREWELL DINNER FOR CARROLLTON COUPLE

CARROLLTON — Employees of the Greene County Farm Bureau and Extension Service and their families attended a pot-luck and farewell supper in honor of Mr. and Mrs. James Neuschwander who are moving to Ford County on the 15th of May.

Mr. Neuschwander's successor is Eldon Starkweather, from Jackson County who will begin his duties in Greene County in June.

The Weather Elsewhere

By THE ASSOCIATED PRESS

There was sunshine in the northern tier of Illinois Saturday but unseasonably cool temperatures continued in most of the state.

Showers and thundershowers were forecast by the Weather Bureau to fall in scattered areas Saturday night and Sunday as a low pressure system moved across the state.

Temperatures were in the 50s and low 60s in Illinois Saturday with a cloud cover extending over the southern half of the state.

PENTAGON REJECTS RAIL UNION PLAN IN EVENT OF STRIKE

WASHINGTON (AP) — The Defense Department agreed Saturday to discuss a union proposal to move essential military goods in event of a rail strike. But it called the plan not feasible because it would delay the shipment of equipment and ammunition for Vietnam.

He had been born to an unmarried mother, aged 12. So, almost at once the Welfare Machine took over and began to process him through its usual circuits — the founding hospital, the orphanage, the three foster homes and finally the reformtory where I worked.

I never liked him. I tried to but I couldn't. However, his life's desolation so typified the backgrounds of other delinquent children that one evening I recounted his unidentified history to my hostess, an intense young woman who made lots of money writing television commercials. She cried:

"You mean that this boy has no family at all? That he has no place to go on weekends or holidays? My God! Well, Bill and I'll be his family. We'll make this apartment his home!"

Her charity made me nervous. It made Joe's clinical psychiatrist even more nervous. But with the desolation of that past of Joe's in mind, we decided to risk the introduction. Accordingly, on his following birthday, he was given a record player. For Christmas he got a gold watch. And on holidays and weekends, Joe was fed lobster and slept between scented sheets. On his discharge, he was found a job in the office of a friend of his benefactress.

Then it happened. Joe stole $700 from the office safe and took off with the cops after him. Know why? He'd used up the stock of charity in his benefactress. She'd got bored by Joe's famished greediness. And so tried to restrain it by saying to him, "We're not a national bank. So we can't give you a Christmas present and a check to buy us presents, too. Make up your mind which it is you want and let me know." But you can't restrain hunger in the starving Joes. If you promise them parenthood, you've got to make them your children and deliver the whole bit. Otherwise, they fall apart.

I've remembered this story for the sensitive reader who objected to my suggestion that we refer to psychiatrists the confidences of troubled people. For in her letter she also wrote, "A cry for help is a cry for help. If we can't heal human woe we can at least care about it and reach out another human hand to it."

That reached-out hand wasn't enough for Joe. It tantalized him by opening the door to the feast. Then, when he rushed in to devour it, that hand slammed the door in his face. If we're not prepared to provide the whole feast, caring may sometime require us to keep the door closed.

American Menu

Don't Throw Out Iron Pots

By GAYNOR MADDOX
Newspaper Enterprise Assn.

Q — I have an old iron Dutch oven which I use a great deal. But someone told me ironware is not safe to cook in. Is that true?

A — No. Well-wrapped, wonderfully clean food, cooked in plastic bags or nonmetallic pots has its advantages. But it has disadvantages, too, according to Dr. Philip L. White, secretary of the Council on Foods and Nutrition of the American Medical Association.

"Iron cookware, once a tradition, is rapidly disappearing from the American scene. Disappearing along with it is a rich source of dietary iron. A large amount of very desirable iron is dissolved when acid foods are cooked in ironware. The available iron in food can increase by as much as 100 to 400 per cent. This is of considerable significance to children and women with a high requirement for iron," Dr. White states in the April issue of Today's Health.

Q — When a recipe calls for one cup of eggs, how many eggs does that mean?

A — It depends on the size of eggs you use. It takes 4 extra large, 4 large, 5 mediums, and 6 smalls to fill an 8-ounce measuring cup. If you want whites only, you'll need 6 extra large, 7 large, 8 medium and 9 small. For yolks only, use 12 extra large, 14 large, 17 medium and 19 small.

DON'T MISTREAT HAIR

Any woman who feels she has dull hair should realize the most common cause is mistreatment. Improperly applied home permanents, coloring products and straighteners are often offenders. If this is the case, a professional consultation can offer the quickest means of reconditioning.

Morris and Helen Portugal of Los Angeles are both great players in their own right. They don't play together often but when they do they are one of the strongest mixed pairs in the world.

In today's hand they collaborated on a brilliant defense that managed to defeat an almost iron-clad contract.

The play started normally enough with the lead of the jack of diamonds. South won with dummy's ace and cashed his ace and king of trumps. Then he discarded a spade on his king of diamonds and threw Morris, who sat West, on lead with the queen of trumps.

His first thought was to lead a spade. Had he done so South would have escaped without loss of a spade trick.

His second thought was to lead the ace of clubs and hope to catch Helen with the king. He gave that plan up, also. That would set up three club tricks in dummy.

Finally he came up with the winning defense. He led his five of clubs!

The deuce was played from dummy and it became Helen's turn to study the hand. I looked like suicide to play her king. Whoever underled a. ace through a dummy that held five of a suit to the queen - jack? Who ever led any card in a suit when dummy held five to the queen-jack?

Helen knew that her husband was not accustomed to making bad plays at any time. Then why did he lead a club? He wanted to get her on lead. Why? So she could lead a spade through declarer!

Helen put up her king of clubs. It held and she led the spade. Down one!

If you don't think it was good defense we can tell you that the game was duplicate and no one else beat the hand.

KILMARNOCK, a show estate in Jacksonville in 1915, became the headquarters of Norbury Sanatorium. With the addition of two wings for patient care, the building will cease operating as a private hospital Monday. The 31 acres have been purchased by Vince Penza, local realtor, from Dr. H. A. Dollear, superintendent and medical officer of the hospital. Future development plans have not been announced.

Norbury Hospital Draws Final Curtain On 66-Year History

Norbury Hospital, located at 1631 Mound Avenue on a 31-acre landscaped tract, will close its doors Monday, concluding a 66-year history as one of Jacksonville's leading institutions.

The private hospital was founded in 1901 by the late Dr. Frank Parsons Norbury for the treatment of nervous and mental disorders. All patients moved to other institutions last week.

Dr. Henry A. Dollear announced the closing of the hospital which his father, the late Dr. A. H. Dollear, helped build over the years.

Dr. Dollear said the 31-acre tract of land was sold to Vince Penza, Jacksonville realtor, for an undisclosed price. Penza said final plans for the future of the site are still under study.

The late Dr. A. H. Dollear was a pioneer in the field of mental health and was credited with much of the growth of the institution during his tenure as superintendent of the institution and chairman of the board for the corporation.

Dr. A. H. Dollear served Jacksonville as president of the Chamber of Commerce and was district governor of Rotary Club in 1931 when he visited Europe for the International convention.

Dr. Henry A. Dollear, a member of the medical staff since 1945 and now serving as superintendent and medical director, said he plans to continue private practice in general medicine in Jacksonville. He said a suitable location in the city would be sought for his practice when the hospital and furnishings have been disposed of.

The late Dr. F. Garm Norbury and Dr. S. N. Clark were associated with the hospital most of their professional lives. Dr. Garm Norbury was active in a long list of civic and community projects. He was an alumnus of Illinois College and served as trustee 34 years, 16 as secretary of the board.

Dr. F. P. Norbury was Jacksonville's first official weather observer. He started keeping records in 1927 and the hospital continued the daily assignment until 1962 when the weather equipment was moved to the transmitter site of Radio Station WLDS on the Old State Road.

One of the areas of research carried on by Dr. Norbury in connection with his interest in meteorology was the effect of weather conditions on neuropsychiatric illness.

Dr. Frank B. Norbury of Jacksonville served on the medical staff of the hospital for many years. He is now a practicing physician in Jacksonville.

End Of An Era
Monday marks the closing and with it the end of an era in the treatment of mental illness for Jacksonville. Although Jacksonville was identified early as a mental health center in Illinois, Norbury's was never shackled by the winds of political favor or disfavor during its entire history.

While most state institutions struggled for funds and political favors from lawmakers in Springfield, Norbury's was busy with new methods of treatment for its patients.

Clinical neuropsychiatry with special interest in the medical phases of nervous disorders and the nervous phases of medical disorders has been the primary approach over the years. (This statement was taken from a catalog issued by the hospital in 1951.)

Memberships of church
Many Medical Firsts
The first dose of neosalvarsan in downstate Illinois was given at the Norbury Sanatorium. Insulin was given there before it became generally available. Some of the clinical experimental use of sodium amyltal was carried out in Jacksonville. The first electrocardiograph machine in central Illinois was installed there.

When the sanatorium was founded in 1901 there were relatively few institutions of its type, particularly in the middle west. Mental illness, at that time, had a great "social stigma" attached and state hospitals in almost every state were little more than "hiding places" for relatives with mental disorders.

Norbury Sanatorium was treating mental illness with the most modern methods known in the early years, sharply contrasted by tax-supported mental health care.

The sanatorium was, for years, considered locally as a treatment center for mental patients from the wealthy or "carriage trade" economic level.

Changing Attitudes
Public education over the past 25 years has reduced the social stigma attached to mental illness. Less political control over public institutions and the advent of mental health clinics established in a variety of locations has reduced the number of private hospitals to smaller and smaller numbers. During the past ten to twenty years, the quality of mental health treatment in state hospitals has also risen.

Maplecrest was once among the finest physical plants of its type. Now, the structure would have some difficulty qualifying as a nursing home, even though it is equipped with a complete fire sprinkler system.

From a business standpoint, it is a highly competitive field which gives a smaller profit margin with which to build new facilities.

Until a few years ago, Norbury Sanatorium included a complex known as Maplewood, 806 South Diamond, and a west house annex now the location of Midland Farm Supply Co. More than 100 employees were needed to handle the patient load.

Local "Showplace"

In 1915, one of the show estates in Jacksonville known as "Kilmarnock" was purchased. This is now Maplecrest. Two wings were added for patient care and staff offices and laboratories were located there. The 31-acre estate was used by botanical classes from the colleges and schools for field trips because of the quantity and variety of trees on the estate.

Memberships on church boards, college boards of trustees, the city council, board of education and other civic welfare organizations have interested the Sanatorium personnel throughout the years.

Some years ago, the name was changed from Norbury Sanatorium to Norbury Hospital. The name change was primarily made so that patients could receive treatment under regular medical health insurance plans.

Most employees will either retire or have secured other jobs.

What the future will hold for the unspoiled tract of land located in prime residential surroundings has not yet been determined.

Starting Monday, staff and employees will be busy moving furniture and other equipment. This equipment will be sold privately and later by auction.

What's A Podiatrist?

Gould's Medical Dictionary defines a podiatrist as "a specialist in the treatment of diseases of the feet."

Today 8,000 podiatrists treat about 20 million Americans a year.

Members of the podiatry profession are as much concerned with preventing ailments and deformities of the human foot as with diagnosing and treating such problems once they occur.

A factor here is the limited number of podiatrists — only one for every 25,000 persons, compared with one physician for every 800 and one dentist per 1,500.

Surgeon General Dr. William H. Stewart, head of the U.S. Public Health Service, has publicly applauded the profession's emphasis on prevention. He told podiatrists recently that this should be their "ultimate goal."

In pursuit of that objective, the American Podiatry Association, the profession's official organization, is seeking to encourage greater public awareness of the benefits of daily foot care.

Part of APA's effort in this area includes a Seal of Acceptance program for foot care products found to be "of significant value when used in a consistently applied program of daily foot care and regular professional treatment."

The problems a podiatrist encounters range from a simple corn to deformities requiring special appliances or surgery. He is trained to recognize the more serious general health disorders — such as diabetes, hardening of the arteries, anemia, kidney ailments or heart disease — where foot trouble may be only a symptom.

If the patient is not already under the care of a physician, the foot specialist will urge him to seek prompt medical attention. The podiatrist also acts as a consultant to the family doctor by treating diseases that affect the feet of people referred to him by their physicians.

The first prominent American podiatrist was Dr. Isachar Zacharie, who treated President Lincoln's over-sized feet and who referred to himself as "Chiroprapist-General" of the United States Army.

Today's podiatrist is a far cry from the foot doctor of a century ago. His professional education calls for two years of undergraduate study and four years at a podiatry college.

MARRIAGE LICENSES

Marriage licenses recorded in the office of the County Clerk Louise Coop during the week were:

Johnnie Charles Dolan, Jerseyville and Marcia Kay Jones, Jerseyville.

Alan George Ravn, 813 West Douglas and Penny Lee Beerup, Jacksonville.

Harley Joe Dugger, 407½ East Douglas and Judith Anna Clair, Quincy.

Paul Edward Donovan, Springfield and JoAnn Frances Suppes, Springfield.

Gary G. Northrop, 971 N. Prairie and Marie McMeans, 720 West Beecher.

Donald Lee Jennings, Girard and Janet Marie Helmerichs, Virden.

Raymond Edward Leetham, route two, Murrayville and Sharon K. Mansfield, Modesto.

James Michael Brady, 878 North Church and Denise Helene Jacques, 1340 West Lafayette.

Nearly one-third of all graduates take additional training in specialized areas. Podiatrists are licensed in all states to treat the foot both medically and surgically.

Commissioned podiatrists serve in all branches of the armed forces and are employed by the Veterans Administration and various health departments.

Podiatry is branching out into specializations such as podopediatrics (treatment of children's foot disorders) and podogeriatrics (treatment of foot disorders of the aged). Earlier this year, President Johnson proposed that podiatry services be made available to beneficiaries of the Medicare program.

A recent report from the Bureau of Family Services of the Department of Health, Education and Welfare stressed the need for greater attention to the podiatric needs of elderly indigent persons.

The report, containing guidelines for state agencies to follow in setting up demonstration projects, emphasized that such treatment constitutes "an essential service to foster mobility and independence among older persons and to protect their general health and sense of well being."

Concord And Arenzville MYF Meet Jointly

ARENZVILLE — The first annual Christian Vocation banquet for the Concord-Arenzville Methodist churches was held recently at the Concord church. Youth of both churches and their families were guests of honor at a ham dinner served by WSCS members of both churches. About 60 attended. Tables were decorated with spring flowers.

Roger Standley was master of ceremonies and introduced officers of the Concord MYF. Roger Standley, president; Donna Nickel, vice president and Barbara Hess, secretary-treasurer.

Officers of the Arenzville MYF are: Barbara Ater, president; Joyce Ginder, vice president; Patty Davis, secretary; Melba Joeckel, treasurer; Steve Davis, chaplain and counselors, Mr. and Mrs. Ernest Strickler.

The speaker was Rev. Glenn Manis, pastor of the Mt. Sterling Methodist church who also serves as Christian Vocations Counselor for the Jacksonville District. He spoke informally of the diversity of Vocations, its areas and terms of service. Many pamphlets were available, arranged by Rev. Ernest Francis, pastor of the two churches.

LOCAL STUDENT AT SIU MADE LA & S MEMBER

A Jacksonville student, William Hensel, 839 Grove street, psychology major at Southern Illinois University is one of the 22 initiates into the Liberal Arts and Sciences Honor Society at the school. This is equivalent to Phi Beta Kappa.

The LA and S Honor Society is made up of SIU faculty members who are members of Phi Beta Kappa and who each spring elect outstanding juniors and seniors in the College of Liberal Arts and Science. There is as yet no SIU chapter of Phi Beta Kappa, the nation's oldest honorary scholastic fraternity.

takes away the damaging moisture that loosens, rusts, warps and mildews your valuables

The damaging effects of a damp basement can be extremely costly. Sweating and dripping water pipes can ruin ceiling tiles, leave puddles on floors and tables.

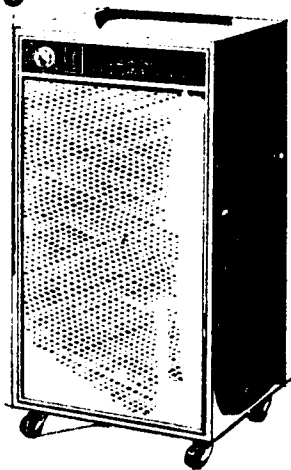

Too much moisture in the air also causes shop tools to rust, cabinets and furniture to warp.

Why take the chance on high humidity putting your expensive sporting goods out of action—or allow mildew to damage luggage, linens and clothes you thought were safely stored away?

This smart looking dehumidifier will take buckets of destructive moisture out of your basement air (or any other area) and save costly repairs and replacements.

Try it in your home for 5 days without obligation—free. Simply phone Illinois Power.

North Greene Prom Follows Circus Theme

WHITE HALL — The junior class of the North Greene High School followed a Carousel theme for its junior-senior prom and banquet May 6th held at the school. The Howie Bowie orchestra provided music for dancing.

Junior class members spent two weeks decorating the school gym. Walls were covered in strips of paper in the school colors and the ceiling canopied in blue with silver stars. A miniature Carousel had moving sequined horses. The setting included a miniature Ferris wheel, a Tea Room, with floral decked tables and a marked path leading to the Tea Room. A gaily decorated booth was for ticket sales.

The banquet served included this novel menu: peanuts, popcorn and Cracker Jack; bark-er's cup; Carousel special; pronto pup; green balloons; ringmaster's salad; popcorn; balls; clown's confection; pink lemonade or black jack, bulbs. The money will be used for J. H. Gholson, principal, of the invocation. Steve Coats was the 'barker' giving the junior class toast of welcome and Steve McLamar, 'ringmaster,' responded for the seniors.

Bob Moulton presented 'on parade.' Musical numbers, 'in merry-go-round' time were presented by a barbershop quartet, followed with Mary Doland and Neal Nichols. 'fortune tellers' giving the class prophecy.

Mrs. Carl Moulton played highlights from "Carousel" for dinner music.

Legal Rights Of Women Topic For Soroptimists

Members of Soroptimist Club of Jacksonville held their May dinner meeting at Hamilton's restaurant. The meeting was conducted by the president, Lucille Larr, who called on Katherine Adams, chairman of the finance committee who presented the speaker, G. D. Seator, Jacksonville attorney. Mr. Seator spoke of the Financial and Legal Rights of Women, particularly in the State of Illinois. The speaker graciously answered questions at the end of the talk.

Members of the club welcomed a guest at the meeting, Mrs. Bunnell Deatherage, Director of the new Homemakers service for Morgan County.

The next meeting of the club will be May 22nd with the location and time to be announced.

MARRIAGE LICENSES ISSUED IN GREENE

Marriage licenses were issued in the office of Greene County Clerk, E. A. Batty on May 5th to Gary Neal Wyatt and Miss Linda Lou Ward, both of White Hall, and to David Earl Snider and Faye Genevieve Henson, both of White Hall; and on May 9th to Carl Gilbert of Eldred and Miss Linda Lou Rawe of Carrollton.

Delta Theta Tau Will Install New Officers May 29

The new officers elected at the May 1st meeting of the Delta Nu chapter, Delta Theta Tau sorority, Inc., held at the Dunlap Motor Inn, will be installed at the May 29th meeting to be held at the home of Lucille Chandler. At the same time a special initiation ceremony will be held for Blanche Reuck, who will become a new member of the chapter.

The new slate includes: president, Fran Chumley; vice president, Frances Clancy; recording secretary, Virginia Teter; treasurer, Rob Garry; corresponding secretary, Bernice Rutherford; historian, Grace Queen and sergeant-at-arms, Helen Little.

Delta Nu has enjoyed a successful year in its money raiser's projects, under chairman-ship of Jo Davis. Monies have been raised through bake sales, rummage sales and the sale of pink lemonade or black jack, bulbs. The money will be used in fulfilling the chapter's pledge to the YMCA building fund, having previously contributed to the Pathway School. The philanthropic committee, headed by Helen Little, is now considering possibilities of a final project for the year. As Delta Theta Tau, a philanthropic organization, not social, its members depend on the people of the area to respond to their sales endeavors and the cooperation is appreciated.

Members welcomed back the president, Almyra Jackson, after an extended illness. In her absence the vice president, Norma Cox, was in charge and filled the position admirably. The national convention will be held this July in San Francisco with the incoming vice president, Frances Clancy, attending as a delegate and Lucille Chandler as a member.

Roodhouse

ROODHOUSE — Sunday visitors in the home of Mr. and Mrs. Lloyd Coates were Mrs. Ray Ricks, White Hall, and her daughter, Mrs. Al Hedstrom, Bloomington; Mr. and Mrs. Carl Droppel, Jerseyville; Mrs. Elmer Baker, Mrs. Paul Lorschach, Mrs. Henry Eberling, Hardin and the Coates couple's granddaughter, Miss Kaydeen Becker, Alton.

Mrs. John R. McConathy of Roodhouse and her daughter, Mrs. Ralph Thomas of White Hall, have returned from a weekend visit with Mrs. McConathy's sister-in-law, Mrs. Laura Stevens of Sterling.

A former resident, Steve Brooks of Anchorage, Alaska, competed recently with his high school rifle team in Alaska's Junior International Centennial State Championship meet. Steve won the individual competition and led his school to first place team win, and teamed with a fellow sophomore, Bill Mortensen, to win the doubles.

On the previous weekend Steve led his team to the senior state championship in the marksmanship class. He has been classified as a Master Shooter by the National Rifle Association.

EGG AS SETTING LOTION

We know about egg shampoos, but did you know you can also use an egg for a setting lotion? It adds body to very fine hair. Simply mix one-part egg white to two parts of water, then whip well and apply to the hair. For heavier hair, stale beer proves an ideal setting agent.

Trudy Brockhouse, 12 year old rural Chapin girl above received a fifty dollar check from Paul Utterback, executive vice president of First National Bank for winning the "Name the Beaver" contest, which has been conducted since early April.

The winning name, selected by the judges, is "Quixion." It was derived from a combination of the words "quick action." An "X" was used to combine the two words, this letter also having significance in terms representative of the extra services which the First National strives to provide its customers.

Miss Brockhouse, Age 12, is the daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Loren Brockhouse, an honor roll student at Triopia Junior High School, Arenzville, and is active as a member of St. Paul's Lutheran church, Chapin.

She has also won several honors in connection with her interest in vocal music. Her father is employed with the Gulf Oil Company.

In addition to the grand prize, Miss Brockhouse was also a $25.00 winner of one of the earlier weekly contests.

New Berlin Club Recognized For Work In Mental Health

NEW BERLIN — Due to the White, Mrs. A. E. Washburn, pioneering activities of the Mental Health Division in cooperation with the Volunteer Services, Jacksonville State Hospital, the New Berlin Woman's Club has come into some prominent recognition this spring.

The group's next Ward Activity will be June 14.

At the club's recent annual luncheon, Mrs. Raieigh Crawford and Mrs. Robert Long, co-chairmen in charge of the activities of the Mental Health Division of the local club, were presented the State Award for the year 1966-67 as the Outstanding Club in Mental Health in the State of Illinois, according to the Illinois Federation of Women's Clubs.

As a result of this award, Mrs. Crawford was invited to attend the Annual Governor's Mental Health luncheon May 3 at the Elks Ballroom, Springfield, with the group of twenty staff members of the Jacksonville State Hospital, Dr. Harold M. Visotsky, director of the Illinois Department of Mental Health who presided, gave special mention to the New Berlin Woman's Club as the outstanding Illinois Woman's Club in Mental Health work through the Volunteer Services Department of the Jacksonville State Hospital. Mrs. Crawford was asked to stand and be recognized by the distinguished group of over four hundred in attendance.

The May issue of the Illinois Clubwoman, the official magazine for the Illinois Federation of Women's Clubs, also carries mention of the club's activities in the article written by Mrs. John F. Jacobs, Health Division chairman for the IFWC.

The club is continuing its Ward Activities in cooperation with the hospital during the summer months, under the direction of Mrs. Crawford and Mrs. Long.

On Wednesday of this week, the group hosted a party for 27 residents of the Jacksonville State Hospital who were brought to New Berlin by hospital bus, accompanied by Mrs. Marge Marsh, director of Volunteer Services, and Mrs. Herrold, R.N. Following activity games, with prizes for winners, refreshments of cookies, candies and coffee were served from tables decorated in gay May-pole fashion. The streamers were held in place by individual corsages, one for each guest attending.

Club members who assisted the co-chairmen were Mrs. Robert Frank, Mrs. Robert J. cap.

Presiding was the president, Mrs. John W. Roberts, who announced the School of Missions will be held June 22-26 in Bloomington. It was reported that fifty-one good will calls had been made for the month.

Rev. McCray installed the officers as follows in an impressive ceremony: president, Mrs. Roberts; vice president, Mrs. William Wagner; secretary, Mrs. Harvey Hodge; treasurer, Mrs. William Martin.

Campus ministry chairman, Mrs. Dale Gibbins; Christian social relations, Mrs. Lewis Bartlett; membership cultivation, Mrs. Ray Winter; mission education and service, Mrs. Merle Harp; promotion materials, Miss Nellie Sawyer; spiritual life cultivation, Mrs. Everett Spencer; supply work, Mrs. Russell Carey; local church activities, Mrs. W. O. Harp.

Mrs. Harp led in the pledge service and presented the lesson and devotions, assisted by Mrs. Ray Denney at the piano; Mrs. Herman Spencer, Mrs. Alfred Edwards, and Mrs. Dale Gibbins.

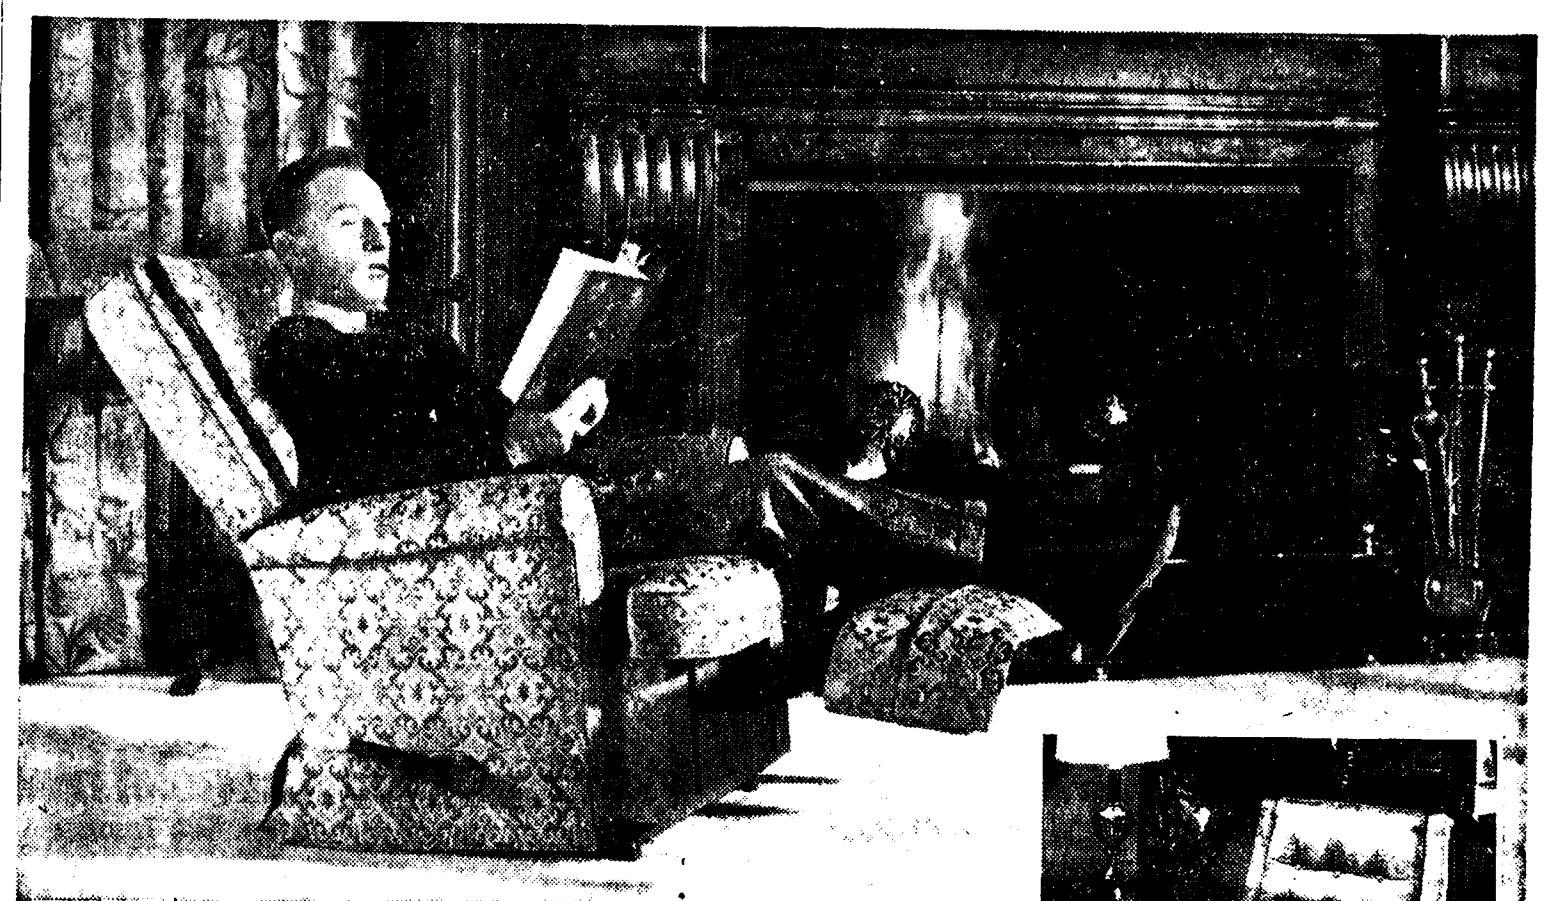

Hostesses were Mrs. Jim Jones, chairman; Mrs. Harvey Hodge, Mrs. William Martin, Mrs. Howard Million, Mrs. Herman Spencer, Mrs. Russell Carey, Mrs. Rubye Nell.

SCOTTISH KILTS
The traditional style of the early Scottish kilt was a 15-foot length of tartan that the owner spread on the ground and pleated. Then he lay upon it, belted it around himself and pinned the upper part at the shoulder. The modern kilt extends only from waist to knee.

They have three children, Betty Darush, Alexander route one; Ernest, Jr., Franklin route two and Judith Mitchell of Waverly. There are four grandchildren.

SINCLAIR CLUB PLANS GUEST DAY

The Sinclair Woman's Club met at Hamiltons on May 3 with Mrs. Roy Ward as hostess. Mrs. Dean Walpole, president, opened the meeting with a poem.

The members repeated the pledge to the flag and the club collect led by Mrs. Reuben Bates. Devotions were given by Mrs. Marvin Martin.

Minutes were read and approved and new programs for the coming year were passed out by the program committee.

Mrs. Donald Lowe presented the program prepared by Mrs. Charles Robinson who was unable to be present. She read articles on "Coming Air Travel Without Airways," "Soaring Hospital Bills," and "The History of the Bad Lands."

Roll call was answered by telling or showing your most treasured souvenir. Refreshments were served to members and guests, Mrs. Alberta Staley and Julie Martin.

A guest day, a one o'clock luncheon, is planned for June 7 at the Blackhawk Restaurant.

Sunday SOCIETY

Private First Class and Mrs. Richard D. Kremer

Barbara Batz Of Pittsfield And Serviceman Wed

PITTSFIELD — A late April ceremony at the local First Christian church here united in marriage Miss Barbara Sue Batz, daughter of the William Batz, Pittsfield route two, and Private First Class Richard Douglas Kremer, son of the Victor Kremers of Milton.

The Reverend Duane Moss officiated the evening of April 29th with the father of the bride giving her in marriage. Jim Cains and Joey Stephenson, cousin of the bride, lighted altar tapers.

Miss Willa Batz, sister of the bride, was maid of honor. Vicki Waters, niece of the groom, was the flower girl. Arthur Kremer attended his brother as best man and Clay Stephenson, Jacksonville, cousin of the bride, was ring bearer.

Ushers were Victor Kremer, Jr., brother of the groom; Charles Gates, brother-in-law of the bride and Marshall Black, another brother-in-law of the bride.

The bride wore a full length wedding gown of white silk organza with re-embroidered lace. Her chapel train was secured at the back with a bow. Her veil of French lace was held to a pearl crown and she carried a bouquet of red roses.

The bride's attendant wore red chiffon over taffeta and carried a single long stemmed rose. The little flower girl wore an identical costume.

The mother of the bride wore pink with matching accessories and the groom's mother was in blue and white with white accessories. Each wore a corsage of white roses.

At the reception held at the church Mrs. Charles Gates and Mrs. Evelyn Black, from Missouri, sisters of the bride, assisted. Also Mary McGinley, Linda Ator, Judy McGentry.

The bride graduated from Pittsfield High School in 1966 and attended Gem City College in Quincy. She is employed at the Classic Fabrics here. The groom graduated from Milton High School in 1964, entered military service in 1965 and is stationed with the Army at Fort Knox, Kentucky.

Winkelmann And Suhr Nuptials In Ashland Church

ASHLAND — Miss Betty Jo Suhr and David P. Winkelmann were united in marriage at the Ashland Methodist church on April 30th. The ceremony was performed by the Reverend Kenneth Goodell. Mrs. Maureen Plattner was at the organ.

The bride is the daughter of Mrs. Vivian Suhr of Waterford, Ohio and Robert Suhr of Olney. The groom is the son of Mr. and Mrs. Harry Winkelmann of Ashland.

Dr. Michael Gild of Buffalo, New York, Peace Corps companion of the groom in Bolivia, was best man. Mrs. Dorothy Eagleton of Oswego attended the bride. Ushers were Victor E. Phipps of Topeka, Kansas and Bert Kimura, Honolulu, Hawaii.

The bride wore a mint green knit suit with a corsage of a white orchid with lily of the valley. Mrs. Eagleton was in a yellow knit suit and her flowers were green cymbidium orchids.

The mother of the bride wore a turquoise suit with white accessories and the groom's mother was in a beige knit with green accessories. Each wore a white orchid corsage. Assisting at the reception in

Linda Moss And Morton Grove Man United

An impressive ceremony at the Central Christian church in this city recently united in marriage Miss Linda Moss of Jacksonville and John Burke Quinn of Morton Grove, Illinois. The Reverend William Sturgess officiated at the double ring service before a candlelight altar banked with white gladioli and mums with greenery.

Mrs. Gordon McAllister was at the organ and accompanied the soloist, Mrs. Jack Gillespie. Tapers were lighted by Jack Murray and Dan Whitmore.

The bride is the daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Warren Moss, 210 West Beecher avenue. The groom is the son of Mr. and Mrs. John B. Quinn, Jr., of Morton Grove.

Given in marriage by her father the bride wore a floor length Alfred Angelo original gown of linen and Venice lace with a detachable train. A crown of lace held her veil of illusion and she carried a cascade of white tea roses and stephanotis.

Miss Judi Hunter, roommate of the bride, wore a full length gown of gold Chiara crepe and lace on Empire lines. She carried a bouquet of yellow roses.

Craig Katznelson of Morton Grove was best man. Ushers were Paul Riteman, Dan Whitmore, Morton Grove; Jack Murray of Skokie and Bruce Miller of Chicago.

Mrs. Moss chose for the wedding a mint green sheath with matching lace duster. Her accessories were white. The groom's mother wore pink brocade with a matching coat. Her accessories matched her costume. Each wore a corsage of gardenias.

At the reception held at the church Mrs. William Gross, Miss Suzanne Sturgeon, Mrs. Anita Kays, Miss Nancy Jo Brown, Miss Gayle Gross, Miss Mary Beth Schindler and Miss Judi Zelmar, assisted.

The bride graduated in 1965 from Jacksonville High School and the groom the same year from the Niles Township School. Both are students at Southern Illinois University. Mr. Quinn is a member of Tau Kappa Epsilon fraternity.

Relatives and close friends attended from Carbondale, Skokie, Morton Grove, Chicago, St. Elmo and Jacksonville.

The Winkelmann home were Mrs. Delores Phipps; Mrs. Pamela Rierison, Aurora, Illinois, Miss Julia Bolin of Oswego and Mrs. Margaret Ransden, Vandallia.

The bride received a BS degree from Eastern Illinois University and an MS from University of Illinois. The groom received his BS degree in agriculture and MS in advertising from University of Illinois.

The newlyweds are residing in Washington, D.C. The groom's grandparents, Mr. and Mrs. Howard Horn of Petersburg hosted the rehearsal dinner the Saturday before the wedding.

Mr. and Mrs. John Burke Quinn

Mr. and Mrs. Duane Eugene Hess

Hess And Beard Nuptials May 3 At Arenzville

ARENZVILLE — The Trinity Lutheran church here was the setting for the early May wedding of Miss Tamara Earlene Beard and Duane Eugene Hess. The Reverend Roland Welch officiated Wednesday evening, May third, at an altar decorated with white mums. Mrs. William Maschmeier was at the organ.

The former Miss Beard is the daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Gerald E. Beard of Arenzville and the groom is the son of Mr. and Mrs. Paul Hess, Jacksonville route three.

Miss Jan Beard, sister of the bride, and Richard Hess, who attends Western Illinois University at Macomb, brother of the groom, attended the couple. Guests were seated by James Lovekamp, Arenzville, cousin of the bride and Greg Neff of Jacksonville.

The bride wore a white street length dress fashioned on princess lines. A headpiece of roses held her veil of illusion and she carried a bouquet of white roses and spider mums. Miss Jan Beard wore pale blue on princess lines with a matching headpiece and carried blue mums.

The mother of the bride was in beige lace with pink accessories and the groom's mother chose a pink Schiffl embroidered dress with pink accessories. Each wore a corsage of pink carnations.

A reception was held at the home of the bride's parents. Assisting were Mrs. Donald Hamilton, aunt of the bride, Mrs. Terri Lovekamp, cousin of the bride, Miss Cheryl Kunzman, Miss Susan Beard and Cathy Kunzman, cousins of the bride.

Both young people are members of this year's graduating class, the bride at Triopia High and the groom at Jacksonville High School. He plans to enter Illinois College this fall.

Among the special guests at the ceremony and reception were the bride's grandparents, Mrs. Grace Schnitker and Mr. and Mrs. Robert L. Beard and her great grandmother, Mrs. Edna Dober, all of Arenzville. Also the groom's grandparents, Mrs. L. C. Hess and Floyd Goodpasture and his great grandmother, Mrs. Clara Mason, all of Jacksonville.

The newlyweds are making their home at the Gold Coast Trailer Court in Jacksonville.

RUSHVILLE GROUP ATTENDS DISTRICT REBEKAH MEET

RUSHVILLE — The following members of the Adelaide Rebekah Lodge attended a semi-annual district meeting held Friday in Carthage: Mrs. Irma Walker, noble grand who served as delegate, Mrs. Estelle Brines, Mrs. Erma Beatty, Mrs. Louise Agans, Sandra Agans, Mrs. Louise Ralston, Mrs. Lucille Hines, Mrs. Maggie Daniel, Mrs. Freida Rohn and Mrs. Mary Knous.

Those attending the evening session were Lester and Marie Tyson, Tom Agans and Miss Gladys Cunningham.

The Rushville group presented the memorial service and Miss Cunningham sang a solo accompanied by Mrs. Marie Tyson at the piano.

Mrs. Eva Toland entertained the Som-R-Set club at her home May 5. Prizes were awarded to Mrs. Irma Walker, Mrs. Twila Armstrong, Mrs. Beatrice Lashbrook and Mrs. Esther Aten.

Others present were Mrs. Blanche Heaton, Mrs. Mildred Aten and Mrs. Mary Knous. Refreshments were served by the hostess.

The next meeting will be with Mrs. Irma Walker May 19.

In Hollywood

By BOB THOMAS
AP Movie-Television Writer
HOLLYWOOD (AP) — During the recent Johnny Carson crisis, the name of Bob Newhart was bandied about as the prime candidate to head the "Tonight" show if Carson didn't return.

Says Newhart: "The New York Times offered me the show, the Los Angeles Times offered me the show, and Time magazine offered me the show. The only trouble was that NBC didn't offer me the show."

What's more, he doubts if he would have taken it. A devout Californian and ardent golfer, Newhart didn't fancy moving his young family to New York, nor did he like facing the 90-minute live show, five nights a week, as a steady diet.

He was spared the decision when Carson responded to the network's offer of more cash. Newhart received an NBC deal more to his liking. It includes spelling Carson for six weeks on the "Tonight" show, plus guest bookings with Dean Martin, Andy Williams, Bob Hope, Danny Thomas and other variety show hosts.

"The major item of the contract calls for NBC to prepare my own series for the season after the next one," said the former Chicago accountant. "It would be either a variety format or a situation comedy. I think I would favor a variety show."

"In a situation show I would have to play a mild character, and I don't see myself in that light at all. I see myself as more of a Paul Newman type. Unfortunately, no one else sees me that way, including my wife. She likes Paul Newman."

Newhart added that he didn't think he could stand playing the same character week after week, as a situation show would demand.

Indeed, his success has been based on his ability to assume a variety of guises, from a public relations man advising Abe Lincoln on his image to a felonious employee retiring from a big corporation.

His comedy sketches now number 35, and he tries to add five new ones each year.

"When I sit down to write one, nothing happens. Mostly they come out of real-life situations."

DON'T CUT CUTICLES

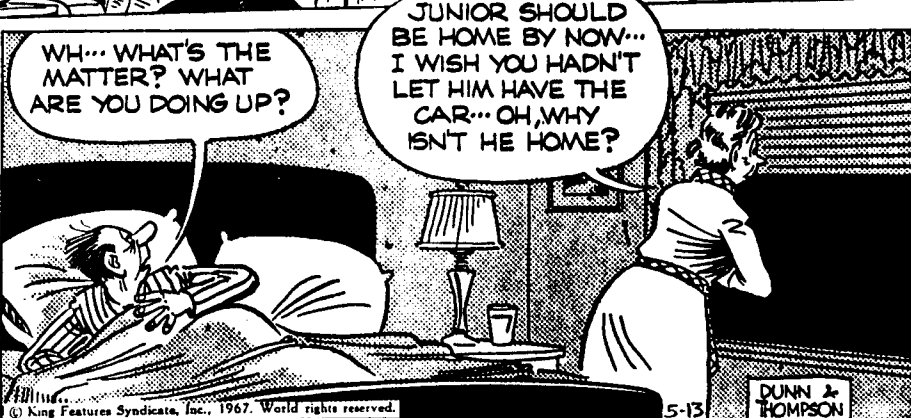

If hangnails are a persistent problem, rub cuticle oil into cuticles daily and apply warmed oil to them once a week. Never clip fingernails or cut the cuticle. Instead, use an emery board to shape and smooth nail tips and dissolve cuticles with a crystal-clear cuticle remover.

Dr. Loew

By RALPH W. LOEW, D.D.

Newspaper Enterprise Assn.

It is always difficult to find easy answers to thorny problems. In our community a recent action of a printer illustrates the dilemma. A campus newspaper had repeatedly produced copy which was regarded as nothing more than filth or smut. Finally, the printer took action. He printed an issue leaving out those columns to which he objected.

By taking a stand, he raised the issue and created a new dimension to the controversy. It is one which needs to be considered by communities everywhere and not just on college campuses. The gap between the generations is too serious for problems to be isolated into single segments of society.

It is apparent that what some of the community think is in poor taste or even pornographic is regarded by others as permissible under the cover of freedom of press. Yet to disdain responsibility for the style, the tastes and the quality of the community because of the guarantees of liberty is to negate responsibility.

The comment of Justice Oliver Wendell Holmes is appropriate to the situation: "We have freedom of speech but that does not give us the liberty to stand in a crowded theater and shout 'Fire'."

On the other hand there is an inherent danger in this kind of censorship. The printer took a stand but this raises difficult possibilities. His anger at pornography is laudable; his methods in stamping it out leave a situation open to question. He need not have printed the paper at all; to have deleted columns opened a Pandora's box.

The distortion of liberty into license frequently brings the backlash of the dangerous censorship. The loss of conscience concerning public taste and community morality encourages the heavy hand of regrettable action.

Years ago an observer of the contemporary scene warned his hearers not to worship the gods of their enemies. Too frequently we try to stamp out communism by trying to use a similar kind of dictatorship. We may stand against filth and poor taste by using an action that is more angry than righteously.

It is a time for communities everywhere to consider their mutual responsibilities for creative good taste and responsible freedom. The printer was frustrated and so took action. The students are now frustrated and feel it necessary to protest.

But who is concerned with the major issue? That issue is the development of an environment shared by the various generations with a freedom to creatively explore and responsibly strengthen. That's an issue for the family discussion as well as the university campus, for the environment of the community as well as for the debate between the printer and the college.

REWARD BOYS WHO SPOTTED THIEF IN CLOSED STORE

JERSEYVILLE — Awards of appreciation were made here Wednesday morning to two boys for their participation in the arrest of a burglar in the Bertman's Department Store during the late hour of Saturday night.

The boys, Rickey Dilks, age 16, a sophomore at the Jersey Community High School, Jerseyville, and Johnnie Farris, 15, a sixth grade pupil at the Patterson School near Belton, Greene county were recipients of the tokens of appreciation from the proprietors of the department store, the Jerseyville Police Department and the Jersey County Sheriff's office.

Owners and Police

The awards were made to the two boys at the Bertman's Department Store at nine a.m. Wednesday and consisted for each boy a $20 certificate for purchase of any merchandise in the store; a $5 check each from the Jerseyville Police Department and the Jersey County Sheriff's office.

The youths, who were returning from a Saturday night show, passed the department store and discovered a man working on the office safe. They returned and walked by again to be certain and then notified Dilks' father who is employed at a local tavern. Police were called and arrested Donnie Lee Culter inside the building.

Participating in the arrest were City officers Lt. Dale Ogden, Melvin Dixon, Howard Sandberg and Chief of Police Herman H. Blackaby Jr. Sheriff Adam DeShler, Chief Deputy Sheriff Ralph Pickett and State Police officers Arthur Edward Kahl of Greenfield and James Warford of the Rosedale locality.

C. Reynolds, 136 Pine street. Members of the board will meet at 1:15 p.m. preceding the regular session.

USDA Formula Tells Our Farmers Just How Rich They Are

By OVID A. MARTIN
AP Farm Writer

WASHINGTON (AP) — The Johnson administration has moved closer to its long-time goal of measuring economic conditions on the farm by an income standard rather than by a farm price standard.

Since the beginning of federal farm programs in the 1930s, the government-as well as farm leaders-have used a price standard for gauging whether farmers were doing good or poorly. This standard has been called the parity price standard.

The standard set up a price goal for individual farm products which would give them as much buying power, in terms of non-farm goods and services, as they enjoyed in a previous favorable period, usually 1910.

With subsequent time adjustments, the parity standard has been used for years, the parity standard.

was hailed not only by farmers, but by their leaders and by politicians as the best possible yardstick for measuring economic well-being or lack of it on the farm. It was the basis of party platforms and the theme of many political speeches made to get farm votes.

But for several years, Secretary of Agriculture Orville L. Freeman has argued that the parity yardstick is not a very good one because it fails to measure farm income. Prices could be at or above parity, but farm income could be low, he has said, for lack of volume of products available for market.

In other words, he contends, it takes a combination of prices and sales volume to provide a satisfactory income.

Freeman's view had been expressed by his immediate predecessor, Ezra Taft Benson, farm secretary under President Dwight D. Eisenhower.

Expect Report Soon

Both suggested that a parity of income measurement be used, but nothing was done to change farm laws regarding parity. However, the department, at the request of Congress, has been making a study of the matter and soon will file a report expected to suggest use of a parity of income standard, but not the practice of making monthly calculations of parity prices.

After Freeman took office, he directed the farm price calculators to devise a supplementary parity price standard which, once each year, took into account not only prices farmers received for individual farm commodities, but also government payments made farmers.

This latter standard was held to be a better device for measuring economic well-being of growers than the original parity standard. This became more and more the case as the size of payments increased.

Federal Checks Included
As an example, farm prices averaged 80 per cent of the parity goal last year. But the inclusion of payments—which were at a record high of $3.8 billion but the newer standard-called the adjusted parity-measured 86 per cent.

It had been planned to make the adjusted parity calculation only at the end of each year. But this has been changed. In a farm price report of April, issued last week, the department gave notice that it would be made each month.

This change, made at a time when farm prices were falling and the government acknowledges widespread unrest, drew criticism that the administration was trying to make things look better than they actually were.

April farm prices reflected only 72 per cent of the old parity, which was the lowest since Freeman has been secretary. A year earlier it was 80 per cent. But the adjusted parity index, reflecting prices and government payments, was 77 per cent, compared with 86 per cent in April, 1966.

The idea of ditching the old parity goal of farm programs does not go well with some farm groups. The National Farmers Union, long a supporter of strong farm programs, opposes the suggestion. So does the National Grange.

4-H Activities

The Jolly Jax 4-H club met recently at the home of Susan Bellatti with Pam Black in charge of the business session. Ann Flick led the pledge to the flag, Jewell Akers, the 4-H pledge.

Rose Marie Doyle gave a talk. Demonstrations were presented by Lee Ann Goldman, Mary Orten, Susan Bellatti and Sarah Rust.

The next meeting will be held May 19 at the home of Laurie Ogle.

DILIP MUKERJEE of Calcutta, India, visited the A. B. Chrisman Fertilizer Co. plant in Meredosia last Monday.

He is editorial writer on economics for The Statesman, large morning newspaper published in Calcutta and is on a 60-day tour of the United States, Canada and Mexico.

In the Midwest he particularly studied agricultural practices with emphasis on the role of fertilizers in producing large crops. In the current plan for increasing food supplies in India increased use of fertilizers play an important role.

The visitor is also the economics correspondent from India for The Economist, London weekly, and Die Welt, Hamburg daily.

While in this area he was a house guest of Mr. and Mrs. Emory Hinchey of Chambersburg. Other guests in their home were their sons, SP 4 Michael Shepard of Ft. Leonard Wood, Mo., and Kent Shepard and family of Toulon, Ill., and Mrs. Hinchey's father, C. R. Tolbert of Versailles.

Line Up Old Machinery For National Grass Show

LINCOLN, Nebr. — There appears to be more ancient horse-drawn farm equipment in Nebraska than horses to pull it, according to Doyle Williamson, assistant executive secretary of the State Soil and Water Conservation commission.

Williamson is chairman of a committee that is busy getting together the historical part of the Third National Grassland Field Day to be held at the University of Nebraska field laboratory at Mead in July.

"There are lots of horses in Nebraska, of course, but surprisingly few you can use as work horses," he said.

Williamson's old machinery will be displayed and demonstrated July 12 and 13 and will lead the machinery parade during the Tractor Power and Safety Day part of the show July 14.

To Thresh Oats
A sure crowd pleaser will be a threshing demonstration all three days. Gov. Norbert Tiemann, Chancellor Clifford Hardin of the University of Nebraska and Dean E. F. Frolik of the NU College of Agriculture and Home Economics are being invited to help pitch bundles.

Williamson is also considering an oats shocking contest and a contest for guessing the bushels of grain in a load of oats bundles.

William Vavak of Mead will run the threshing operation, using his 1920 Advance Rumely tractor to pull a 1921 Huber Jr. threshing machine.

The oats for the show will come from a 100 acre field now growing at the Field Laboratory at Mead.

Old Grinder, Baler
Vavak, one of the major contributors to the show of old machinery, also will have a horse-operated sweep grinder in operation and will pull a hand-fed baler with a 1918 Samson tractor. The Samson was a result of an early bid by General Motors for part of the farm equipment business.

Dr. Marvin Kivett, director of the Nebraska Historical Society Museum, is contributing horse-drawn equipment, some of which dates back to 1850. He also has threshing machines from 1873 and 1911.

In addition, he is providing authentic room settings for displays of pioneer family life on the Plains.

Among the exhibits will be:

Wheat Allotment May Be Secured

A new farm wheat allotment may be established for 1968 crop wheat for farms that did not have a 1967 allotment and meet eligibility requirements. Lester E. Martin of the Morgan County ASC committee announces.

A 1968 wheat allotment will automatically be established for all farms that had a wheat allotment established for 1967.

To be eligible for a new farm allotment, the operator must expect to receive 50 percent or more of his income from the production of agricultural commodities on the farm; neither the owner nor the operator may have an interest in any other farm which has a 1968 wheat allotment; and the person making application must have had at least two years experience in the last five years in producing wheat.

Applications for a new farm allotment must be filed in the county office on or before June 30.

LOUISVILLE (AP) — An import establishment in New York recently sent Mrs. Shirley Williams a pancho.

It carried two labels. One said "Made in Mexico" and the other "Made in Portugal."

Superior Germination Tests For '66 Beans

If you haven't tested your soybean seed for germination, you may plant too thickly for maximum yields, says J. C. Hackleman of the Illinois Crop Improvement association.

The ICIA seed laboratory tested 1,963 samples of beans this year and found that in all varieties and in all sections of the state germination percentages were considerably higher than those harvested in 1964 and 1965.

"Most of the 1964 soybeans," says Hackleman, "were harvested when the moisture content was extremely low, some as low as 8% or 9%, which resulted in a high incidence of mechanical damage with a resulting low germination—many of the samples testing in the low 80's or the high 70's."

"Much of the 1965 crop was harvested after a delay of two or three weeks which resulted in a high infestation of a fungus disease, diaporthe or pod and stem blight. Here again many samples tested below 80%."

The laboratory tested 1,408 samples from Central Illinois. Below are the results (variety, number of samples tested, and percentages of germination):

Four feet high by the Fourth of July!

Early planting makes it possible, and pre-emergence weed control with KNOXWEED makes it practical!

Benefits? You get greater yields, especially if you select new high-performance hybrids, plant thicker in narrow rows, apply fertilizer properly, and control insects. Early planting alone can increase corn yields from 13 to 30%.

But, it's important to control weeds right from the start. Midwest corn research data shows that if weeds are left unchecked for only three to four weeks after corn emergence, you can expect up to 35% loss in yield! KNOXWEED prevents the early weed competition which reduces profits.

KNOXWEED controls the most troublesome annual grasses and broadleaf weeds including hard-to-control giant foxtail, Johnson grass seedlings, wild cane and others.

It doesn't persist in the soil to interfere with crop rotation, but stays long enough to control weeds when they germinate. Then, after your corn is off to a good start, it disappears leaving no soil residue.

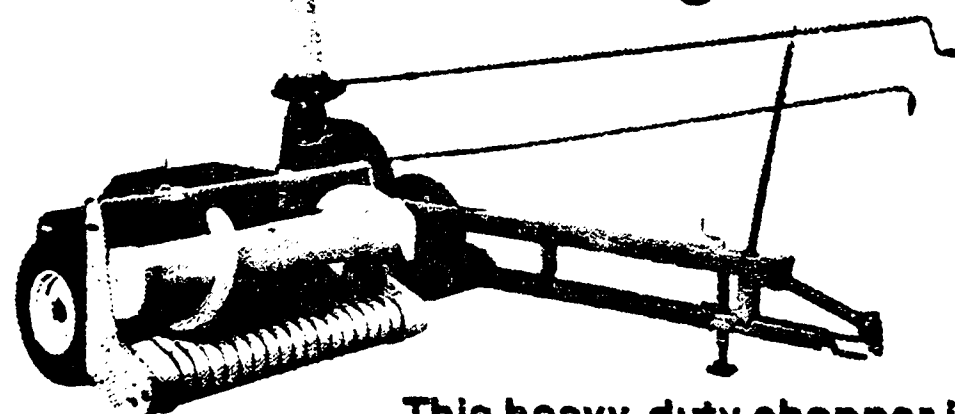

KNOXWEED 52 GRANULAR is now available in quantity! Get either granular or liquid KNOXWEED! Choose the form best suited to your application equipment. Use it on your corn this year either in band or broadcast applications!

Role Of Farm Credit Told In Switzerland

ZURICH, Switzerland — The availability of adequate credit on reasonable terms has played an important role in the rapid technological advances that have made it possible for U. S. farmers to increase their productivity so spectacularly.

Farmer-owned, cooperative credit institutions have affected the terms and quality of credit service to all U. S. farmers who borrow money, rather than just the 20 per cent financed by such organizations.

These points were made by R. B. Tootell, Governor of the Farm Credit Administration at the 14th World Congress of Agricultural Credit, attended by representatives of organizations in Europe, Asia, Africa and Canada.

In tracing the development of farming in the United States and farmers' liberal use of credit, Governor Tootell mentioned several noteworthy facts about American agriculture.

He pointed out that tenancy in the United States has declined from a peak of 42 per cent in 1930 to 17 per cent in 1967. He also mentioned that although major changes have resulted from the substitution of capital for labor, a high degree of mechanization, and much larger farms, 95 per cent of our farms can still be classed as family-type farms.

"By this I mean farm families have an investment in the enterprise, make most of the farm production decisions, and perform a substantial part of the labor," he explained.

"The productivity of our farm labor increased 150 per cent between 1950 and 1965 largely as a result of substituting capital for labor. The increase in productivity of our non-farm labor during the same period was only 45 per cent," Governor Tootell said.

The statistics he cited showed the capital investment per farm worker increased in this same period from $9,500 to $30,500 and is now estimated by USDA to have climbed to more than $41,000 per worker.

Weatherman Makes Our Farmers Fidget

The prospects for bumper crops of corn and soybeans this season are bleak, farmers said Saturday morning as they gazed into overcast skies with the temperature reading 46.

The low the previous morning was 39. The weatherman said there was a 30% chance of rain during the day. Most people agreed with him.

This spring has been most backwards so far as farming is concerned.

Soil temperatures are very low, three degrees below that of 1965 and 1966 at this time.

Corn planting is far behind schedule.

The U. I. Extension Corn Schools held in Illinois last winter geared our farmers into the notion of early planting—the last of April and the early days of May.

They got ready accordingly, but the weatherman has taken charge.

Name Officers Of Apple Creek Project

Steering committees from the five counties participating in the Apple Creek Watershed Development project met in the Greene County ASCS office in Carrollton Monday evening and elected officers.

The delegates from Greene, Macoupin, Morgan, Sangamon and Scott counties named L. A. "Bud" Hardaway of Carrollton chairman; Earl Wright, Murrayville, vice chairman; and Ralph McConathy, Roodhouse, secretary-treasurer.

Robert H. Mehrhoff of Carrollton was appointed publicity chairman.

The committee members reported that there is a great deal of interest in the project, and that it should be a successful project, but that there is a lot of work to be done and it will take some time to do it.

"Anyone interested in helping with the project should contact their local Soil & Water Conservation District Board or Soil & Water Work Unit Conservationist. They will in turn inform you of the members of the County steering committee with whom you will be working," Hardaway said.

The committee discussed the various steps which it must take to get the project underway. It was decided to contact 10% of the farmers in the watershed to get damage figures for use in making application for the project. These farmers will soon be contacted to obtain the amount of damages caused by flooding and erosion. County highway superintendents and township highway commissioners will also be contacted to obtain damages caused by flooding and siltation to roads and bridges.

The committee plans to meet once each month on the 2nd Monday evening of that month. Meetings will alternate between Greene and Morgan county.

The May meeting of the Worthwhile club was held at the home of Mrs. Russell McGee with the president, Mrs. Irene Moody, in charge of the business session.

Twelve members and three guests, Mrs. Laurel Haynes, Mrs. Harold Cully and Mrs. Ralph Herr, were present. Eloise Mason led the pledge to the flag.

Program chairman Edith Long conducted a contest during the meeting with prizes awarded to Mrs. Pauline Moody and Mrs. Ralph Herr.

Refreshments were served during the social hour.

LAW on the farm

PROPERTY TAX ASSESSMENT PROCEDURES

The property tax greatly concerns farmers. Since real estate is being assessed in 1967, many farmers are interested in knowing how their high tax bills are arrived at and what can be done to reduce them.

To begin the property tax process, local governing bodies estimate the amount of funds needed for the next year. To raise this amount, each body then certifies a request to the county clerk to apply the tax rate necessary against the valuation of taxable property within the taxing jurisdiction.

Your tax bill depends on both the tax rate and the assessed value of your property. If the assessment is low, a higher tax rate may be applied to produce the necessary revenue.

Real estate is assessed every fourth year between January 1 and June 1. The assessors affix a value as of January 1. Personal property is assessed annually between April 1 and June 1, with value determined as of April 1.

Illinois law requires that all property, real and personal, be assessed at its full cash value—what it could be sold for on the market. As a matter of practice, however, real property and tangible personal property are assessed at about 50-55 percent of actual value. Intangible property—stocks, bonds, and bank deposits—escapes taxation almost completely.

Each Piece Individually The assessors are required to consider all factors that affect the market value of a particular piece of property. In assessing a tract of farmland, they should consider the productivity of the soil, average earnings, and location of the property in relation to markets, roads, schools, and other facilities. They should use the sale prices of similar tracts as evidence of value, but this evidence is not conclusive.

In some developing areas, speculation may have pushed land values far above their value for agriculture. Present Illinois law requires assessment at this speculative value. The high taxes that result sometimes force farmers to sell out.

Several states have taken steps to solve this problem. Three methods have been suggested. One method provides that land devoted to an agricultural use should be assessed only at its value for that use. Another method is to assess it at its full value, but defer the payment of part of the taxes until the land is actually developed. A third method is to allow the government to purchase the development rights. The farm would then be assessed only on the value of the land for its present use.

May Come Here The Illinois courts have required strict uniformity in property taxation and have not allowed any class of property, such as farmland, to receive preferred treatment. It is possible, however, that one or more of the above methods could legally be utilized in Illinois along with zoning controls to afford the farmer some degree of tax relief.

In the tax laws are several provisions intended to guard against unfair and unequal assessments. Each assessor may make adjustments in his own assessments before turning his books in to the supervisor of assessments. The supervisor of assessments, who may be the county treasurer or a specially appointed officer, also has the power to adjust valuations. After he has reviewed the assessments, the books are delivered to the county board of review. This board usually consists of the county board and two members appointed by the court.

Then To Review The board of review has power to equalize assessments between townships, hear individual complaints, and lower or raise assessments. Because of the general underassessment, however, many owners feel it is a dangerous to complain to the board of review. If their property is assessed at 70 percent of value while a neighbor's is assessed at 50 percent, they fear that the board would only boost the neighbor's assessment to 70 percent or possibly even raise his to 100 percent. As a result, many boards of review get few complaints.

A taxpayer's final resort is appeal to the courts for relief based on technical objections, such as illegal levies and rates, or assessments that are grossly unfair.

WELLER TO ATTEND SUMMER SCHOOL

LEBANON, Tenn. — Samuel Valentine Weller, son of Mrs. Samuel V. Weller, 117 Finley St., Jacksonville, Illinois, will attend the summer session at Castle Heights Military Academy.

The 8-week session, combining academic and sports activities, will commence its 25th annual summer program on June 19.

There were 34 stars in the U.S. flag at the outset of the Civil War.

FEDERAL CONTROLS HURTING FARMERS

WASHINGTON (AP) — President Charles B. Shuman of the American Farm Bureau Federation says most farmers know government farm control and subsidy programs are being used against them and that "These costly schemes do more harm than good."

Writing in his organization's magazine, the Nation's Agriculture, he said that unless the present crop season is disastrous, Secretary of Agriculture Orville L. Freeman will succeed in "his efforts to build up surplus stocks of wheat, feed grains and soybeans."

Normally big crops tend to bring reduced prices.

Shuman has been the most vocal of farm leaders opposed to government regulation of farm production and prices.

Latest production prospects point to record large crops of wheat, corn and soybeans. But grain surpluses which for many years plagued farmers and the government have been used, and soybean stocks are increasing.

Illinois Farm OUTLOOK

STOCKS OF GRAINS LARGER THAN EXPECTED

The shortage of corn and soybeans that many farmers have expected has not developed. Supplies remaining on hand April 1 were even larger than many grain statisticians had figured.

If yields of feed grains are near normal this year, there may be no further shrinkage in our reserve or surplus stocks.

Supplies of soybeans already are accumulating. Stocks on hand April 1 are estimated at 460 million bushels—22 percent more than a year before. The rate of use from September 1 to April 1 (seven months) was just about the same as a year before. It now appears that the carryover next September 1 will be around 100 million bushels—nearly three times the carryover of 36 million bushels left on hand last September 1.

Farmers have reported intentions to increase soybean acreage 9 percent over the 1966 level. With normal weather, production would be around 980 million bushels—up 5 percent from last year. Such a crop, plus a carryover of 100 million bushels, would make a total supply of 1,080 million bushels. That would be 12 percent more than was available for use and export this year.

Stocks of corn on hand April 1 were estimated at 2,704 million bushels—down 6 percent from a year earlier. This amount was about 100 million larger than had been expected by government and private statisticians. It now appears that the carryover of corn next October 1 will be about the same as last fall—840 million bushels. Stocks of sorghum grain were listed at 530 million bushels—down 27 percent. Oat stocks reported at 441 million—down 18 percent. But stocks of barley totaled 206 million bushels—up 8 percent.

The total carryover of the four feed grains is now expected to be 30 to 32 million tons. Earlier, Washington officials thought that the carryover would be only about 25 million tons. The carryover now expected would be equal to two months use and exports. (Back in 1960 the carryover of feed grains was 85 million tons—equal to five months requirements.)

USDA officials say that if the weather is decent, production of feed grains will be around 170 million tons this year. This amount is equal to expected use and exports in the 1967-68 marketing year. Consequently, the carryover October 1, 1968 may be around 30 to 32 million tons—the same as is expected this fall.

As of now, these figures are estimates. But both production and rates of use are likely to differ some from present expectations. Thus, feed supplies a year hence may be larger or smaller than now.

Prices of corn and other feeds will reflect the changes in the supply prospects as the months roll by. Prices will also be influenced by changes in the demand for feed.

Hog production is being cut back. Increases in the demand for poultry feeds may be less than usual. The needs for beef and dairy cattle feeds are expected to hold steady. Foreign demand for our feed has fallen off because of increased production in other countries.

YESTER YEAR

The Income Tax Of 1866

Ever wondered how much income tax your neighbor paid last month?

Would you buy a copy of a newspaper that told how much?

A hundred years ago this week the DAILY JACKSONVILLE JOURNAL printed the complete "Internal Revenue Assessment List, Morgan County, year 1866."

The editor pointed out that the list "will undoubtedly create considerable interest among our readers. By it we can see that some folks of supposed wealth are living far above and beyond their means, and others whom we deem unwealthy have means."

A couple of weeks ago a bunch of us were sitting around Carl's Red Front oasis on West State street and everybody seemed most surprised, and most interested, when it was stated that everybody's income tax was a matter of public record a hundred years ago.

Why Not Today?

One crony asked, "Why don't you do that today? I'd give $5 for a copy of the paper."

The answer: "Forbidden now, ever since 1869. People just didn't like to have their assessments paraded before the public. Their Congressmen got on their hind legs and howled that publication cease, that the law providing publicity be revised, deleted."

"But, about that time, the income tax was bringing in so much money that the boys on Capitol Hill, D.C., didn't know what to do with all of it. The federal debt which zoomed skyward during the Civil war was nearly all paid off and the owners of 'infant industries', particularly in the East, were afraid that if the debt was paid off maybe some bunch of wiseacres would want to get rid of the protective tariff."

"So, the Congressmen decided to do away with the noisome publicity regarding an individual's income tax. They did this by doing away with the income tax."

"Soak The Rich" "Income tax came back with Wilson's administration, though it had been in the works for five or so years. It was just 'to soak the rich.' Ordinary guys like you and me would never be bothered by the tax gatherers."

"That's what they said then. 'As to why the individual income tax returns aren't published? In the first place, it's against the law. But our printers have a fierce job setting up the personal property assessment list once a year, and when the fourth year comes around for the revised real estate list, they cry and moan more than somewhat. If they took one look at the income tax return list they'd take off for the brush and Apple Creek and we'd never see them again.'"

Five Percent, Less Deductions The income tax of 1866, payable in 1867, was termed harsh, but it would be a laughing matter today.

The personal exemption was $1,000. That was just for the individual; wife and kids didn't count. A single man today would like this treatment.

Next came off taxes of any kind, including the $2 per proof gallon tax on any whisky purchased. Now the federal tax is $10.50.

Then you could deduct any repairs to your home or place of business. Some of the boys circled around this pretty fast. Many of the houses built then (and some are still standing) had a log cabin inside. The builders simply "repaired" the old cabin by building a new house around it.

Then on the balance you had to pay a tax of 5%.

And just think of it, at this rate so much money flowed to Washington that the boys didn't know what to do with all of it.

Alexander Topped List I wonder how much income tax John T. Alexander, the nation's No. 1 cattle drover, feeder and shipper, paid a hundred years ago.

He headed the Morgan County list with an income of $50,000. Now his personal exemption would bring that down to $49,000. Next he could take off his taxes on the land he owned in eastern Kansas and eastern Missouri, the 8,000 acres across he owned in Morgan and Scott counties, and the 33,000 acres he owned in southeastern Champaign county.

I don't know how much all that would add up to, and I'm too tired to look it up. But, today, that land in Morgan and Champaign county is being taxed around TEN DOLLARS PER ACRE PER YEAR.

to turn into prime beef. But they carried Texas fever. At this time it is not clear just how many head of native cattle Alexander lost that year. It is pretty certain that he had 5,000 head die in Champaign county alone in August and September, 1867.

And you know what, the government didn't offer to help him at all in his sad and bitter hours. They didn't give him a refund on the dough he had shipped them in better days.

State Assistance

But the state helped him a great deal. Gov. Oglesby appointed a board of five of his cronies to investigate the matter, at $7.50 per diem and expenses.

The following year the board reported that Texas fever was a most noisome and fatal disease and respectively submitted that the problem should be further studied.

And the study was continued. This board lasted for 22 years, swinging lustily all the while on the public treat.

DOMESTIC

May, 1867
The co-operative movement, now becoming so general, is one of the best signs of the times, since it shows that the laboring population is becoming conscious of the fact that by combining together they can become their own landlords, bankers, grocers, and save the profits made by the army of middlemen, who are not producers, and more of a hindrance than an aid to the proper distribution of the products of industry.

Mr. Lloyd Garrison has recently set out upon a European trip. On the steamer, just before starting, he was visited by some of his friends, and informed that $30,000, the contribution of his admirers, had been placed at his credit.

It is said that beds of lignite, or brown coal, have been discovered in New Jersey, which are so conveniently located that their production can be sold in New York for $3 a ton, and make at this price $1 profit. There is thus evidently a change to obtain some good thing from Nazareth.

The formidable iron-clad, the Dunderberg, has been purchased by the French Government, for three millions of dollars. When the good time comes, when there shall be no war, the amounts of money and ingenuity now spent upon the means of destruction, will be more than enough to conceive and carry out plans for the abolition of poverty.

By the admission of Jefferson Davis to bail, the question of treason or no treason remains as far from legal solution as ever.

We publish on another page the picture of the elegant billiard table, made of polished black walnut, which was presented to General Grant, by the manufacturers, Messrs. Phelan & Collender, this city.

MacMurray Honors Six Local Students

Six local students of MacMurray College received awards above the all-school average at the annual Honors Chapel Thursday.

Cited were: senior Mary McGinnis Bottens, Route 3; Janet Weller, 117 Finley St.; Cleta Jefferson, 236 E. Douglas; Janan Mason Weinstein, 1035 W. College; Donald Bell, 2100 1/2 Mound and Carol Williamson, 648 S. West St.

Mrs. Bottens

A senior music education major, Mrs. Bottens received the Lula D. Hay Memorial Award for Music. The prize, established by the Alumnae Association goes to a woman student for excellence in the theory of music. It is a memorial to Miss Hay who taught theory of music and piano at MacMurray, 1906-42.

Janet Weller

Miss Weller, senior art major, is the daughter of Mrs. Samuel V. Weller, 117 Finley. She received the Nellie A. Knopf Memorial Award for Art. Established by the Alumnae Association, the prize goes to a woman student for superior work in art. It is a memorial to Miss Knopf, head of the MacMurray Art Department, 1900-1943.

Cleta Jefferson

Miss Jefferson, winner of two honors, is a junior Spanish major and the daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Thomas Jefferson, Sr. She received the Teachers College Book Award for Education and was tapped for Cap and Gown, the highest honor society in the Women's College.

The education award was established by Teachers College, Columbia University, for selected liberal arts colleges. A book is given to the junior who gives evidence of the most constructive interest in educational issues.

Cap and Gown is composed of women who are chosen in their junior year by the senior members of the organization. The women chosen best exemplify the Women's College motto: Knowledge, Faith and Service. In addition they must possess leadership qualities and have a grade point average at least .4 above the all-school average.

Janan Weinstein

Four citations were presented to Mrs. Weinstein, a senior English major. She received one of the two Education Department Awards for Secondary Education. It is given to the student who has done outstanding work as a student teacher.

Mrs. Weinstein also received the English Department Award which is given to a senior majoring in English whose grade point average in the English courses is highest for the first seven semesters.

Alpha Lambda Delta, national freshman honorary, also cited her for outstanding scholarship. And she was one of four recipients of the Humanities V.V.I. Literature, Drama Award. The four were cited for excellence in the course study.

Carol Williamson

Senior music education major, Carol Williamson was named winner of the Martha Blackburn Glasgow Award for Music. This award goes to a student who has made a significant contribution to music in the College during the academic year.

Miss Williamson is the daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Charles H. Williamson. She is a member of the band, choir, and Jacksonville Symphony.

Donald Bell

Bell is the recipient of the Marian Chase Schaeffer Award for Speech and Theatre Arts. The award is given to a student who has demonstrated exceptional creativity in the area of theatre or speech.

It was established by Sue Schaeffer Corey, an alumna in honor of her mother Marian Chase Schaeffer, associate professor of Speech and Theatre Arts at MacMurray 1931-1949.

Bell is a senior theatre arts major. Sea lions, whales and some seals sleep under water and come to the surface only occasionally to breathe.

ASHLAND BOARD OKs RAISE FOR ELECTION JUDGES

ASHLAND — The Village board met Tuesday with Trustee Klein acting as president of the board in the absence of Mayor Evans, who was taken to the Holy Cross hospital, Jacksonville Tuesday.

Bills were read and authorized paid.

A motion by Donald Parsons to extend the completion time of the sewage disposal plant work from May 4 to June 3rd was carried.

A motion by James Edwards, seconded by H. A. Votsmier, to raise the election judge's fee from $10 to $15 was also approved.

William Gardner, the new member of the board, was seated.

A letter was read from Ronald Lockard stating that he had purchased the home and eight lots owned by Kenneth Hagen, formerly the late Lee Irwin place, and plans to set up a trailer court on the site. He plans to have accommodations for five trailers within 60 days. According to the ordinance, a license fee of $25 a year is charged plus $5.00 for each trailer coach over five for which accommodations and lighting plus other requirements of the State must be met.

Father Bernard LaBonte requested the board by letter, to consider the closing of the alley between Saratoga and Charles streets on the lots north of the Catholic church which are owned by the church. Plans for a new parish house and hall are contemplated. Since the alley on the lots is never used and hasn't been for years, a motion was made by William Roth, seconded by William Dodge, to close the alley. Motion carried.

Chairmen for the various committees were named; parks and grounds: Wm. Dodge; sewers: Don Parsons; police and buildings: Wm. Roth; health and weeds: Wm. Gardner; water: H. A. Votsmier; streets and alleys: LeRoy Klein; health officer: Dr. Carl Lind.

'Fossils And Bones'

Highway Workers Find Prehistoric Rarities

By MARTHA COLE
WASHINGTON (AP)—Among highway workers, they can't pronounce paleontology they just say "fossils and bones."

They've turned up items like dinosaur tracks discovered in Pecos County, Texas, while building U.S. Route 57. They've salvaged Indian mounds in Iowa and excavated prehistoric ruins in Arizona.

When bulldozer operators started digging for a section of Interstate 71 near Cleveland, Ohio, they set off one of the biggest fossil hunts ever undertaken in the United States. Scientists collected 10,000 specimens.

"Scientists evidently figure this is a big deal as far as they are concerned," James E. Kirk, a highways engineer of the Bureau of Public Roads, said in an interview.

Congress has said that federal aid highway funds may be used in archaeological and paleontological salvage in highway construction. It follows a national policy of preserving for public use sites such as Indian ruins, historic buildings, fossils or other objects of antiquity that have national significance.

Since 1956, under the Highway Transportation Act, 118 federal aid archaeological and paleontological projects have been undertaken in 21 states. Their cost totals some $1.4 million, of which $1.2 million was in federal aid funds.

The initiative for such projects must come from the states. Agreements for the work are made with museums, universities and state archeologists.

In the Right of Way and Location Office of the Bureau of Public Roads, Kirk and James A. Carney, a highway engineer, make sure that archeological and paleontological salvage get attention.

There are problems. Everybody has certain ideas about what is significant historically. Often even the experts can't agree.

Kirk said they leave it up to the professionals in the field.

For 17 months, from April 1965 to September 1966, workers under the direction of the Cleveland Natural Science Museum dug, chipped, pried and hammered to collect specimens of fossils from the Devonian Age of more than 350 million years ago when northern Ohio was covered by the sea.

The museum arranged the project after it was learned that a section of Interstate Highway 71 would cut through what was believed to be an important but heretofore inaccessible fossil formation.

Daughters Of Beauty Queen Win Own Crowns

By JAMES F. DONOHUE
MARBLEHEAD, Mass. (AP)—Mrs. John H. Procter, Miss Massachusetts in 1940, carefully raised two daughters to be good wives and quite accidentally they became beauty queens like their mom.

"I never encouraged them to enter pageants," Mrs. Procter said in a family interview. "But I think it's wonderful that they have. A girl who can do something with her life before her marriage can give much more to her husband."

Daughter Pamela, 21, is a Miss Massachusetts for 1967, the one who will be in Miami Beach this summer to compete for the Miss U.S.A. and Miss Universe titles.

Daughter Kathryn, 19, is Miss North Shore and Miss Danvers for 1967 and competes for the Miss Massachusetts title in July which is a preliminary to the Miss America pageant in Atlantic City.

"We're in entirely different pageants," Pamela said, "so there's no competition between us. As a matter of fact, I entered Kathryn in the Miss North Shore contest."

"And I," said Kathryn, "entered Pam in the Miss Massachusetts pageant because I had to get even."

Mrs. Procter, as Polly L. Connors of Bedford, was third runner-up for Miss America 27 years ago. She has used this experience as a guide for raising her girls.

She has taught them the beauty queen's graceful way of walking and sitting. She has sharpened their minds with questions similar to those asked finalists at beauty pageants.

"The idea," said Mrs. Procter, "is to train them to be ladies. The questions are to train them to think, to express themselves to be individuals."

"I make up questions like the ones I was asked as a finalist and I started them early. The development of a girl does not happen overnight."

DISTRICT OFFICER IS SPEAKER FOR LYNNVILLE WSCS

Mrs. Roy Nickel of Concord, district W.S.C.S. supply secretary, was guest speaker at Wednesday afternoon's meeting of the Lynnville W.S.C.S. Mrs. Frank Newberry and Mrs. Dale Rudisell hosted the meeting.

Mrs. George Wilson presented the treasurer's report and devotions were led by Mrs. Albert Wilson.

Officers for the coming year are: Mrs. Glenn Coates, president; Mrs. Harry Maurer, vice-president; and membership cultivation secretary; Mrs. Russell Wedeking, recording secretary; Mrs. George Wilson, treasurer; Mrs. John Finch, campus ministry and Christian social relations secretary.

Mrs. Robert Killam, program material and supply work; Mrs. Denby Ranson, spiritual life and missionary education; Mrs. Muriel Vasey and Mrs. Albert Wilson, local church activities; Mrs. Carl Scholfield, Christian vocation and missionary secretary.

The district officers' training school will be held May 25 at Centenary church.

The meeting closed with a poem read by Mrs. Robert Killam. Mrs. Glenn Coates was in charge of recreation with the contest prize awarded to Mrs. George Wilson. Mrs. Coates also read a humorous poem.

The June meeting will be held at the church with Mrs. Ben Mathers and Mrs. Glenn Coates as hostesses.

To Use Southerners In Integration Push

By SEYMOUR M. HERSH
WASHINGTON (AP)—The Office of Education will use Southern educators in a new attack this summer on the more than 1,650 Southern school districts that have lagged in meeting federal desegregation guidelines.

Plans are to hire about 35 Southern school administrators and officials for the Office of Education's annual summer compliance drive.

The new program marks a shift in tactics. Last summer about 100 law students, most of them from the North, were hired to work with and investigate Southern school districts having trouble complying with the 1964 desegregation order.

"We're looking for Southern educators who have had some experience with desegregation," David E. Seeley, assistant education commissioner for equal education opportunity, said in an interview. "We're looking for 65 part-time students this summer and visit districts throughout the South."

The idea originated with Harold Howe II, U.S. commissioner of education, who sent out letters earlier this year to state and local school officials in 17 Southern and border states.

Howe requested the officials to recommend likely candidates for the summer compliance drive and offered to pay between $750 and $1,250 per month to the right men.

Despite the relatively high pay, Seeley said only about 20 candidates have been tentatively accepted, although he hopes the program will enlist 35 men. "It's a problem," he said. "How to get people interested. One of the major problems is the general lack of responsibility among education professionals in the South."

"By and large," Seeley said, "the education profession has not assumed its responsibilities" regarding desegregation compliance.

The educators will work with 65 part-time students this summer and visit districts throughout the South.

College Plans Frank Coeducation Sex Talks

By JOHN VINOCUR
NEW YORK (AP)—Fordham University, one of the nation's largest Roman Catholic schools, will begin a series of coeducational sex discussions next fall dealing "frankly and directly" with premarital intercourse, conception and the methods of contraception.

"We know we are establishing a precedent," Martin J. Meade, dean of students, said today. "But our primary concern is the students. It's apparent that many undergraduates are confused about relationships between men and women."

Contraceptives, Meade said, would be discussed without touching on their morality. This approach, he contended, would not constitute a break with Roman Catholic opposition to the use of artificial birth control devices.

The decision to offer the series of lectures and discussions came after 150 women at the university's Thomas More College presented a petition asking for birth control information. Fordham previously had given courses in courtship and marriage.

"The petition was the impetus," Meade said, "but the idea had been under discussion for a while."

The program will be open to Fordham's 12,000 students, including 670 women, its faculty and administration. A physician to counsel on individual problems will augment the seminars.

"Our feeling is that if any of our students are trying to reach a personal decision regarding premarital intercourse they should do so with a full understanding of all the facts and implications. We will approach the subject frankly and directly."

ARENZVILLE CUB SCOUTS JOIN IN LINCOLN MARCH

ARENZVILLE — Scouts from Troop 118 and Cub Pack 118 participated in the annual Lincoln Pilgrimage in Springfield. Cubmaster Ervin Upchurch was present with Cub Scouts Mike Schone, Mike Ham, Jimmy Ham, Brian Schone, Mitchell Rawlings, Gregg Orr, Brian Privia, Jimmy Harbin, Ronnie Fricke, Richard Hendrick, Mike Beniaich and Tim Bartholomew.

Boy Scouts taking part were John Wessler, Bruce Staake, Tony Clark, Jeff Clark, Wesley Hendrick, and Chuck Bailey.

Others attending were Mrs. Mildred Ham, Mr. and Mrs. Jack Schone, Mr. and Mrs. Ronald Schone, Mr. and Mrs. Orval Fricke and Roger Kenneth Harbin, Mrs. Al Orr, Shelly and Melanie, Frank Privia and Debbie, Charles Hendrick, and Mr. and Mrs. Andy Beniaich, Mark and Marshall.

The Ladies Aid of Trinity Lutheran Church entertained a group of residents from the Jacksonville State Hospital at the fellowship hall of the church on the afternoon of April 19. Working through the Volunteer Services Program, the Ladies Aid is sponsor for various services to the hospital. Mrs. Marge Marsh accompanied the group for the event.

Mrs. John Phelps and Mrs. William Maschmeier were in charge of entertainment, which included group singing, contests, and games. Prizes were awarded to winning contestants. Refreshments of ice cream and cake were served.

Mrs. Herbert Tegeder, Mrs. Roland Welch, Mrs. Elda Winkelman, Mrs. Grace Schmitker, and Mrs. L. J. Wessler were in charge of arrangements for the gathering.

GREENE 4-Hers STUDY GUN SAFETY

CARROLLTON — The Greene County 4-Hers, enrolled in the Gun Safety project, met May 4 for a home fire arms safety course.

The course is designed to give members the opportunity to become familiar with the various types of fire arms and ammunition usually found in the home and to learn correct procedure for cleaning and storing firearms.

A skeet shoot will be held in June at the trap range at White Hall.

The second phase of the gun safety project, a hunter safety course designed to teach members to hunt safely and effectively, will be held in June.

Kane Club Tour

The Kane Woman's Club toured last Monday. Making the tour were Mrs. Harley Hanks, Mrs. Richard Dunham, Mrs. Burl Crawford, Mrs. Boyd Surgeon, Mrs. Everett Carrico, Mrs. William Foster, Mrs. Fred Mowrey, Mrs. Wilbur Gowin, and Mrs. Ross Crotchett, all of Kane; Mrs. Carol Crotchett of Bethalto; and Mrs. Jeanette Swann of Carrollton.

Heads Band Mothers

Mrs. Edward Crone was elected president of the Band Mothers of Kane Grade School at a meeting at the school, April 28th. Other officers are Mrs. Coy Mandrell, vice president; Mrs. Ed Moran, secretary; and Mrs. Donald Crane, treasurer. Mrs. Curtis Pregler is the outgoing president.

The Band Mothers are sponsoring a tour to Springfield on May 20th for the members of the band. The trip will be made by bus.

Business—Market Wrapup

Week In Business

Consumer Demand Lull Continues Economy Lag

By SALLY RYAN
AP Business Writer
NEW YORK (AP) — Just when Johnson administration officials were whistling merrily about an upturn in the economy, out came a sour note this past week.

Retail store sales for March didn't rise nearly as much as originally estimated, they learned. And first figures indicated they dropped in April.

It was a big disappointment to economists who had heralded the first March sales estimate as an indication that the economy was out of its winter doldrums and that a strong revival of consumer demand was under way.

The consumer holds the key to the outlook in the months ahead. All of Detroit, the housing construction industry, appliance manufacturers and other businessmen have been watching anxiously for some indication the American housewife was feeling a little better, thank you.

The reason is quite simple. Consumer spending represents the largest single contributor to the nation's gross national product — the total value of all goods and services produced.

Business inventories increased to $136.94 billion in March, and stocks on the shelves and in the warehouses are unusually high in proportion to sales.

"When the inventory adjustment is completed the economy should move up fairly vigorously," said Alexander B. Trowbridge, acting secretary of commerce.

Trowbridge said that would come soon, but just when depended on consumer demand.

April Industrial Output Lowest In 11 Months

WASHINGTON (AP) — Industrial output slipped slightly during April, carrying the sluggishness in production into the second quarter of the year.

The Federal Reserve Board said Friday its index of industrial production dropped to 155.9 per cent of the 1957-59 base period, down a half of one point from March. This was the lowest output in 11 months.

Government economists, however, called the drop insignificant and said it had been anticipated.

Administration officials have said their economic projection for the year called not only for a sluggish first quarter but also for a sluggish second quarter. The new figures confirm this for April.

The April drop in the output of the nation's mines, mills and factories occurred despite a 10 per cent increase in auto production. This was more than offset, however, by declining output of other consumer durable goods, business equipment and materials such as iron and steel.

the impact of major labor demands and possible strikes, and the speed with which inventories were brought in line with sales.

Unemployment edged up to 3.7 per cent of the work force in April.

At the same time, new orders and production dropped — the first time both have dropped simultaneously since 1961, the Association of Purchasing Agents said.

The level of factory operations has declined. The Federal Reserve Board reports manufacturers used only 87 per cent of their plant potential the first three months this year, down from 90 per cent at the end of 1966.

A government study indicates, however, businessmen plan to spend a record $27.9 billion on new plant and equipment this year, spending faster as the year rolls along.

Business received some encouragement along that line this week when the Senate finally approved the bill to restore business tax incentives, after a five-week delay.

The measure is designed to spur corporate spending for new plants and equipment, restoring tax breaks that were suspended last October in the Johnson administration's attempt to curb inflation.

There were two other major developments in Washington this past week.

The Federal Reserve Board recommended passage of truth-in-lending legislation that has been bottled up in the Senate Banking Committee for six years.

The bill would require disclosure of financing charges on all consumer credit in terms of an approximate annual interest percentage and total cost in dollars. It has been heavily opposed by most retailers and lenders.

The Supreme Court ruled that mail order houses could not be required to collect state or local "use" taxes on interstate transactions conducted entirely by mail or common carrier.

The ruling may set off increased competition by hundreds of small mail order houses. But it won't affect the giants of the $5 billion-a-year mail order business — Sears, Roebuck & Co., Montgomery Ward & Co. and J.C. Penney Co.

That is because they maintain stores, catalog offices or warehouses in most of the states, so, in effect, do business in them.

In Detroit, the word this past week was the same it has been since the first of the year: not very encouraging.

American auto manufacturers turned out 657,281 cars in April, down 18 per cent from last year.

American Motors Corp. returned to full production for the first time since April 21, and announced it would double production of its Rambler American the coming week, rehiring 350 workers at its assembly plant in Kenosha, Wis.

But the trouble-plagued company had other problems. It recalled 13,245 of its 1967 cars because of the possibility the steering shafts might crack while the drivers were parking.

Chicago Livestock Market Report

CHICAGO (AP) — Livestock prices advanced at the Chicago Stockyards this week in their best price showing in many weeks.

Slaughter steers closed 25 to 75 cents higher; butcher hog prices rose $1.50 to $2 a hundredweight, and slaughter lambs closed $1 to $2 higher.

Hog receipts totaled 26,000 head.

Mixed 1-2 butchers reached a top of $24.50 — the highest since September, while mixed 1-3s brought $22.25 to $23.25 and sows grading mixed 1-3 went at $18.25 to $19.00.

Cattle receipts totaled 24,200.

Prime slaughter steers brought $26.50 to $27.00 and high choice and prime kinds sold at $25.50 to $26.75. High choice and prime slaughter heifers commanded $24.50 to $25.50.

Sheep receipts totaled 800 head.

Choice and prime spring slaughter lambs sold at $29.50 to $30.00 — the highest price since April 1966. A few decks of wool and shorn slaughter lambs, grading choice with a few prime, brought $27.00 to $28.25.

CAR SALES CLIMB DURING EARLY MAY

DETROIT (AP) — Bolstered by an extra selling day, U.S. automakers Friday reported a sharp upturn in new car sales for the first 10 days of May.

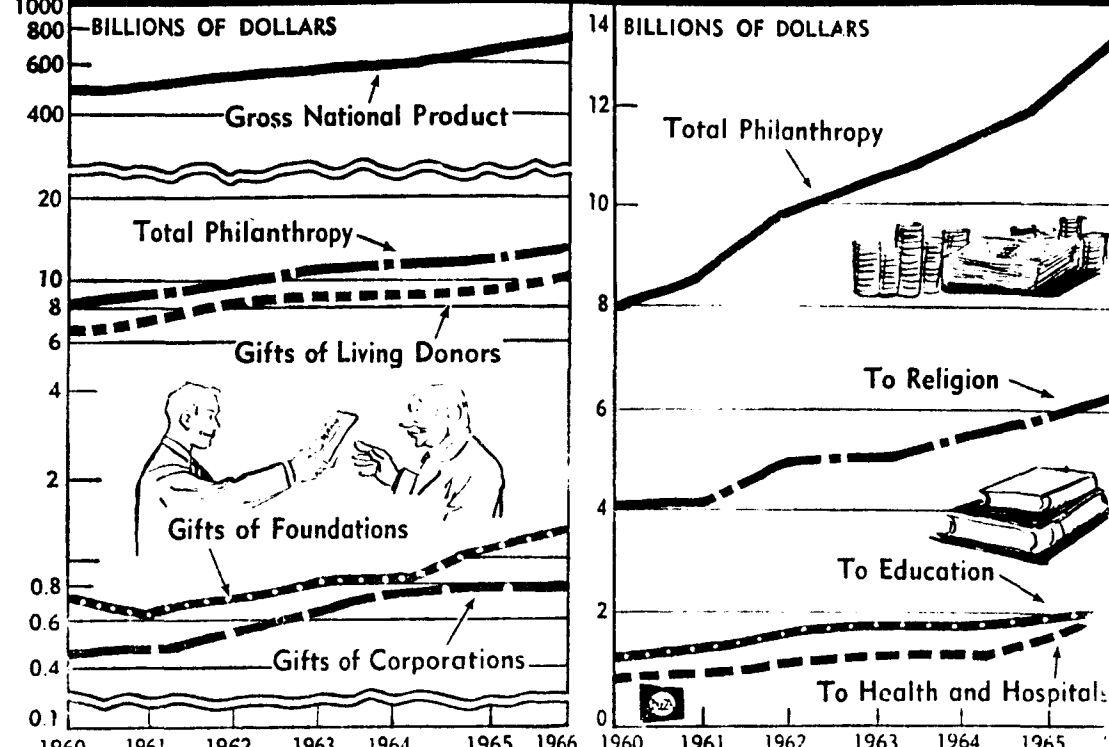

Sales for the May 1-10 period totaled 253,949 — up more than 60,000 cars over the same 10-day period in 1966. There were nine selling days this year compared with eight last year when sales totaled 193,306.

All four U.S. automakers reported increases in all divisions, with General Motors' Chevrolet showing a 40.6 per cent rise and its Pontiac Division sales tripling.

However, calendar year-to-date sales for 1967 continued to lag behind the Jan. 1-May 10 period of a year ago by nearly 447,000 units.

Total passenger car sales were 2,713,801 this year compared with 3,160,763 in 1966.

THE BOOM IN PHILANTHROPY

American generosity has been keeping pace with the expanding American economy. Total philanthropy reached an all-time high of $13,576,000,000 in 1966. By far the greatest single source was the individual giver. Religion remains the greatest single organized force for philanthropy, but the sharpest increase in contributions has been registered in the health field.

Stock Market Tapers Off Following Climb

NEW YORK (AP) — The stock market stumbled last week to its first loss in five weeks after reaching a peak for the current recovery movement.

The averages reached their high point Monday after an almost uninterrupted advance since early April.

Then the momentum fizzled and brokers concluded the market was in a corrective reaction that was to be expected after its long climb.

The week's most significant economic developments came Friday, when the market fell to a sharp loss.

The Federal Reserve Board reported output of the nation's mines, mills and factories dropped slightly in April to its lowest level in 11 months. The board's index declined to 155.9 per cent of the 1957-59 average from 156.4 in March.

Consulting economists of the Business Council, made up of leading industrialists, forecast the federal deficit may soar to $18 billion in fiscal 1968 instead of the $8.1 billion foreseen by President Johnson.

In that case, they said, a tax surcharge would be desirable for both budgetary and anti-inflationary reasons.

For the week the Dow Jones average of 30 industrial stocks fell 15.93 points to 890.03. The Associated Press 60-stock average last week declined 2.8 points to 327.8. Of 1,605 issues traded last week, 664 advanced and 827 declined.

Volume last week contracted to 52,382,110 shares from 54,714,380 the previous week.

The market reached its recovery peak Monday when the Dow Jones industrials rose 9.69 points and The Associated Press 60-stock average reached 331.8.

Long term bond prices and short-term interest rates declined. New lows for the year were posted for all government securities due in 1950 or later.

Yields on new corporate issues rose, advancing from a 5.72 to 5.78 per cent for some utilities.

Negro Engineer May Be Most Sought Grad

NEW YORK (AP) — This year's most sought-after college graduate may not be the class president but a Negro engineer.

The emphasis on Negro recruiting by the nation's business firms is intense.

One reason is the threat of loss of defense contracts if the government thinks a firm is discriminating against Negroes, an Associated Press survey indicated.

"A good Negro graduate with a technical background is more in demand than anyone I can think of," said Bob Millikan, senior employment representative at Pacific Gas & Electric Co. in San Francisco.

As a result, companies are stepping up their recruiting on Negro college campuses and offering bigger salaries.

"A few years ago, big firms began to hire more Negroes. Then smaller companies figured they ought to do something, too," said William C. Gutman, placement director at Temple University in Philadelphia.

"It is considered a feather in the hat of a recruiter to recruit a Negro," said Maurice Mayberry, placement director at the University of Florida in Gainesville. "The reason is simple — government pressure."

Negroes have it made with companies which have defense contracts, said Virginia Blankenhorn, a placement officer at Occidental College in Los Angeles.

In Kansas City, Mo., Ron Erwin, corporate employment manager for Hallmark Cards, Inc., said some Negroes may be receiving premium offers from companies. He added that the degree of aggressiveness displayed by companies in recruiting Negroes may lie in the defense contracts they have.

Philco-Ford Corp., in Philadelphia has expanded its recruiting to 12 Negro colleges. Sun Oil Co. visits six.

One Negro senior at Georgia Tech applied for eight jobs and was offered all of them, said A.P. DeRosa, placement director.

"He was so overwhelmed by the choice that he gave up and decided to go to graduate school instead," DeRosa said.

Grains End Week Mixed To Higher

CHICAGO (AP) — Grain futures prices moved nervously over a narrow range on the Chicago Board of Trade this week and closed on a mixed to higher level, except for oats, which closed lower.

Soybean meal closed lower while soybean oil was mixed, and choice steers advanced up to 65 cents a hundredweight in a strong closing finish.

When grain trade closed for the week Friday, wheat was ¼ to ½ cents higher, May $1.64; corn was ½ lower to 1½ cents higher, May $1.33½; oats were ¼ to ¾ cents lower, May 70½-¼ cents; rye was ¾ to 5½ cents a bushel higher, May $1.22½-¾; and soybeans were ¾ to 1½ cents higher, May $2.83¾-¾.

Soybean oil closed 14 points lower to 6 points higher, May 10.05; soybean meal was 15 to 50 cents a ton lower, May 69.00-68.95, and choice steers closed 35 to 65 cents a hundredweight higher, June $26.00.

That the grain market was without direction and in a generally nervous mood was best reflected in the narrow range over which all prices moved — generally 2 to 3 cents between the highest and lowest prices for the week in all contracts.

There was some trade feeling Tuesday, that the U.S. Department of Agriculture estimate of the 1967 winter wheat crop would be slightly higher than the USDA had estimated on April 1. It was.

The report said winter wheat this year would total 1.195 billion bushels, compared with the 1966 production of 1.056 billion. On April 1, the USDA said the 1967 crop would total 1.162 bushels. An improvement in the amount of precipitation accounted for the difference, the USDA said.

A few days earlier, a private forecaster, usually well regarded in the trade, had forecast that the 1967 winter wheat crop would total 1.204 billion bushels.

Before and after the USDA report, wheat responded almost daily to reports of precipitation or lack of it.

Corn futures showed a similar response to the weather. In recent weeks, wide sections of the Midwest plains States and some Mountain States have reported a setback in spring planting because of rain, wet or snow covered fields.

There was some trade feeling that if the country is to realize the bumper corn crop farmers have promised to seed, along with spring wheat, seeding should be completed within the next 10 days.

Cash corn was traded mostly at 6 to 8 cents a bushel above the July future for No. 2 grade at Chicago, while oats sold generally between 3½ and 4½ cents a bushel over May.

Tight receipts were generally blamed for the higher cash corn price and the trade also estimated that more corn would be moving off farms in coming weeks after planting is completed.

Soybeans slowed down their decline this week, despite a USDA report that the 1967 carryover of beans would probably total around 90 million bushels, a record.

Increased usage, strengthened soybean oil, but soybean meal was relatively sluggish.

Mother's Day Prayer Poem

Inherited Strength

By Mary Pence Claywell

Sleep, Mothers, Sleep, as the years go and come.
Where the green grasses grow, after winter is gone.
Where garlands of flowers, by loving hands, set.
Whisper in silence, "We'll NEVER FORGET."
Everything's lovely, Dear Ones, in the spring.
The skies just as blue and the robins still sing.
But yet it is different, the old World, by far.
For it NEVER is quiet from the rumble of war.
Which keeps adding sorrow, and death, Dears, and sin.
One scarcely cold, till ANOTHER begins.
We're HOPING, and PRAYING, in FAITH for our Sons... Just as you did, back in "World War One."
We are glad you are spared knowing THREE other wars. Have BLOOD-SOAKED the Earth, and left millions of scars.
And that many more "Crosses" in lands far-away.
Are growing in number, "more" added each day.
So we Thank God, you're resting, in sweet Peace, and quiet.
No hot, tear-soaked pillows, no long, troubled nights.
No waiting for "Papers," it's now "Radio."
To scan the long lists, as the casualties, grow.
But one thing's the same, how we wish you could know.
The MOTHERS... your DAUGHTERS... like you long ago.
Have FAITH, and have HOPE, and great COURAGE, too.
And INHERITED STRENGTH... God once, gave to you:

Dear MOTHERS, NOW burdened with "war," GOD IS NEAR.
And with fervent PRAYERS rising, I'm sure, Jesus Hears.
And Dear youthful MOTHERS, with small sons today, We pray that war never will snatch them away.
And ALMIGHTY Father, if it is THY WILL, Just now, Softly Whisper, once more, "PEACE... BE STILL!"

a. answer their questions with either "yes," "no," or "perhaps?"
b. participate in the conversation with comments about your school-work, the school teams, something of neighborhood interest or of particular interest to parents?
c. try to impress them with a monologue on communism vs. capitalism?

8. When you and your date are on a bus or streetcar and reach the stop, should

a. the boy step down first and help the girl off?
b. the boy step back to let the girl get off first?
c. the two of you get off together—arm in arm?

9. When you and your date go to the movies and there's no usher in the theatre, should

a. the girl insist that the boy locate an usher to find seats for two?
b. the boy scout around alone, girl waiting to join when he finds seats?
c. the boy go down the aisle first, girl following until he finds a seat?

10. If your date suggests going ice skating and you don't know how to ice skate, do you

a. refuse to go alibing that you have weak ankles?
b. accept gladly, hoping you have a natural skill in ice-skating?
c. tell him you don't know how to ice-skate but will be glad to go if he's willing to teach you? How'd you do? All answers are "c" except 7, b, and 8 a.

Outdoor Wonder

Springtime opens up your eyes. To all the wonders of outside. From the owl who looks so wise To the baby possums first ride.

The flowers that are venturing up. Either look like stars or little cups. I love this season of the year. So many things to see and hear.

Spring seems to agree with me. To curl up under an apple tree. Who's trunk's all gnarled and old. Springtime is as good as gold.

The creek begins to gurgle again. The birds begin to sing again. Spring has just driven winter away. The little lambs are frisky with play.

All this is springtime to me. The little kittens and puppy dog. Who sticks his nose into a hollow log. Now do you agree with me?

There was a dog, the street he'd roam
Until he found a very good home.
He'd walk the street night and day.
Until he found a place to stay.
One day he saw a man afoot.
Very dirty and with soot.
He fell into the ocean where the water was deep.
He recognized him as a chimney sweep.
As soon as it happened, the dog was in too.
He barked as to say, "Don't worry, I'll get."
The dog with his teeth, grabbed the man's coat.
And before they knew it, they were on a boat.
The chimney sweep said, in my house you'll stay.
The dog will not roam another day.
The old man gave him a comfortable rug.
And from that day on, the dog slept snug.

Bees, Blossoms

I like the Springtime
It is full of good times
Pleasures to see
And tiny hard working bees
Little flowers beginning to blossom
And the children all a hopping
The wind so strong in March
The rainbow in April seems to make an arch
It is just the beginning
But it will come again
It is true to say April Showers
Bring May flowers.

The Flowers

When springtime comes, it will be fun.
When springtime goes, Summer will come.
The flowers will bloom All yellow and orange.
I'll skip in the sun.
And have all sorts of bouquets
When summer goes.
Winter will come.

My Mouse

My mouse is a wee little animal.
And his name is Krammel.
He frightens my mother to some chairs.
And then my brother just laughs and stares.
My mother goes "Eek!"
And my mouse goes "Squeek!"
It's all such a funny site.
That we laugh with all our might.
Then my mouse runs to his house in the wall.
And calmly plays with his little string ball.

By Walter B. Hendrickson, Jr.

Friday, May 5, marked the sixth anniversary of Freedom 7—the first United States manned space flight.

Navy Commander Alan B. Shepard was the astronaut chosen for this flight and Marine Colonel John H. Glenn was his backup pilot. The flight was a sub-orbital mission using a Redstone rocket, shown with Shepard in the picture above, as a booster.

Astronaut Shepard named his Mercury capsule "Freedom 7." All the Project Mercury astronauts added "7" after the name of their capsules to show that the flight was actually a team effort of all seven original astronauts.

The launching of Freedom 7 was first scheduled for Tuesday, May 1, 1961, but cloudy weather caused it to be postponed until Friday May 5, 1961. After a few delays because of mechanical trouble the Redstone was launched at 9:34 in the morning EST.

The rocket built up a speed of 5,280 miles per hour carrying Shepard to a height of 115 miles above earth. Freedom 7 then dropped back through the atmosphere to land in the sea 302 miles from Cape Canaveral at 9:49 a.m. EST 15 minutes and 22 seconds after launch.

As soon as a helicopter had hooked onto Freedom 7 Shepard the pilot raise his capsule a few feet out of the waves. He then climbed out of the waves. He was hoisted aboard the helicopter. The copter then headed back to the flag ship of the recovery force the carrier "Lake Champlain."

Red Carpet Welcome
Aboard the carrier Shepard received the first red carpet welcome given a returning astronaut. Then he went below for an intensive post-flight medical examination. After this he received a telephone call from President Kennedy. He told the President, "Everything worked just about perfect, and it was a very rewarding experience for me and the people who made it possible."

General Donald D. Flickinger, USAF, says "The flight of Al Shepard was really a tremendous advancement for this country. This is a first step. And I think that apart from the

TROUBLE FOR ANDY

By John Rankin

David edged forward in his seat tensed and uneasy and stole a glance at his mother pale and starry-eyed beside him. He knotted his tiny fists into reddish-white balls and glimpsed around at the solemn faces in the crowded courtroom. Then he let his glance rest on Judge Renche seated silent and somber-looking at his bench up front.

For a tension-filled moment longer the silence was deadly and overpowering. Then Judge Renche cleared his throat and beckoned a bailiff to the bench. "You may bring the prisoner in," he said with a solemn nod.

Prisoner Enters
David watched the bailiff disappear through a door at the back of the room and his throat tightened and he felt all knotted up down deep inside. The prisoner was Andy, his big playful, fun-loving collie! He was accused of attacking a small child—a little girl about three maybe.

The long, agonizing trial was over at last and now Andy's life hung in the balance. The Judge's decision would be final!

It all seemed so cruel and senseless, and David felt that he could never forgive himself for having turned Andy loose on the lawn that day while he went back in the house for something or other. He'd only left him unattended a minute or so, but it had been long enough for him to stray down the street to the next block and in some mysterious way get into serious trouble.

Terrible Memory
David buried his head in his hands and tried to blot out the memory of the little girls screams, the angry cries of a-roused neighbors and the police coming for Andy. And he tried to forget that Mr. Lang, his father's lawyer, had said all along that the case looked dark for Andy!

At the sound of a door opening David looked up and saw Andy, muzzled like a jungle beast, but with head held high and proud, walk across the rostrum ahead of the bailiff holding onto his leash. He stopped before the judge's bench. With just a touch of sunlight from a nearby window playing on his brown silky coat, and seemingly pleased by all the attention he was getting, he sat with his eyes searching the crowd as though posing for the judges at a dog show.

Now Mr. Lang and another lawyer approached the bench. They talked in lowered tones briefly and drew back. The moment of decision had arrived.

Let's Go Birding

Turquoise In The Sky

By Emma Mae Leonhard

We are always entertained in the early fall by the great flocks of swallows maneuvering over marshes, meadows, and fields, or lined up on telephone wires like beads on a string. The adults seem to be instructing their children on the art of flying and feeding in the air in preparation for their long flight south to their winter homes. At that time we frequently find difficulty in separating the different species, for the young ones all look alike to us.

In the spring we watch for the first swallows, for then we think that spring is really here. Also we don't expect to find such great numbers of swallows in one place. We likewise have little difficulty in identifying them: the immatures have grown up and are wearing the characteristic swallow fashions.

April 22 broke the swallow record for us in respect to the numbers. On the road to Sunset Beach a few miles north of Meredosia, we were literally serenaded by hundreds of these gracefully-flying birds. The air above us was swarming with swallows like bees; the telephone wires to our right were strung with swallows; the leafless branches of trees at the water's edge were perched upon which the birds were preening themselves. Swallows almost grazed our heads or slapped our faces as we sauntered through their territory, but no one retreated nor was wounded.

Five kinds of swallows enveloped us: the Cliff Swallow with its pale reddish rump and almost square tail, the brown-backed Bank Swallow with the dark band across its white breast, the Barn Swallow with its deeply forked tail and rosy-appearing colored throat and breast, the Rough-winged Swallow with its brown back and drab throat and breast, and the Tree Swallow, our turquoise of the air.

The Tree Swallow outnumbered all of its four cousins. These Tree Swallows with their immaculate white throats and breasts, and their bluish-green and greenish-blue backs easily won the beauty prize among their vying companions. They were like great green and blue gems dangling in the air. As we gazed at their backs in the slanting rays of the sun, we were fascinated with the glistening semi-metallic shades of blues and greens, the tantalizing mingling of the rich tints of genuine turquoise.

Why had such a large flock of swallows gathered here? It was a windy cold day. We surmised that this was a more protected spot and that here were flying many more insects upon which the birds were feeding. And Tree Swallows like to eat too

Time To Play

Spring is a time to play. Or go fishing all the day. When you wake up in the morn. You seem to hear a great big horn.
A lot of the time we see the rain.
Pouring against the window pane.
In the morning, my mother would say.
"Come on, the boys want to play!"
In the Spring we plant the corn. But you can't do this in just one morn.
In the Spring School lets out. And all the kids really shout. That's the end of this little poem.
Because its time for this one to go home.

Boring People

There are people who jabber and make you sore, and then you think, "Oh what a bore!"
Then there are people who do nothing at all, they seem as if they want to stall.
Then there are people who have things their way, so being polite nothing you say.
Then there are people who smoke and smoke, and when you get near them, you'd just about choke.
Then there are people who just act silly, and when people walk by, they say, "Oh really!"
People are sometimes such a bore.

YOUR BIRTHDAY and HOROSCOPE

By STELLA

SUNDAY, MAY 14 — Born today, you have an original and inventive turn of mind. New methods of doing things will usually appeal to you and you will usually be the first in your group to try new things. Take care, however, that you do not allow this side of your nature to dominate when it comes to your career or you may find yourself hopping from job to job, gathering a great deal of minor experience but no real position or material benefits.

You have tremendous patience when it comes to dealing with others, especially those of the younger generation. You will strive, long after others have given up, to understand a viewpoint foreign to your own, and to understand behavior that others have pronounced radical in one way or another. You could easily make a success of social work among the young, for you gain their confidence easily.

You will not be one to love often in your lifetime, but those who are fortunate enough to become the object of your affections will have no doubt about it. You will shower your loved ones with everything you can possibly think of to make them happy and, more important, you will give of yourself completely.

To find what is in store for you tomorrow, select your birthday and read the corresponding paragraph. Let your birthday star be your daily guide.

Monday, May 15
TAURUS (Apr. 21 - May 21) — A conference this morning may result in a new opportunity for you this afternoon. Make every effort to be at your best.
GEMINI (May 22 - June 21) — Make real progress through successfully combating the opposition to your plans. A good day for a fighter.
CANCER (June 22 - July 23) — It is the level-headed Cancer who can overcome the confusions of the morning to ride home a winner in the afternoon.
LEO (July 24 - Aug. 23) — An excellent day for accomplishment if you are job hunting or seeking a change of position at your present place of employment.
VIRGO (Aug. 24 - Sept. 23) — Don't be confused by conflicting tendencies. A day for making up your mind early in the game — and sticking to it!

LIBRA (Sept. 24 - Oct. 23) — The earlier you make decisions regarding your career, the better. Don't let the morning go without thinking of these matters.

SCORPIO (Oct. 24 - Nov. 22) — Though others may be upset by minor morning difficulties, by remaining calm yourself you can make gains.

SAGITTARIUS (Nov. 23 - Dec. 22) — An important development in connection with present employment may well put you in line for a change. Be receptive.
CAPRICORN (Dec. 23 - Jan. 20) — You can master the circumstances that seem to have set themselves against you at this time. Take a leaf from another's book.

AQUARIUS (Jan. 21 - Feb. 19) — Let caution guide you to the right decisions today. If you take a chance and jump the gun, you are sure to run into trouble.

PISCES (Feb. 20 - Mar. 21) — If you've taken every consequence into consideration, the unexpected need not occur. Look before you leap, nevertheless.

ARIES (Mar. 22 - Apr. 20) — Of course may cause interference that can throw a monkey wrench into all your good intentions. Keep a clear head.

Teens Injured In Car, Cycle Crash Friday

Two Jacksonville High school students were listed in satisfactory condition by a Holy Cross hospital spokesman Friday night where they were admitted for treatment of injuries sustained in a car-motorcycle accident that afternoon here.

The two were identified as Richard W. Osborn, 17, of route three, driver of the motorcycle and a passenger, John Morris, 16, of 124 East Superior.

Investigating city police reported that a car, driven by Judith E. Becker, 27, of route three, was southbound on North Fayette, attempting to make a left turn onto West Court street.

The Becker woman told officers that she saw the motorcycle, but thought she had time to safely make the turn. Osborn told police he thought that the car had stopped.

The car pulled into Osborn's lane of traffic and he tried to swerve to avoid striking the car, but the motorcycle slid into the front of the car.

Both were taken to the hospital by ambulance.

Police cited Mrs. Becker with failure to yield the right-of-way.

Mayor Endorses Vehicle Safety Check Lane

Mayor Byron Holkenbrink issued a proclamation designating May 15 thru May 20 as Vehicle Safety Check Week in Jacksonville and commended those who are sponsoring the program.

In issuing the proclamation, Mayor Holkenbrink told the Jacksonville Journal Courier that "Traffic accidents took a toll of more than 2,000 lives, injured 125,000 persons and resulted in loss to the people of Illinois in excess of $400 million dollars last year, and that the safe operating condition of motor vehicles is of prime consideration in any serious effort to control traffic and prevent accidents."

The Mayor expressed commendation to the Auto Industries Highway Safety Committee, the Governors Official Traffic Safety Check Committee and particularly the Jacksonville Police Department, the Independent Insurance Agents Association of Jacksonville, civic organizations and news media for their cooperation, both past and present, and called for wide area support of the program.

Farmer Services Held At Church

Funeral services for Mrs. Dorothy Ann Farmer, wife of Loral Farmer, were conducted at the Assembly of God church at 2 p.m. Friday. Reverend W. A. Gardner and Reverend Ivan Loy officiated. Dennis McHatt, soloist, was accompanied by Mrs. G. O. Webster at the organ.

Caring for the flowers were Louise Knox, Mary Thady, Wanda Thompson, Dorothy George, Anna Gardner and Gladys Wilder.

Pallbearers were Sidney Campbell, Hugh Coultas, Leo Knox, Sherman Wilder, Paul Thady and Reverend Harold George.

Sidney Campbell and Leo Knox served as ushers at the church.

Burial was in Memorial Lawn cemetery with the Williamson Funeral Home in charge of arrangements.

CHANCEL DRAAMA AT FAITH LUTHERAN

Senior Luther Leaguers from several area Lutheran churches will present a chancel drama, "A Sound from Heaven," as the Evening Worship Service at Faith Lutheran Church, Walnut and Finley, at 7:30 p.m. Sunday, May 14. An invitation is extended to anyone wishing to attend.

The drama, designed for presentation at Pentecost, combines certain incidents from the Old Testament with the climax of the Day of Pentecost to demonstrate the ever-presence of the Spirit of God from the beginning, as well as to commemorate the origin of that apostolic experience which is affirmed by all Christians in all times.

Participating in the drama are Jonna Albers, Mark Albers, Daryl Bangert, Linda Hutton, Phil Kilver, John Krueger, Connie Neese and Patti Wiley of St. John's Lutheran Church, Bluffs; Rhonda Orchard and Bob Williams of Trinity Lutheran Church, Meredosia; Julie Smith of St. John's Lutheran Church, Arenzville.

"A Sound from Heaven," written by James Brock, is being produced by special arrangements with Baker's Plays, Boston, Mass., and is under the direction of Mrs. George Bischoff of St. Peter's Lutheran Church, Arenzville.

Jameson Rites Held

Funeral services for Frederick W. Jameson were held at 2:30 p.m. Friday at Cody and Son Memorial with Reverend Dale Robb officiating. Mrs. Walter Crawford was the organist.

Pallbearers were Donald Caldwell, Robert H. Caldwell, Edwy Chumley, Roy DeSilva, Dr. Henry Doller, Noel Leitz, Lawrence P. Quinlan and Clarence Worrall.

City Light and Power Department employees attended in a group as did members of the local Masonic lodges. Participating in Masonic rites at the funeral home Thursday evening were: Gerald Drum, master; William Jarrett, chaplain and Clifford Sibert, secretary.

Burial was in Memorial Lawn cemetery.

CHARGED FRIDAY NIGHT
 A 22-year old Morgan county man was charged by city police Friday night with illegal transportation of alcohol.

Authorities identified the man as Gerald R. Taylor, 22, of Chapin, who was apprehended shortly after eight o'clock in front of the police station on East College avenue.

Taylor posted $100 bond, pending a court appearance May 15.

Jack Glisson Says "WE'LL LEASE YOU ANY '67 FORD FOR LOW MONTHLY RATES!"

Yes, now you can save just as the big fleets do—by leasing a new Ford instead of buying one. You don't need to be an executive or professional man—anyone with good credit is eligible.

Leasing gives you a new car at regular intervals. It gives you complete tax records of car expense. It gives you cash to invest or spend (we'll buy your present car, pay you in cash!) It could cost you less each month than buying the same new car model and equipment!

Want to know how we do it? Stop by. We'll gladly give you all the eye-opening facts... no obligation.

CARS DAMAGED AT ALLEY INTERSECTION

One car was heavily damaged, and a driver ticketed as a result of a two-vehicle accident at the intersection of two alleys behind the Baumann Implement Company building about eight o'clock Friday morning.

City police reported that a car driven by Cynthia M. Sorrell, 17, of 1506 South Clay was westbound in an alley, when it was struck by a southbound auto, operated by Frances M. Reagan of 224 1/2 East State street.

The badly damaged Sorrell auto was removed from the scene by a wrecker, and the Reagan woman was ticketed for failure to reduce speed causing an accident.

Expensive Too

Wallace Might Find It Difficult To Get Name On States' Ballots

By WILLIAM T. PEACOCK
WASHINGTON (AP)—Former Gov. George C. Wallace of Alabama could find it expensive and difficult to get his name on the ballot in every state if he becomes a third-party candidate for president next year.

Each state makes its own laws in this field and they vary widely.

In some the number of signatures required for effective petitions would necessitate an army of volunteer workers, solicitors, legal talent or a paid headquarters staff.

Wallace said in an interview with executives of the Richmond News Leader published Monday: "We know how to get on the ballot in every state all 50 states."

He mentioned California and Ohio as possibly the most difficult.

In Ohio, the requirement is a petition bearing valid signatures equal to 15 per cent of the vote for governor in the last election. On the basis of the 1966 election, this would be 433,000 names.

In California, a third party can get on the ballot with backing from 66,059 voters, or one per cent of the total vote cast last November. However, these 66,059 must be registered as adherents of the third party 135 days before the election.

There are small ifs and buts be kept off arbitrarily," he said.

in the laws of some states which complicate petition routes for getting on the ballot.

In Indiana, a third-party candidate needs a petition with only one-half of one per cent of the vote cast for secretary of state in the last election. This works out to 8,320 for 1968.

But, the law says, each signature must be notarized.

Delaware's law requires a petition with 50 signatures from each of the 18 state senatorial districts. The rub is that the signatures must be of persons who are not members of either party—Democratic or Republican—now accredited.

Oklahoma has a simple provision—but one that is impossible in chorus. She succeeds Evelyn for a new party to meet. It says Kay Morrow, junior past worthy third party may be put on the ballot if it received at least 10 per cent of the vote in three or more states at the last election.

However, Oklahoma election officials indicated in an interview they thought a party which could supply proof of meaningful voter support in Oklahoma probably could win a court decision putting it on the ballot.

Wallace indicated in his interview with the News Leader that thought has been given to litigation as a way of getting on the ballot in some states.

"I think a major candidate—made frequent visits to Roodhouse in the past, has been hospitalized in Florida for treatment of a fractured hip.

"I don't think it's constitutional. I think you can win a court case on keeping you off the ballot, if you are on the ballots in all the other states."

NANCY ELMORE HEADS RAINBOW AT GREENFIELD

GREENFIELD—Miss Nancy Elmore, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. William Elmore of Rockbridge, was elected worthy advisor of Greenfield Rainbow Assembly at a meeting held May 8.

Miss Elmore is a junior at Greenfield High School, serves as a class officer and is active in chorus. She succeeds Evelyn for a new party to meet. It says Kay Morrow, junior past worthy third party may be put on the ballot if it received at least 10 per cent of the vote in three or more states at the last election.

However, Oklahoma election officials indicated in an interview they thought a party which could supply proof of meaningful voter support in Oklahoma probably could win a court decision putting it on the ballot.

WHERE THE YOUNG MAN SHOPS FOR HIMSELF

Area Regional Set This Week

Regional Schedule

Monday: 4:00—Pittsfield vs Jerseyville
Tuesday: 3:00—Jacksonville vs Beardstown
Wednesday: 4:00—Championship game
(Winner to Staunton Sectional)

Four area prep baseball squads with a combined record of 43-16 through District play, and sporting four of the top schoolboy pitchers in this part of the state will fight it out for the championship of the Pittsfield Regional this week.

Pittsfield takes on Jerseyville Monday and Jacksonville meets Beardstown Tuesday, with the winners squaring off Wednesday afternoon for the title and a trip to the Staunton Sectional. The Sectional will be held May 22-24 with each winner moving to the state finals in Peoria the following week.

Probably drawing opening game mound assignments for their respective clubs are senior rightie Rich Coble of JHS, senior right-hander Mike Hughes of Jerseyville, junior rightie Dave Shaw of Pittsfield and junior leftie Dale Reller of Beardstown. However, as is often the case in prep baseball tournaments, the eventual winner proves its worth via its second line pitching, barring rain-outs that give the top hurler a chance to work twice.

The host school took a 10-3 record into a doubleheader Saturday with Beardstown. The Saukees of coach Toby Smith lost to their first game opponent during the season, 6-3, and tied Jerseyville 7-7 in a game called because of darkness.

Shaw, Booth Top Hurlers
Smith rates Shaw and junior leftie Marty Booth his top hurlers. Shaw, who plays shortstop when not pitching, is also the team's top hitter with an average of .347. Booth, a leftfielder, owns a .333 rate, third baseman Darrell Whewell .324 average and first baseman Bill Durali a .300 mark with three home runs.

Jerseyville, who nipped Southwestern 1-0 Wednesday for the Calhoun District title, will bring a 14-3-1 record into Monday's contest. Losses have been to Bethalto, Southwestern and Alton, in a twinbill split.

Owens Sets 2 Records For PCC

ELSAH — Weight specialist Maron Owens of E. St. Louis set two conference records and one school mark but Illinois College finished last as a team, in the Prairie College Conference track meet here Saturday.

Owens established a conference record of 46'1" in winning the shot put. Owens set records for both the PCC and IC with a heave of 153'6" win taking first in the discus.

Greenville and Principia tied for first in the meet with 77.2 points apiece. Rose Poly racked up 50. Blackburn 31 and IC 14.

The Blueboy's other four points came on a fourth in the shot put by Bill Templin at 42'11", and a fourth by Dave Croxton in the 440.

IC's mile relay team of Croxton, Steve Tavender, Bruce Prager and Drew Clark set a school record of 3:37.5 but did not place.

Sauke's Shaw Hurls No-Hitter

BEARDSTOWN — Steve Shaw hurled a brilliant no-hitter in the second game to give Pittsfield a twinbill split with Beardstown, in a pair of Midwest Conference games played here Saturday.

Shaw struck out ten batters and walked only two in tossing the gem. His teammates pounded Beardstown ace Dale Reller for eight hits in the 5-0 shutout.

Phillips Lewis hurled Beardstown to a 2-1 decision in the opener, fanning three and walking three. Beardstown got both their runs in the fourth with help from Marty Booth's wildness. Booth hit two batters and walked a pair in the decisive fourth.

First game
Pittsfield 001 000 0-1 5 1
Beardstown 000 200 X-2 4 0

B-Lewis and Peterson
2B-McMakin (P)

Second game
Pittsfield 000 041 0-5 8 2
Beardstown 000 000 0-0 0 1
P-S. Shaw and Roodhouse
B-Reller and Vincent
2B-McCartney

Others over .300 include junior outfielder Bill Breden, senior outfielder-pitcher Lee Elliott and senior outfielder Stan McGarvey.

Hitters over .300 include senior outfielder Gary Drawwe, senior first baseman Dale Robinson and junior catcher Chuck Vincent.

Jacksonville at 9-8 will bring the lowest record into the Regional, but the Crimson has ripped off wins in their last six games, including a pair of one-run, extra-inning decisions in the Winchester District last week.

JHS depends a great deal on the arm of Coble, who pitched the Crimson to the state finals as a sophomore two years ago. Coble, now 4-5, has been slightly off form most of the season, but has been throwing well of late.

Coble is also a strong hitter for Jacksonville, averaging well over .300 and leading the club in home runs. Senior catcher-outfielder Gerald Stewart packs an impressive average close to .400. Outfielder Dave Marshall also packs an impressive average.

Savage Involved In Swap Between Cards And Cubs

ST. LOUIS (AP) — Outfielder Ted Savage, who balked at being sent to the minor leagues, was involved in a four-player trade with the Chicago Cubs, the St. Louis Cardinals announced Saturday.

The Cardinals said they sent Savage to the Cubs and outfielder John Kindl from their Tulsa minor league club to Chicago's Dallas-Ft. Worth farm club.

Chicago sent Don Young, an outfielder, to Tulsa and Jim Procopio, a catcher, to St. Louis' Austin farm club.

Youth Baseball Gets Underway Sunday, Monday

Youth baseball in Jacksonville gets off to a flying start Sunday and Monday, with no less than six games scheduled and waiting on the weather.

The YMCA Pony League has four games slated for Sunday afternoon and evening, with all eight teams of 13-14 year olds scheduled to see action.

Sunday's Pony slate finds Coca Cola playing Olsons Cleaners at 1:00; Wareco facing Fanning Oil at 3:00; Lucky Boy testing Byers Brothers at 5:00 and John Ellis taking on Hertzberg at 7:00.

The Pony League will continue action Tuesday with two games scheduled each evening through Friday at 6:05 and 8:30. All games are played at Nichols Park. The Colt League will begin play May 30.

The Elks Little League opens its season Monday evening with the Indians taking on the Orioles in the American League and the Cubs playing the Braves in the National League. Both games start at 6:15 and will be held on the Little League diamond at South Diamond and Morton.

Both the Pony and Little League will hold short first-ball ceremonies prior to the first game.

SEK SOFTBALL GAMES
The Jacksonville Gold Coast softball team is looking for games for the upcoming season. The team wishes to join a league, or play games any evening through the week except Sunday. Any interested team in the area should call 243-2008 in Jacksonville. The team will play starting immediately.

OH SO CLOSE: Feitshans' Mike Crisp barely tips the string ahead of Jacksonville freshman Dan Deweese in the finals of the 220 yard dash in the District meet in Springfield Saturday. Deweese actually came in third behind another runner to the right in almost a three-way photo finish.

MacMurray Third At Elmhurst Meet

ELMHURST — MacMurray rang up three firsts and five seconds to place a close third in the Elmhurst Relays' class 'B' division team standings here Saturday.

Concordia of River Forest took the 'B' honors with 46 points, followed by Elmhurst with 43½ and MacMurray with 41. Other scores were Lake Forest 26, Grinnell 18, George Williams 14½, Milton 10, Trinity 8, Beloit 6, Maryknoll 4, Iowa Wesleyan 3 and Illinois Tech 1.

Eastern Illinois captured class 'A' honors with 40 points, followed by Loyola with 36, Loras 29, St. Ambrose 22½, Illinois State 22, Wisconsin-Milwaukee 19, Wisconsin-Whitewater 14½, Western Illinois 14, Lewis 10, Wheaton 10, Parsons 10, Illinois-Chicago 7 and Wisconsin-Stevens Point 6.

Mac's mile relay team of Dick Williams, Bill Stothert, Jim McGinnis and Art Hammond captured a blue ribbon with a timing of 3:29.7. Dennis Mueller took the two-mile in 10:10.7, with teammate Jim Samuel second in 10:17.0. The other Highlander first was turned in by Hammond in the 440 intermediate hurdles, with a new school record time of :56.3.

The four other seconds were Jim McGinnis in the mile at 4:27.0, Dale Potter in the discus with a MacMurray record heave of 128'3½", Samuel in the 880 at 2:01.7 and Roger Miersch in the javelin with an effort of 183'.

Hammon also captured a fourth in the high hurdles in :16.6 and the 440 relay squad of Hammond, Gordon Bunge, Fred Robinson and Rich Pincus came in third in :43.9. Robinson recorded a fifth in the 100 in :10.5.

For the day Hammon piled up nine points and Samuel eight to pace the Highlanders.

Jack, Knudson Share Top Spot At New Orleans

NEW ORLEANS, La. (AP) — Big Jack Nicklaus scrambled in with a three-under-par 69 Saturday and tied George Knudson for the third round lead in the $100,000 Greater New Orleans Open Golf Tournament.

Nicklaus missed a five-foot birdie putt on No. 18 which would have given him sole possession of first place.

The Golden Bear had bogey trouble on the front nine and at one point was three strokes behind Knudson.

Knudson, the second round leader, carded a 70 over the wind-swept Lakewood Country Club course, which plays to a par 36-36-72 over 7,020 yards.

Knudson, a 29-year-old Canadian, and Nicklaus had 54-hole scores of 207 - nine under par. A stroke behind them at 208 was Bob Charles, the reed-slim former British Open Champion from New Zealand. The south-paw shot-maker had a third 70.

Another stroke back was Frank Beard, the defending champion at 209. Tommy Bolt stood at 210 after a 68.

Also in contention were Earl Stewart, a 45-year-old club pro from Dallas, Tex., who won the national collegiate title in 1941 while attending Louisiana State and Gardner Dickinson, also a former LSU golf team member.

Stewart and Dickinson both were in at 211.

Stewart blazed in with a 67 while Dickinson, who shared the first-round lead with Beard only to fall back Friday with a 74, had a third round 68.

Callison Single Lifts Phillies Past Reds, 3-2

CINCINNATI (AP) — Johnny Callison's two-out, run-scoring single following an unsuccessful squeeze attempt in the eighth inning gave Philadelphia a 3-2 victory over Cincinnati Saturday.

Callison's single, off reliever Ted Abernathy, drove in Tony Gonzalez after Gary Sutherland was cut down at the plate on Cookie Rojas' hunt.

Sutherland had led off the eighth with a double, moved to third on a ground out and remained there as pinch hitter Bill White walked. Pinch runner Gonzalez reached second on Callison's single to left field.

The Phillies tied the game 2-2 in the seventh inning on a single by Callison and Jack Brandt's double. Don Lock accounted for the Phillies' first run in the sixth with a homer.

The Reds scored their runs in the bottom of the sixth on a pair of walks and a triple by Tony Perez.

JHS 5th, Fortado Sets 2-Mile Mark

Gaudio And Brown Also Gain State

SPRINGFIELD — Jim Fortado established the record in the two-mile run and Abe Brown and Steve Gaudio recorded impressive seconds, as Jacksonville came in fifth as a team in the District track meet, held here Saturday.

Carlinville's strong outfit, a victim of Jacksonville during the season, won the meet with 36 points, followed closely by Feitshans with 34. Lincoln and Lanphier both recorded 25 points. Jacksonville 23 and Griffin 22.

Fortado broke the JHS school record with a timing of 10:12.5 in the grueling two-mile event. This is the first year for the event in the District and state meets.

Brown just missed a first place in the broad jump, leaping 22'3" to finish second to Bill Georges of Griffin who won the event at 22'3¼". Two other jumpers also qualified for the state finals, while Waverly's Max Dunseth just missed at 20'8¾" for fifth spot.

Gaudio took a strong second in the 120 yard high hurdles, won in :15.2 by Carlinville's Mike Weller. Brown came in third in the 440, won in :51.6 by Lee Benich of Gillespie.

The next best finish by a Crimson was freshman Dan Deweese's third in the 220 yard dash. Deweese and the first two finishers were actually in a photo finish at the string.

The JHS varsity relay squad of Deweese, Art McPike, Benny Richardson and Jim Bruner came in fourth and the mile relay outfit of Gary Norton, Rod Simonds and Brown came in fifth in 3:30.1.

New Berlin freshman Dave Peecher won the 100 yard dash in :10.5 to earn a trip with the other winners and runners-ups to the state finals in Champaign next week.

Other area performers to place in the District included Bob Kaaz of New Berlin, third in the mile run; Dave Huber of Pleasant Plains, fifth in the discus; and Bob Lions of New Berlin, fifth in the pole vault.

Mays And Haller Clout Homers As Giants Win, 4-3

SAN FRANCISCO (AP) — Willie Mays and Tom Haller clouted home runs for the second straight game Saturday as the San Francisco Giants downed the Houston Astros 4-3.

Haller's home run opened the bottom of the sixth and broke a tie created by a three-run Houston rally in the top of the inning.

Mays belted his fourth home run of the season and 546th of his career in the first inning, giving the Giants a 1-0 lead. Mays singled and scored one of two unearned runs for a 3-0 lead in the fourth.

MacArthur Cops Local Tennis Meet

Powerful Decatur MacArthur continued its domination of the District tennis tournament Saturday, defeating nine other schools for their fifth straight title and eighth in the past ten years, on the MacMurray courts.

MacArthur piled up 12 points, followed by Moweaqua and Decatur High with eight, Eisenhower and Springfield with seven, Jacksonville with five, Quincy Christian Brothers and Decatur Lakeview with two. Taylorville did not score a point.

Freshman John Nolan of Eisenhower captured the singles crown with a 6-2, 6-0 victory over Paul Rauh of Springfield in the title match. Rich Elbl and Rick Wack of Eisenhower claimed the doubles crown, notching a 6-2, 6-0 victory over Ed Vincent and Jack Hammond of Decatur.

Number one singles player Dick Herrin earned two of JHS's five points with a 6-1, 6-0 victory over Dave Clark of Christian Brothers in the first round. Herrin then lost 8-6, 6-4 to Bob Hawess of Decatur in the second round.

Jacksonville's other singles player Chip Stuphen lost 7-5, 6-1 to Terry Johnston of Quincy in the opening match.

JHS's other three points came when Willy Coultas and Bob Bellatti teamed up for a 6-2, 6-2 triumph over Jim Schwandt and Gunner Ighen of Eisenhower. The duo then fell 6-2, 6-1 to Vincent and Hammond.
Mark Herrin and Bill Sullivan lost their first doubles match 6-1, 7-5 to Gary Bilyeu and John Novata of Moweaqua.

'Slush Fund Ghost' May Dominate Meet

CHICAGO (AP) — The ghost of the Illinois slush fund scandal figures to hover over the annual spring meeting of Big Ten athletic leaders at Iowa City, Iowa, next week.

Since the conference faculty representatives and athletic directors held their last huddle in December, Illinois has been rocked with penalties by both the Big Ten and NCAA for its illegal $21,000 fund.

Illinois partisans sharply criticized the harshness of sanctions which forced resignation of three coaches, made five athletes permanently ineligible, bars Illinois football and basketball teams two years from post-season events and deprives the school from NCAA TV revenue in 1968 and 1969.

In the aftermath of Big Ten action against Illinois, Commissioner Bill Reed told an Illinois legislative committee investigating "relations" between the school and the Big Ten that the conference was reviewing its code on financial aid to athletes.

Reed was referring to several committees, particularly groups studying the Big Ten's recruiting regulation and generally re-appraising all conference rules, regulations and agreements, which will make reports at Iowa City.

The business session, preceding the 67th Big Ten outdoor track meet at the University of Iowa, includes a four-day session of athletic directors starting Tuesday and a three-day

Downstate Prep Notes

By JOHN CAMPBELL

William Hellyer has resigned as coach at Barry High after three years to take the head basketball coaching job at Lewistown High. He is a graduate of Collinsville High and served under veteran mentor Vergil Fletcher at Collinsville for four years. Coach Hellyer is replacing Ernest Hoff, former coach at Ashland and Princeville.

Johnston City, Glenbard East and Canton are three new teams entered in the Fourth Annual Carbonate High Holiday tourney next December, replacing Jacksonville, Olney and Wood River. Jacksonville is entered in the Centralia tourney and Quincy has dropped out of that meet to enter the Pekin tourney.

Centennial is the new high school in Champaign and will appear on the Jacksonville chart next season in football and basketball as a new member of the Central conference. Bob Avery is the new basketball coach. He is a former assistant coach at Champaign High and served at Arcola High, taking them to the State finals a few years ago.

Gene Haile is the new athletic director and head football coach at Carmi, replacing former Pleasant Hill mentor Bob Decker. Haile formerly coached at McLeansboro and Mt. Vernon high schools. Bob Murray is the new basketball coach at Mt. Vernon and served the past five years at Tuscola.

Gary Little, former star athlete at Jacksonville High, has been named head football coach at Valley High (Fairview-London Mills). He is head baseball coach at Valley and served as assistant football coach at the Fulton County High School.

LaSalle-Peru, Chicago (DuSable) and Pekin are the three new teams entered in the Quincy four-team tourney next season replacing Tuscola, Wood River and Schlarman (Danville).

Jack Coil has resigned as coach of all sports at Rushville High after serving two years. He is a former Beardstown High athlete and Culver-Stockett College graduate. Bob Cooper has resigned as football coach at Abingdon High school and Don Gideon has resigned as basketball coach at Greenville High. His fine team captured the Havana Regional title in March and advanced to the Macomb sectional, losing to powerful Galesburg.

Dick Campbell has resigned as coach at York (Elmhurst) to join the University of Illinois as assistant basketball coach. He took York to the state finals at Champaign, losing to champion Pekin. Ernest Kivisto has resigned after 16 years at East Moline High to take the head basketball coaching job at East Aurora High.

Pontiac is the new team on the Canton basketball chart for next season and Monmouth is new on the football schedule for the Little Giants. Hannibal, Mo., and Canton will complete in the Central (Camp Point) four-team tourney next season. Paul Shebby has been named head football coach at Danville High and he served at Schlarman High of Danville last year.

Evanson won the State track title the last two years but will find strong opposition this month from Bloom (Chicago Heights). Several records should be broken at Champaign in the State meet. Olney, Edwardsville and Evanson have outstanding high jumpers this year.

faculty representative huddle Thursday through Saturday.

Only "initial" reports are expected by the code-studying committees, indicating that no action inspired by the Illinois case could develop before next December's conference meeting.

However, heat reportedly has been put on the Big Ten's exclusion of the $15 monthly incidental money permitted athletes by the NCAA.

Much of Illinois' wrong-doing involved small payments to athletes which might have been met under the NCAA's $15 monthly allowance or by properly channeled loans.

The meetings will mark the first formal Conference appearance of new Illinois athletic director, Gene Vance, who succeeded Doug Mills, who resigned for personal reasons Nov. 23, about a month before the slush fund scandal was disclosed by Illinois president David D. Henry.

The Illinois faculty representative is Leslie A. Bryan, who joined Dr. Henry in a vain appeal for Big Ten clemency in the case.

The Big Ten track meet on Iowa's new asphalt - rubber oval Friday and Saturday could be a wide open affair with Michigan State's title defense jeopardized by at least four rivals.

Indiana, Iowa, Michigan and Minnesota have had good spring performances, even rating ahead of indoor champion Wisconsin.

Bowling Tourney Nearing Finish At Beardstown

BEARDSTOWN — One of the biggest attractions of the year is nearing an exciting finish at the Beardstown Bowl where teams from all parts of the state have been competing since February.

W. L. McGinnis, who leases his bowling alley to the Knights of Columbus for this annual event, believes 10,000 people are attracted during the months of keen rivalry for cash prizes and trophies.

W. H. Perkins has been tournament manager for the past several years and begins working on the invitation list far before the February starting date rolls around.

The result is that every weekend, particularly on Sunday, the keelers—both male and female—crowd into Beardstown with their families and equipment, filling parking places on the streets with their vehicles, patronizing local restaurants and pubs and contributing to the general success of the tourney.

Those who sponsor the event believe, from scanning the long lists of entries, that the K.C. tournament as an attraction equals the time-honored Beardstown tree fish fry, of hallowed memory.

Mr. Perkins says that the tournament is now in its 25th year with more than 500 teams entered in addition to 200 entries in doubles and 350 entries in singles events. Team members generally are accompanied here by their families, boosting attendance.

Springfield, Quincy, Peoria and Decatur send the most teams but there are also entries from Iowa and Missouri.

Leaders in the men's division are Princeville Tap from Princeville with 3203 pins and Beardstown Auto Body with 3136. The Jamison pickups of Beardstown are ahead of the pack in the women's division with 3088 followed by the Beardstown Bowl team with 3028.

Bob Miller and Bob Young of Virginia top the couples on the doubles event with 1297, followed by Wyatt and Beckman of Springfield who have 1288.

Janet Jamison of Beardstown heads the singles battlers with 713 and Dunbar of Peoria Heights is in second place with 694 pins.

ARLINGTON SEASON OPENS ON MONDAY

CHICAGO (AP) — Arlington Park opens 103 days of major thoroughbred horse racing in the Chicago area Monday with more than $6,200,000 in purses and stakes being distributed.

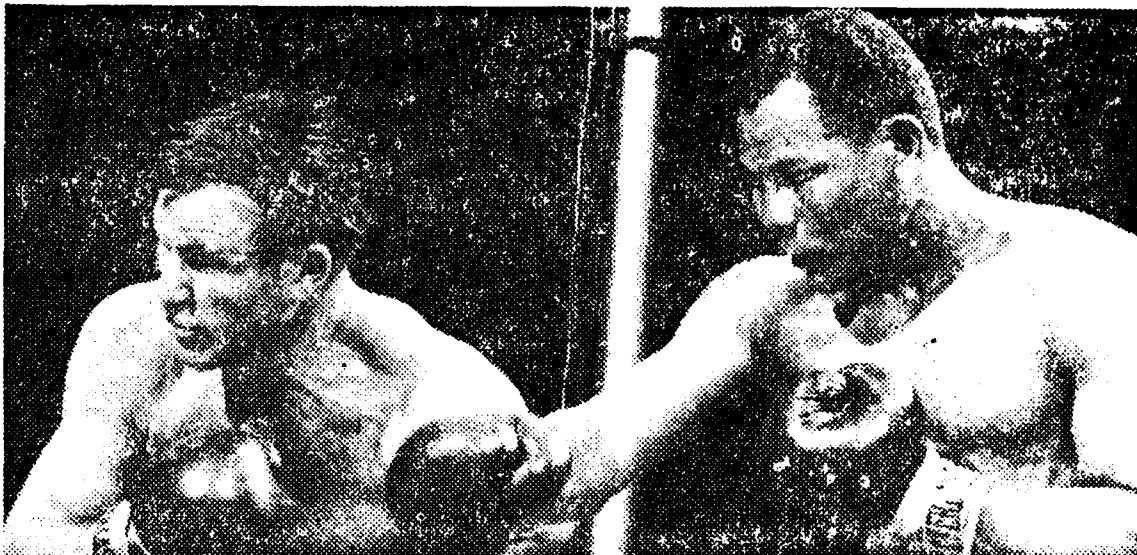

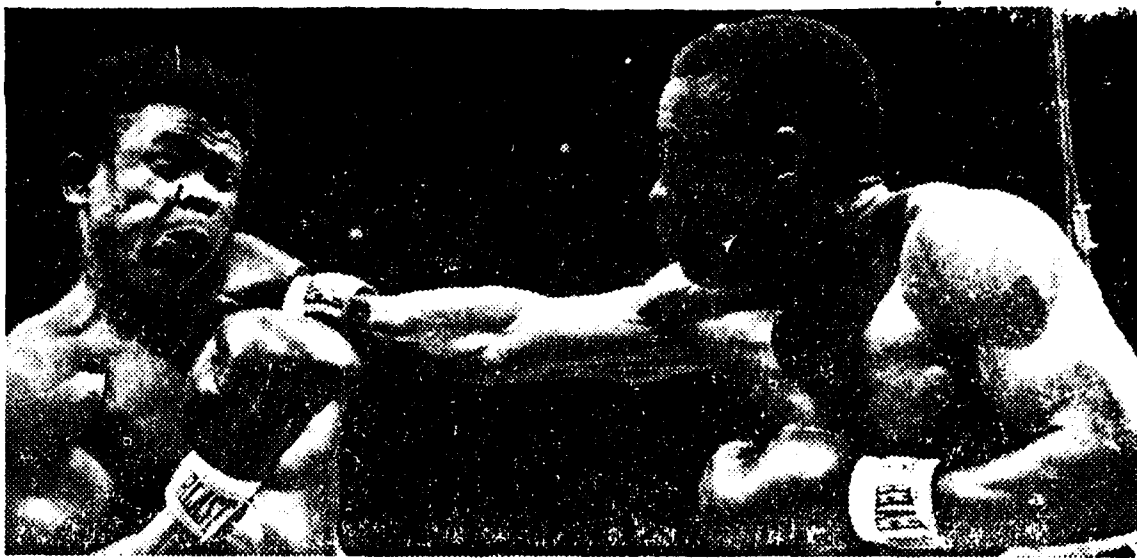

All of the track's traditional events are slated. They include the estimated $360,000 Arlington-Washington Futurity; the $150,000 Lassie; $100,000 Classic; $100,000 American Derby; $100,000 Washington Park Handicap and the $100,000 Benjamin F. Lindheimer Handicap.

Opening the coordinated meeting is the Balmoral Jockey Club session carrying 11 stakes worth $305,000 in added money. Monday's inaugural is the $20,000 added Clang Handicap at 5 1/2 furlongs over the grass.

The Arlington Park plant has a five-story clubhouse addition. Throughout the clubhouse and grandstands are 45 television sets linked on a closed circuit system showing each race.

RETURN MATCH for the lightweight championship will be held in Madison Square Garden May 16 between champion Dick Tiger, above, and challenger Jose Torres. Tiger won the championship from Torres last December. Both show good right hands in these photos. Tiger connects against Emile Griffith (in a middleweight bout). victim is Wayne Thornton.

Six-Run Ninth Carries Tigers To 7th Straight

BOSTON (AP) — Bill Freehan's three-run homer off John Wyatt powered a six-run ninth inning that sent the Detroit Tigers to their seventh straight victory, a 10-8 decision over Boston Saturday.

Wyatt, who hadn't allowed an earned run in nine previous relief appearances, got the Red Sox out of a jam in the seventh when the Tigers closed to within 5-4. But the ninth was a different story.

Wyatt started the inning by hitting Willie Horton with a pitch. Mickey Stanley ran for Horton and raced to third as Jim Northrup doubled. Freehan then lofted his sixth homer into the right-center field bullpen, putting Detroit ahead 7-5.

One out later, Dick Tracewski doubled and trotted home on a pinch-hit homer by pitcher Earl Wilson. Wyatt got the second out but then hit Dick McAuliffe, who scored on Al Kaline's double.

The Red Sox tried a rally of their own in the bottom of the ninth, but Dave Wickersham ended the threat after Tony Conigliaro tripled across two runs and scored on Rico Petrocelli's double.

Petty Survives Disaster Brush To Claim Rebel

DARLINGTON, S. C. (AP) — Lanky Richard Petty survived an early brush with disaster Saturday and went on to run away from the field and win the Rebel 400 stock car race.

The 29-year-old Plymouth star led all but 25 laps of the 291-lap classic and in doing so set a record of 55 victories in NASCAR's Grand National racing division.

Second by a full lap was David Pearson, who took over retired Fred Lorenzen's Ford a week ago.

Petty and Pearson started the race in the front row, but Pearson was involved in an early collision that slowed him down. The average speed was 125.671 miles per hour, far off Petty's old mark for the race—131.580 last year.

Petty almost took himself out of the contest when he brushed the first turn guard rail on the 88th lap over the tough 1 1/2-mile Darlington International Raceway.

But the 214-pound, black-haired ace handled the race car nicely, made a brief pit stop to repair damage and promptly regained the lead on lap 101, never to be overtaken.

Young Petty had been tied with his father, retired Lee Petty, as the South's most prolific big race winner. The father watched his son win his second Rebel 400 in a row. The son's easy victory brought him about $13,840 and ran his season's money take to $33,000.

LOUISVILLE, Ky. — (NEA)—To win the Derby and Preakness, Frank Whiteley was on the backside of Churchill Downs, playing it cool the morning before the Kentucky Derby. Whiteley is the trainer of Damascus, which went into the annual May rites the favorite among all the three-year-old horses in the country, but popped out by finishing third.

In the racing secretary's office under the main grandstand, meanwhile, Allan W. (Cap) Lavin was accepting entries for the 93rd running of the Derby.

Hours set for this ritual were 7 a.m. to 9:30 a.m. At 9:31, Win Only into the Californian, when entries officially were closed, Cap Lavin turned to Charley Gormley, one of his aides, and said, "You better go out and find Frank."

The deadline was 9 a.m. Cotton was asked to tape a television show that morning. He was so nervous about appearing before the cameras he forgot all about getting to the racing secretary's office.

Three minutes before nine, while Cotton was sweating out the red light on the television camera, a voice boomed out over the loudspeaker system at Hollywood Park:

"Cotton, Cotton, You forgot to enter the horse."

Cotton wasn't sure which caused him more embarrassment — the near slip-up or everybody in the park hearing about it.

Damascus

It seems there had been a slight oversight. Damascus had not been entered in the Kentucky Derby.

Charley hardly got out the door when the phone rang. Cap picked up the receiver.

"This is Frank," the voice on the other end began.

"You got a horse," Lavin asked, "for the seventh race on Saturday?"

"Yup."

"Guess you know the purse—$125,000 added."

"Huh, Huh."

"By the way, Frank," Cap Lavin asked, "What's the name of your horse?"

"Damascus," answered Whiteley.

"Damascus? How do you spell that?"

Of course, the two old hard-boots, as they call them around the track, were pulling each other's legs. Whiteley had no intention of overlooking the entry of Damascus. He simply had thought the deadline was 10 o'clock and because he's a shy man who doesn't like crowds, he wanted to stay away from the racing secretary's office.

And Lavin wasn't going to close his books without getting the horse in.

That's an informal courtesy of racing you sometimes find missing in other sports. In golf, for instance, if a man's not at the first tee at the appointed time, it's "Forget it, baby — get in your car and go on to the next tournament."

Tommy Jacobs once shut off the alarm at the Los Angeles Open, slept 15 minutes past his starting time and was out of luck—and the money he might have won in the LA Open.

When entries were being filed for the Flamingo at Hialeah three years ago, nobody could find Horatio Luro, the trainer of Northern Dancer. A call to his home finally roused him, out of bed. Northern Dancer came home the winner (and went on to

Royal Malabar Cops Ill. Derby

CHICAGO (AP) — Elcam Stable's Royal Malabar came from far back to win the 12th running of the $68,950 Illinois Derby by 1 1/2 lengths on the final day of the Sportsman's Park meeting Saturday.

Pointmen edged Gentleman James for second money in the 1 1/2 mile race for 3-year-olds witnessed by a crowd of 25,506.

Two of the 12 horses stumbled and tossed their riders on the first turn. One of them was the 5-2 favorite, Son Jack ridden by Arthur Anderson. The other was Neboc's Bullet, steered by Richard Winant. The jockeys were taken to Mercy Hospital.

Romatan set all the pace but faltered in the stretch and finished fourth. Royal Malabar, ridden by Calvin Stone, began his challenge on the outside going into the far turn. He took the lead from Romatan in mid-stretch and won going away.

Gentleman James, carrying top weight of 126 pounds, also came from far out of it.

The winner, weighted at 119, was timed in 1:51 1/5. He earned $37,922 for his first stakes victory.

Royal Malabar paid $14, $8.60 and $4.20. Pointmenow paid $8, $4.80 and $2.20. Gentleman James returned $3.

ROCKHURST ACE SIGNS

INDIANAPOLIS, Ind. (AP) — Ed McKee, a 6-foot-7 forward with a 17.9 scoring average last season at Rockhurst College in Kansas City, has been signed by the Indiana team of the new American Basketball Association.

Wade Blasingame, who won 16 games in 1965, won only three for the Atlanta Braves last season and is hoping to make a comeback.

Pirates Edge Atlanta, 6-5, In 10th Inning

PITTSBURGH (AP) — The Pittsburgh Pirates kept alive in the ninth inning by Joe Torre's third-strike passed ball, edged Atlanta 6-5 Saturday on a run-scoring double by Donn Clendenon in the 10th.

Roberto Clemente led off the 10th with a single off Braves' reliever Phil Niekro and moved to second on a ground out before racing home on Clendenon's double off the left-center field wall.

Torre's passed ball on a third strike to pinch hitter George Spriggs helped the Pirates score an unearned run in the ninth and tie the score 5-5. Spriggs reached first on the misplay, then stole second and scored on Manny Mota's two-out single.

Felipe Alou's fifth straight hit — a one-out homer in the top of the ninth — had given the Braves a 5-4 edge.

The Pirates tied the score 4-4 in the eighth when Gene Alley, who had doubled, scored as Niekro threw wild to first after fielding Clendenon's infield hit. Atlanta 020 020 001 0-5 9-2 Pittsburgh 020 000 111 1-6 9-0

Lemaster, Niekro (8) and Torre; Pizarro, Mikkelsen (5), McBean (8), Face (10) and Pagliaroni, May (10). W-Face, 2-0. L-Niekro, 0-2.

Home runs - Atlanta, Torre (8), F. Alou (4). Pittsburgh, Mazeroski (2), Wills (1).

Johnson Sparks Illinois Blues To 35-14 Victory

CHAMPAIGN, Ill. (AP) — The University of Illinois, lacking its most potent pass combination, concluded spring football drills Saturday with fullback Rich Johnson leading the Blues to a 35-14 victory over the Whites.

The varsity Blues were missing regular quarterback Bob Naponic, benched with an injured ankle, and his ace receiver, split end John Wright, now participating in track.

Johnson rushed 180 yards in 22 carries, scoring one of the Blues' five touchdowns on an 18-yard sweep.

Dean Volkman, who quarterbacked the Blues the first half and the Whites the second half, figured in two touchdowns for the Blues and one for the Whites.

For the Blues, Volkman scored on a 13-yard keeper and hurled a nine-yard scoring pass to halfback Bill Huston. For the White Volkman hurled a 16-yard pass to frosh halfback Tim Beamer.

Freshman quarterback Bob Bess, in the second half, scored on a 12-yard keeper and his brother, Ron at halfback, sped eight for the fifth Blue touchdown.

Freshman kicking specialist, 5-foot-7, 114-pound Dan McKisic place-kicked all seven extra points for both teams.

New Illinois coach Jim Valek said he was generally satisfied with the game and whole spring practice.

"I felt we came quite close to determining who are our top 22 players," said Valek, who replaced Pete Elliott, forced to resign after the Illinois slush fund scandal.

Andretti Hikes Marks At Indy

INDIANAPOLIS, Ind. (AP) — Mario Andretti let two other drivers set Indianapolis Motor Speedway records Saturday and then blasted them out of their hands with a tremendous 10-mile run at 168.982.

Andretti also hiked the one-lap, 2 1/2-mile record for the 500-mile race time trials to 169.779.

The record for the trials was smashed by three drivers, Joe Leonard, San Jose, Calif., Andretti and international racer Dan Gurney of Santa Ana, Calif.

Andretti a year ago set the qualification marks of 166.223 for one lap and 165.899 for the four laps.

Leonard, former motorcycle racing champion, first raised the 10-mile mark to 166.088 in a Coyote Ford, but he was able only to match Andretti's one-lap record. Then Gurney went out in one of his own Eagle-Fords, set consecutive one-lap records of 167.817 and 167.942, with a ten-mile mark of 167.224.

While Gurney was still sitting in the pits having his picture taken, the Italian-born Andretti, from Nazareth, Pa., roared onto the track in his Brawner-Ford and turned his first lap at 169.205. He rubbed out that mark on his third lap at 169.779. His new 10-mile record was 168.982.

Possibly a record crowd for the speedways time trials watched the tremendous speeds as a series of mishaps during the day.

Upwards of 200,000 fans watched Mario Andretti's year-old record stand up in the early eliminations for the 51st 500-mile race May 30. Andretti, who set the standard at 165.899 m.p.h. last year, was far down the line in the program.

The qualifying order was drawn by lot.

The start of the trials was delayed more than an hour and a half by overnight rain and a series of accidents. Bobby Johns, Miami, Fla., and Ebb Rose, Houston, Tex., hit the retaining wall in practice, but neither was hurt. Both cars appeared repairable.

The huge crowd turned out despite the chilly, damp overcast day which, although uncomfortable for fans, was ideal for racing engines.

Lloyd Ruby, Wichita Falls, Tex., turned in the fastest early qualifying time at 165.229 in a MongOOSE Offenhauser.

Bub Hurt of Potomac, Md., ran his Gerhardt turbocharged Offenhauser in 161.261.

Bobby Unser, Albuquerque, N.M., did 164.752 in an Eagle-Ford.

Wally Dellenbach, New Brunswick, N.J., put his Huffaker supercharged Offenhauser through the 10-mile qualifying run at 163.540.

Ronnie Duman of Indianapolis was the first driver out to the four-lap trial and posted a 162.903.

Johnny Rutherford, Fort Worth, Tex., did 162.859 in an Eagle Ford.

George Snider of Fresno, Calif., was next in a MongOOSE-Ford, posting a 164.256.

A Lola-Ford with Al Unser of Albuquerque, N.M., driving averaged 164.594.

Ralph Ligouri, 40, Tampa, Fla., cracked up in his qualifying try but walked away unhurt. Ligouri lost control of his Watson-Ford in the first turn and hit the wall, knocking off a wheel. The car stopped and Ligouri jumped out.

He's Free, Like In Jet Bird

NEW YORK — (NEA) — The professional football season has begun for John Free of the New York Jets.

And just who is John Free? He is not one of those anonymous reserve linemen, nor is he a member of the suicide or taxi squads. John Free is the one man who literally makes the Jets go and keeps them moving.

Joe Namath's personal physician? George Sauer Jr.'s eye doctor? Both wrong. John Free is the traveling secretary-business manager of the Jets.

He has more ulcers than a Weeb Ewbank, bigger problems than Sherman Plunkett and more dates than Namath.

Unlike Namath, he can't break dates. If he does, someone like 320-pound Plunkett might break him. Professional football players like things to run very smoothly.

That is why John Free works so hard during April and May. "As soon as the league schedule comes out," he said, "I start making reservations with the airlines, the hotels and the bus lines."

"In about 30 or 40 days I'll have the whole travel schedule for the new season prepared."

Like all other professional football teams, the Jets find travel costs very high.

For example, the Jets took 11 charter flights in 1966. The cost was $91,000. Hotel bills—meals included—averaged $2,500 per day. Then there are added costs for renting buses, practice fields, etc.

It is also Free's duty to find amusements to occupy the players' free time on the longer road trips.

During a west coast stay a few years ago, John and Ewbank felt it would be a good idea to take the team to the Sonoma health baths after a hard game against the Oakland Raiders.

On the way back, one of the players spotted a sign at a winery which advertised tours and free samples. The buses made a quick turn and headed for the winery.

As the players were taking the tour, they were escorted into a display room where men actually crushed the grapes with their feet, the same way it was done in the old days.

Everyone watched with fascination. Then guard Pete Perreault turned to Plunkett, who wears a size 18 shoe, and said, "Sherm, with those feet and that weight, you'd be all-pro here."

Plunkett, the good-natured all-league offensive tackle, is the butt of most of the Jets' jokes. His dislike of flying makes him a natural.

Last year, on a rough flight from Oakland to San Diego, fog had closed down San Diego airport and the Jets were forced to make an abrupt landing at Miramar Naval Air Station, south of San Diego. Because of the fog (you could not see the wings let alone the runway), it was a tense landing and when the plane finally touched down, Free shouted to Plunkett, "Sherm, you know when we land at a military installation like this, you have to go down a rope ladder. There are no ramps."

Plunkett wiped the sweat from his forehead and calmly replied: "That's O.K. If coach Ewbank (5-5, weight secret) can make it down that rope, so can I."

Free is not without his little superstitions. He uses the same bag on every trip and never removes the baggage tag.

One day a baggage attendant at New York's Kennedy Airport started to remove the tags. John spotted him, made a flying tackle, grabbed his suitcase and left the attendant on his bottom, scratching his head.

"The tag from every trip we've taken is on there," he said. "As far as I'm concerned, every 'touchdown' (safe landing) is a win."

CALL NEWS CONFERENCE

DENVER, Colo. (AP) — Owners of the Denver franchise in the new American Basketball Association said Friday a news conference will be held here before taking the head news post at Drake in 1963.

His top seasons at Drake were 1937 and 1944, when his teams posted 8-2 and 7-2 marks. His overall record as Bulldog coach was 67-58-8. He retired in 1946 and entered the investment business in Urbana.

Services will be held Sunday in Oakton.

Knickerbockers player and coach, has said the owners named him general manager, but he had not signed a contract.

'Slush Fund Ghost' May Dominate Meet

CHICAGO (AP) — The ghost of the Illinois slush fund scandal figures to hover over the annual spring meeting of Big Ten athletic leaders at Iowa City, Iowa, next week.

Since the conference faculty representatives and athletic directors held their last huddle in December, Illinois has been rocked with penalties by both the Big Ten and NCAA for its illegal $21,000 fund.

Illinois partisans sharply criticized the harshness of sanctions which forced resignation of three coaches, made five athletes permanently ineligible, bars Illinois football and basketball teams two years from post-season events and deprives the school from NCAA TV revenue in 1968 and 1969.

In the aftermath of Big Ten action against Illinois, Commissioner Bill Reed told an Illinois legislative committee investigating "relations" between the school and the Big Ten that the conference was reviewing its code on financial aid to athletes.

Reed was referring to several committees, particularly groups studying the Big Ten's recruiting regulation and generally re-appraising all conference rules, regulations and agreements, who will make reports at Iowa City.

The business session, preceding the 67th Big Ten outdoor track meet at the University of Iowa, includes a four-day session of athletic directors starting Tuesday and a three-day faculty representative huddle Thursday through Saturday.

Only "initial" reports are expected by the code-studying committees, indicating that no action inspired by the Illinois case could develop before next December's conference meeting.

However, heat reportedly has been put on the Big Ten's exclusion of the $15 monthly incidental money permitted athletes by the NCAA.

Much of Illinois' wrong-doing involved small payments to athletes which might have been met under the NCAA's $15 monthly allowance or by properly channeled loans.

The meetings will mark the first formal Conference appearance of new Illinois athletic director, Gene Vance. Vance succeeded Doug Mills, who resigned for personal reasons Nov. 23, about a month before the slush fund scandal was disclosed by Illinois president David D. Henry.

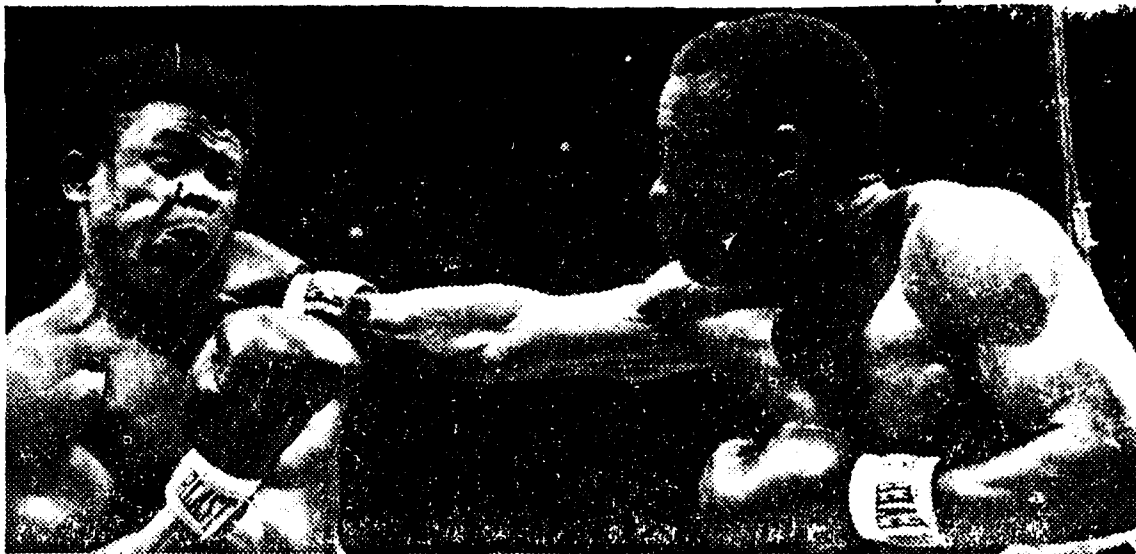

The Illinois faculty representative is Leslie A. Bryan, who joined Dr. Henry in a vain appeal for Big Ten clemency in the case.

The Big Ten track meet on Iowa's new asphalt rubber oval Friday and Saturday could be a wide open affair with Michigan State's title defense jeopardized by at least four rivals.

Indiana, Iowa, Michigan and Minnesota have had good spring performances, even rating ahead of indoor champion Wisconsin.

RETURN MATCH for the lightweight championship will be held in Madison Square Garden May 16 between champion Dick Tiger, above, and challenger Jose Torres. Tiger won the championship from Torres last December. Both show good right hands in these photos. Tiger connects against Emile Griffith (in a middleweight bout), victim is Wayne Thornton.

Six-Run Ninth Carries Tigers To 7th Straight

BOSTON (AP) — Bill Freehan's three-run homer off John Wyatt powered a six-run ninth inning that sent the Detroit Tigers to their seventh straight victory, a 10-8 decision over Boston Saturday.

Wyatt, who hadn't allowed an earned run in nine previous relief appearances, got the Red Sox out of a jam in the seventh when the Tigers closed to within 5-4. But the ninth was a different story.

Wyatt started the inning by hitting Willie Horton with a pitch. Mickey Stanley ran for Horton and raced to third as Jim Northrup doubled. Freehan then lofted his sixth homer into the right-center field bullpen, putting Detroit ahead 7-5.

One out later, Dick Tracewski doubled and trotted home on a pinch-hit homer by pitcher Earl Wilson. Wyatt got the second out but then hit Dick McAuliffe, who scored on Al Kaline's double.

The Red Sox tried a rally of their own in the bottom of the ninth, but Dave Wickersham ended the threat after Tony Conigliaro tripled across two runs and scored on Rico Petrocelli's double.

Those who sponsor the event believe, from scanning the long lists of entries, that the K.C. tournament as an attraction equals the time-honored Beards-town tree fish fry, of hallowed memory.

Mr. Perkins says that the tournament is now in its 25th year with more than 500 teams entered in addition to 200 entries in doubles and 350 entries in singles events. Team members generally are accompanied here by their families, boosting attendance.

Springfield, Quincy, Peoria and Decatur send the most teams but there are also entries from Iowa and Missouri.

Leaders in the men's division are Princeton Tap from Princeton with 3203 pins and Beards-town Auto Body with 3136. The Jamison pickups of Beards-town are ahead of the pack in the women's division with 3088 followed by the Beards-town Bowl team with 3028.

Bob Miller and Bob Young of Virginia top the couples on the doubles event with 1297, followed by Wyatt and Beckman of Springfield who have 1288.

Janet Jamison of Beards-town heads the singles battlers with 713 and Dumbor of Peoria Heights is in second place with 694 pins.

Dick Campbell has resigned as coach at York (Elmhurst) to join the University of Illinois as assistant basketball coach. He took York to the state finals at Champaign, losing to champion Perkin. Ernest Kivisto has resigned after 16 years at East Moline High to take the head basketball coaching job at East Aurora High.

Pontiac is the new team on the Canton basketball chart for next season and Monmouth is new on the football schedule for the Little Giants. Hannibal, Mo., and Canton will compete in the Central (Camp Point) four-team tournament next season. Paul Shebby has been named head football coach at Danville High and he served at Schlarman High of Danville last year.

Evanson won the State track title last two years but will find strong opposition this month from Bloom (Chicago Heights). Several records should be broken at Champaign in the State meet. Olney, Edwardsville and Evanson have outstanding high jumpers this year.

Downstate Prep Notes

By JOHN CAMPBELL. William Hellyer has resigned as coach at Barry High after three years to take the head basketball coaching job at Lewistown High. He is a graduate of Collinsville High and served under veteran mentor Vergil Fletcher at Collinsville for four years. Coach Hellyer is replacing Ernest Hoff, former coach at Ashland and Princeton.

Johnston City, Glenbard East and Canton are three new teams entered in the Fourth Annual Carbondale High Holiday tourney next December, replacing Jacksonville, Olney and Wood River. Jacksonville is entered in the Centralia tourney and Quincy has dropped out of that meet to enter the Pekin tourney.

Centennial is the new high school in Champaign and will appear on the Jacksonville chart next season in football and basketball as a new member of the Central conference. Bob Avery is the new basketball coach. He is a former assistant coach at Champaign High and served at Arcola High, taking them to the State finals a few years ago.

Gene Haile is the new athletic director and head football coach at Carmi, replacing former Pleasant Hill mentor Bob Decker. Haile formerly coached at McLeansboro and Mt. Vernon high schools. Bob Murray is the new basketball coach at Mt. Vernon and he served the past five years at Tuscola.

Gary Little, former star athlete at Jacksonville High, has been named head football coach at Valley High (Fairview-London Mills). He is head baseball coach at Valley and served as assistant football coach at the Fulton County High School.

LaSalle-Peru, Chicago (Dusable) and Pekin are the three new teams entered in the Quincy four-team tourney next season replacing Tuscola, Wood River and Schlarman (Danville).

Jack Coil has resigned as coach of all sports at Rushville High after serving two years. He is a former Beards-town College graduate. Bob Cooper has resigned as football coach at Abingdon High school and Don Gideon has resigned as basketball coach at Greenville High.

His fine team captured the Havana Regional title in March and advanced to the Macomb sectional, losing to powerful Galesburg.

Pirates Edge Atlanta, 6-5, In 10th Inning

PITTSBURGH (AP) — The Pittsburgh Pirates, kept alive in the ninth inning by Joe Torre's third-strike passed ball, edged Atlanta 6-5 Saturday on a run-scoring double by Donn Clendenon in the 10th.

Roberto Clemente led off the 10th with a single off Braves' reliever Phil Niekro and moved to second on a ground out before racing home on Clendenon's double off the left-center field wall.

Torre's passed ball on a third strike to pinch hitter George Spriggs helped the Pirates score an unearned run in the ninth and tie the score 5-5. Spriggs reached first on the misplay, then stole second and scored on Manny Mota's two-out single.

Felipe Alou's fifth straight hit — a one-out homer in the top of the ninth — had given the Braves a 5-4 edge.

The Pirates tied the score 4-4 in the eighth when Gene Alley, who had doubled, scored as Niekro threw wild to first after fielding Clendenon's infield hit.

Johnson Sparks Illinois Blues To 35-14 Victory

CHAMPAIGN, Ill. (AP) — The University of Illinois, lacking its most potent pass combination, concluded spring football drills Saturday with fullback Rich Johnson leading the Blues to a 35-14 victory over the Whites.

The varsity Blues were missing regular quarterback Bob Naponic, benched with an injured ankle, and his ace receiver, split end John Wright, now participating in track.

Johnson rushed 180 yards in 22 carries, scoring one of the Blues' five touchdowns on an 18-yard sweep.

Dean Volkman, who quarterbacked the Blues the first half and the Whites the second half, figured in two touchdowns for the Blues and one for the Whites.

For the Blues, Volkman scored on a 13-yard keeper and hurled a nine-yard scoring pass to halfback Bill Huston. For the Whites, Volkman hurled a 16-yard pass to frosh halfback Tim Beamer.

Freshman quarterback Bob Bess, in the second half, scored on a 12-yard keeper and his brother, Ron at halfback, sped eight for the fifth Blue touchdown.

Freshman kicking specialist, 5-foot-7, 114-pound Dan McKisic place-kicked all seven extra points for both teams.

New Illinois coach Jim Valek said he was generally satisfied with the game and whole spring practice.

"I felt we came quite close to determining who are our top 22 players," said Valek, who replaced Pete Elliott, forced to resign after the Illinois slush fund scandal.

COMPLETE TRAINING. Light-weight champion Dick Tiger of Nigeria and challenger Jose Torres of New York completed their training Friday for next Tuesday night's title bout in Madison Square Garden.

LOUISVILLE, Ky. — (NEA) — To win the Derby and Preakness, Frank Whately was on the backside of Churchill Downs, playing it cool the morning before the Kentucky Derby. Whately is the trainer of Damascus, which went into the annual May rites the favorite among all the three-year-olds horses in the country, but popped out by finishing third.

In the racing secretary's office under the main grandstand, meanwhile, Allan W. (Cap) Lavin was accepting entries for the 93rd running of the Derby. Hours set for this ritual were 7 a.m. to 9:30 a.m. At 9:31, Win Only into the Californian, when entries officially were $100,000 stakes race, as the favored, Colton, like Whately, was a shy guy who tried to avoid prapace hoopla. His first choice for the race, Crozier, had come up lame so owner Fred Hopper paid $6,000 in supplementary fees to get Win Only into the race.

The deadline was 9 a.m. Colton was asked to tape a television show that morning. He was so nervous about appearing before the cameras he forgot all about getting to the racing secretary's office.

Three minutes before nine, while Colton was sweating out the red light on the television camera, a voice boomed out over the loudspeaker system at Hollywood Park:

"Colton, Colton. You forgot to enter the horse."

Colton wasn't sure which caused him more embarrassment — the near slip-up or everybody in the park hearing about it.

It seems there had been a slight oversight. Damascus had not been entered in the Kentucky Derby.

Charley hardly got out the door when the phone rang. Cap picked up the receiver.

"This is Frank," the voice on the other end began.

"You got a horse," Lavin asked, "for the seventh race on Saturday?"

"Yup."

"Guess you know the purse—$125,000 added."

"Huh. Huh."

"By the way, Frank," Cap Lavin asked, "What's the name of your horse?"

"Damascus," answered Whately.

"Damascus? How do you spell that?"

Of course, the two old handbooks, as they call them around the track, were pulling each other's legs. Whately had no intention of overlooking the entry of Damascus. He simply had thought the deadline was 10 o'clock and because he's a shy man who doesn't like crowds, he wanted to stay away from the racing secretary's office.

And Lavin wasn't going to close his books without getting the horse in.

That's an informal courtesy of racing you sometimes find missing in other sports. In golf, for instance, if a man's not at the first tee at the appointed time, it's "Forget it, baby — get in your car and go on to the next tournament."

Tommy Jacobs once shut off the alarm at the Los Angeles Open, slept 15 minutes past his starting time and was out of luck—and the money he might have won in the LA Open.

When entries were being filled for the Flamingo at Hialeah three years ago, nobody could find Horatio Luro, the trainer of Northern Dancer. A call to his home finally roused him, out of bed. Northern Dancer came home the winner (and went on to win the Kentucky Derby).

Petty Survives Disaster Brush To Claim Rebel

DARLINGTON, S. C. (AP) — Lanky Richard Petty survived an early brush with disaster Saturday and went on to run away from the field and win the Rebel 400 stock car race.

The 29-year-old Plymouth star led all but 25 laps of the 291-lap classic and in doing so set a record of 55 victories in NASCAR's Grand National racing division.

Second by a full lap was David Pearson, who took over retired Fred Lorenzen's Ford a week ago.

Petty and Pearson started the race in the front row, but Pearson was involved in an early collision that slowed him down.

The average speed was 125.671 miles per hour, far off Petty's old mark for the race—131.580 last year.

Petty almost took himself out of the contest when he brushed the first turn guard rail on the 88th lap over the tough 1 1/2-mile Darlington International Raceway.

But the 214-pound, black-haired ace handled the race car nicely, made a brief pit stop to repair damage and promptly regained the lead on lap 101, never to be overtaken.

Young Petty had been tied with his father, retired Lee Petty, as the South's most prolific big race winner. The father watched his son win his second Rebel 400 in a row. The son's easy victory brought him about $13,840 and ran his season's money take to $33,000.

David Frank

NEW BERLIN—David Frank, son of Mr. and Mrs. Joseph Frank of New Berlin, has been selected as recipient of the SAR Award for 1967.

The award is obtained through a faculty vote, and is based on qualifications of dependability, cooperation, leadership and patriotism.

David has been a four-year member of the Concert Band, the Stage Band, and has participated all four years in Band Contest and Ensemble Contest. He was a member of Spanish Club his freshman and sophomore years; Annual Staff his sophomore and junior years; Student Council his junior and senior years. He was a member of the Play Cast both his junior and senior years, and was named delegate to Boys State as a junior. He has been a 4-H Club member the past six years.

David will graduate May 26, from New Berlin High School.

Mt. Etna, the still-active volcano on the east coast of Sicily, has erupted 135 times, according to the Encyclopaedia Britannica.

SPACE RESEARCH AND FASHION have teamed up to produce the "astro gown," featuring 64 glowing lamps in a white cocktail dress. Exhibited recently by General Electric in New York City, the dress demonstrates unusual applications of the thin, flexible lamps to be used for instrument paneling in the first spacecraft to land on the moon. One hitch in the gown is that batteries to power the lights must be carried by the wearer in a satchel-sized handbag. At left, the gown is shown against a backdrop of spacecraft activity. Wiring of circuitry in the gown is being done, center. Above right is the galactic-patterned dress seen in a dimly lighted atmosphere.

BANKER ADDRESSES ROODHOUSE CLUB

ROODHOUSE — Russell Meece, Mahomet, who became president of the Roodhouse National Bank after W. W. Wilkinson retired, addressed the Wednesday night meeting of the local Rotary Club. Mr. Meece discussed present trends in banking. He was introduced by Rev. James Organ, program chairman.

The dinner was served by Mrs. Ray Camp and her mother, Mrs. Nona Fry.

The World War II siege of Stalingrad lasted 166 days.

David Massey

A Jacksonville man, David Russell Massey, son of Mrs. Ruth Massey of 408 Hardin avenue, is one of six students at Western Illinois University who will spend their junior year studying in a foreign country.

David will be in Aix-En-Provence, France until June 1968. The Jacksonville High school graduate had three years of French in high school and was a member of the national honor society. He is majoring in French and minoring in economics and hopes to teach French in high school upon graduation.

The university's student government will help finance the expenses of the students in their year abroad.

GREENFIELD LIONS TO INSTALL SLATE

GREENFIELD — The Greenfield Lions Club will celebrate the 29th anniversary of Charter Night May 18 at the Baptist Annex. The meeting will also be Ladies Night.

Rev. Renn will give the invocation. Lion President Lynn Meyer will introduce guests and the toastmaster, Lion Lester Sample.

Attendance awards will be presented and officers will be installed by Lion Savoie of Jacksonville, district governor. Appreciation will be given by Lion Meyer.

Officers to be installed are Richard Cole, president; M. U. Roth, secretary; J. R. Shields, treasurer; Russell Finney, tail twister; Keith Sanson, Lion Tamer; Lester Springman, first vice president; Bill Pembroke, third vice president; Howard N. Elmore, Neil Houlette, Richard C. Wright and Andrew Kuhnline, directors.

Edward Teach was the real name of Blackbeard the pirate.

AN EYE-FUL is what this pop art beach ensemble by a Parisian designer offers for summer of 1967. It is made in green and orange printed jersey with two large painted eyes on the deep, deep-cut front.

Canadian Gold Coins — Not For Americans

CANADA'S GOLD COIN presentation set features a 20-dollar gold piece (center) which means American can't buy it legally.

OTTAWA — (NEA) — Canada's Royal Mint has issued gold and silver coin presentation sets to commemorate the centennial of confederation, but U.S. Collectors are legally able to buy only the silver.

Seems the gold set includes a $20 gold piece and a 1962 executive order states that no gold coins may be imported into the United States without a license issued by the Office of Domestic Gold and Silver Operation (ODGSO).

To eliminate it as a coin of "exceptional numismatic value." Collectors who feel they must at least try to purchase one of these gold presentation sets should apply to ODGSO, Treasury Department, Washington, D.C., for an import license. The request will be denied but it is better than trying to avoid the refusal by sending an order direct to the mint and having it returned.

Canadian officials recognize that U.S. citizens may not own ing year and approved the same applications. So there is still a glimmer of hope for the Canadian coin.

In the meantime, consider the three remaining Centennial coin projects that are available to U.S. collectors without an import license.

As in previous years the mint will issue an uncirculated mint set for 1967 containing the six subsidiary coins from one cent to one dollar, each bearing a wildlife design on the reverse and the effigy of Queen Elizabeth II on the obverse. These sets may be purchased in quantities of one, three or five at $4 each.

The Centennial medallion is sterling silver and measures 1½ inches in diameter. The obverse depicts the Shield of Canada and the reverse the Centennial symbol. It is housed in its own presentation case at $3.

The silver presentation set looks a lot like the set illustrated except the gold coin has been replaced with the sterling silver medallion. The price per set is $12.

Orders will be accepted until Sept. 30, 1967, and should be accompanied by a check, postal money order or draft in Canadian funds made payable to the Receiver General of Canada. P.O. Box 100 Ottawa, 2, Ontario, Canada.

And it further provides that coins in question be of exceptional numismatic value.

The silver set, however, will still be considered a collector's item. It contains the six subsidiary coins from one cent to one dollar plus a sterling silver medallion in place of the gold piece, beautifully housed in a red cowhide case.

Unfortunately, the ODGSO considers the gold piece a medallion, created expressly for collectors and not for circulation — which would seem one of these coins legally and they have served notice that orders will not be accepted from residents of the United States.

This should, once and for all, close the case of the Canadian Centennial $20 gold piece, but it doesn't. The ODGSO has been known to reverse a decision in the past and it is conceivable that it will again. Recently, the ODGSO denied applications to import a South African gold coin the year it was minted, but reversed itself the follow-

NEW ADDITION TO CHRISTIAN HOME — The Illinois Christian Home at 873 Grove street in Jacksonville has announced a $520,000 expansion program, which will begin this summer, and include facilities for 36 additional people. Groundbreaking is expected to be held this August on the site, directly west of the present building.

$520,000 Expansion Program Announced For Christian Home

The Illinois Christian Home at 873 Grove street will enlarge its present facilities late this summer with the addition of a half million dollar expansion program.

Harold Patterson, administrator of the home, made the announcement Saturday, and stated that the expansion calls for a new two-story nursing building.

The action, Patterson said, was approved at the semi-annual meeting of the Home Board of Directors last week. Groundbreaking ceremonies by wheelchair A service tunnel for the new $520,000 unit, designed and covered walkway will be signed by the P. John Hoener, join the new building with the and Associates architectural present facilities.

The Illinois Christian Home, owned, operated and supported by the Christian Churches (Disciples of Christ) through its National Benevolent Association, has been in its present location since March, 1901, when the old Hockenbuhl home on Grove street was purchased.

It had an original capacity for 14 people. With expensive remodeling in 1932, the addition of the health center in 1955, and the building or acquisition of six cottages, it now serves 106 men and women from Illinois, Wisconsin, Missouri, and Arkansas areas.

The staff has grown from three to 58 full-time employees, and the new unit will provide complete nursing service for 36 additional people.

Family Atmosphere
The Christian Home "family," as it likes to be called, represents over 5,000 years of active church membership; all of them are still active through their daily devotional periods, weekly chapel services at the home and participation in the activities of the Central Christian church.

The average age of the "family" is 65, and the oldest is looking forward to her 103rd birthday in August, while many others are still active in community affairs.

The "family" Patterson says is enthusiastic and excited about this new project which will help meet the constantly increasing needs of the aging and has already contributed over $1,400 of its own toward the building fund, although the campaign for contribution has not yet even begun.

Patterson stated that "this is moving expression of the spirit of the family that lives at 873 Grove street."

Members of the Christian Churches (Disciples of Christ) support this and ten other homes for the aging and eight homes for children through their cooperative support of their National Benevolent Association.

All southbound traffic will turn from North Main onto West Walnut and continue to Church, where the detour will take them south on Church street to West College. Motorists will then turn east on College and proceed to South Main.

Construction on the long-awaited project is expected to be completed late Monday afternoon.

FRACTURES KNEE IN FALL SATURDAY

A Jacksonville woman was admitted to Holy Cross hospital Saturday morning after she fell and fractured her knee on the public square.

The woman was identified as Mrs. John Newbold of 1030 West College, reported in good condition at the hospital Saturday night.

According to city police, Mrs. Newbold fell on the sidewalk in front of the Kroger building on the square about 10:15 a.m. She fractured her left knee.

TRAFFIC HAZARD — MacMurray college student Bill Weber straddles the center line on East College avenue Saturday afternoon to get motorists to slow down and contribute to the Jacksonville Day Care Center. Fellow student pickets, and two college professors also participated in the stunt held in front of the local police department headquarters.

'Pickets' Collect $143 For Local Day Care Center

MacMurray college students drew curious stares Saturday afternoon in front of the city police station where they conducted a "mock demonstration" and collected $143.53 for the Jacksonville Day Care center.

Although the demonstration was designed as a stunt, motorists eyed a few of the bearded students with dismay, and did not really understand the function behind the "gag."

Two weeks ago, a faculty-student auction was held on the MacMurray campus to raise funds for the Day Care Center. Several items auctioned off were a student's beard, a free plane-ride to Chicago on the college airplane, and the picketing services of two assistant professors at the college.

The picketing stunt was auctioned off to students who paid $45 to see the two professors picket the local police station with signs proclaiming the harmless slogan, "Warning: Your Local Police Are Armed and Dangerous."

The two professors were assisted by approximately 30 students Saturday between 2:30 and 5:30 p.m., who carried signs urging passersby and motorists to contribute to the Day Care Center.

This effort raised the $143.53. At the auction approximately $1200 was collected for the benefit of the center.

Otto Brenneke, Retired Baker, Dies Saturday

WHITE HALL — Otto Brenneke, a retired White Hall baker, passed away at 5:30 p.m. Saturday at White Hall hospital where he had been a patient eight weeks.

He was born in Germany Sept. 4, 1891. His wife preceded him in death Feb. 26, 1956. Surviving is one brother, Enrique Brenneke of Santiago, Chile.

The body was taken to the Dawdy - Wolfe Funeral Home in White Hall. Arrangements are incomplete.

CLEAR RAILROAD LAND NORTHEAST OF CITY — CB&Q railroad officials discuss a land clearing project northeast of the city on ten acres of ground east of Illinois avenue with first ward alderman Jimmy Fernandez (l). Railroad personnel are James Utter (center) division roadmaster, and Clarence Wagner, section foreman. The area being cleared, which has a dense undergrowth, is known as the "old car shops" addition to the city, and once housed the Jacksonville and Havana railroad shops, including the old roundhouse. Utter said that the railroad had no immediate plans for the area once cleared of the thickets and trees, however there has been speculation that the property might be utilized as an industrial site in the near future.

Winchester Club Plans Garden Tour

By Naomi Lawson
(Winchester Correspondent)
(Telephone 742-3490)

WINCHESTER — The Winchester Woman's club's evening educational unit will close the club year with a meeting Wednesday evening.

Activities will open at 5 p.m. with a social hour at the home of Mrs. Charles Craver. A tour of Winchester gardens will follow with Mrs. William Buckley in charge. The evening will be completed with dinner, to be served at 7:15 p.m. at the Slagle Ranch Inn.

The program, entitled "Your Personality," will be presented by Dr. Elsa Kimball.

Reservations may be made with Mrs. Earle Black through Monday evening. Committee (Turn To Page Four)

IMPROVEMENTS FOR EAST CEMETERY — Roadways through the Jacksonville East cemetery this week were spread with new rock, under the direction of city street department personnel. Jimmy Fernandes, chairman of the municipal services committee of the city council, said that rock would be spread over the roads in Diamond Grove cemetery the start of this week. The last improvements to the roads in the East cemetery were made approximately 10 years ago, according to James Armitage, secretary of the municipal cemetery board. In the foreground "Buck" Twyford (standing) sexton at cemetery and Harold Willner Jr. continue regular work at the cemetery, while a K. E. Vas company truck spreads rock under the direction of Paul Kroush, superintendent of the city street department, Clarence Gray and Elmer Luttrell.

Grace Wilber Of Woodson Dies Saturday

Mrs. Grace Mae McHortler Wilber, a resident of Woodson for 32 years, passed away Saturday at the Meline Nursing Home where she had been a patient for six months.

She was born in Pickaway County, Ohio March 7, 1891; daughter of William R. and Caroline DeLong McHortler. She was married in Woodson Aug. 22, 1922 to John Wilber, who passed away in 1958.

Surviving are the following children: Anna Mae, wife of Lee Murtha of San Diego, Calif.; John Robert Wilber of Jacksonville, Ida Mae, wife of Ervin Bridges and James Andrew Wilber, both of Springfield, Nina June, wife of John Spurlock of East Peoria and David Byron Wilber of St. Louis; eight grandsons and six granddaughters. A sister-in-law, Miss Nina Wilber lives in Woodson.

She was preceded in death by a sister, Clara B. McHortler and two brothers, Creighton McHortler and William, who died in infancy.

She graduated from Murrayville High School and Passavant Hospital School of Nursing. She taught at Concord school for two years, served as a nurse at Passavant hospital until her retirement 14 years ago and was later employed as a nurse at Oaklawn sanatorium.

She was a member of the Woodson Presbyterian church. Funeral services will be held at 2 p.m. Tuesday at Cody and Son Memorial Home. Rev. William J. Boston officiating. Interment will be in Memorial Lawn cemetery.

The family will meet friends at the funeral home from 7-9 p.m. Monday.

Sneak Preview Today Of Free Safety Lane

A sneak preview of the entire ten-point free Vehicle Safety Check Lane will open at one o'clock this afternoon and continue for all who wish to visit the safety lane until 5 o'clock.

Entrance to the safety lane will be on West Morgan at the intersection of Kosciusko. The two-block area along West Morgan will have check points from one end to the other during the operation which concludes Saturday.

Chief of Police Charles Runkel urged motorists to "Get the safety habit: check your car, check your driving and check accidents."

This marks the 13th annual safety lane for Jacksonville. The annual event is sponsored by the Jacksonville Police Department with financial help from the Independent Association of Insurance Agents plus the volunteer help of a long list of civic and service clubs as well as businesses engaged in the care and repair of autos.

All police organizations in the Jacksonville area provide personnel to help man the various checkpoints.

Co-chairmen for the project are: Russ Armstrong, James Robson and James Potter, all patrolmen on the police department.

Anyone who expects to be out of town during the week should take advantage of the sneak preview and have his car checked free this afternoon.

In past years the Jacksonville Safety Lane has won nine state awards of excellence and three national awards, plus one congressional certificate of merit.

Expect River Level To Drop

BEARDSTOWN — The Illinois River, barring more rain, is expected to begin a steady decline after reaching a stage of 15.9 this weekend. The predicted stage was 16 feet, according to Tom Phelps, weather observer, who gets his forecasts through the St. Louis Weather Bureau.

This is the second rise of the season, due to heavy rains, and has sent creeks out of their banks, flooding lowlands in this sector.

Generally the stage here is between 9 and 10 feet, and government engineers consider a 14 foot stage as flood level, although this stage endangers nothing.

The official opening of the 1967 Free Safety Check Lane will be at 9 o'clock Monday morning, complete with ribbon-cutting ceremonies.

Operation of the safety lane will be from 9 a.m. to 6 p.m. starting Monday and continuing through Saturday.

There will be no tickets issued at the safety lane. Those defects found in autos can be corrected and the cars returned to the safety lane for a decal anytime during the week.

Local Teen Judged Best Young Driver

A 16-year-old Jacksonville driver, competing in the Amvet-Dodge Driver Excellence contest at Soldier Field in Chicago Saturday, finished first in a field of 15 contestants.

David L. Culbertson, son of Mr. and Mrs. D. L. Culbertson of 1140 South East St., was named winner of the contest and will receive a new Dodge Dart plus a cash scholarship award.

Culbertson, a sophomore at Jacksonville High School, was one of the three youngest drivers in the contest. The other two, David R. Jamieson of St. Charles, Mo. and Miss Carole Hill of Asheville, N.C., both 16, also proved to be able drivers, placing second and third respectively.

Culbertson advanced to the national driving competition by winning contests at both the local and state level.

He was sponsored in Saturday's contest by Amvet Post 100, Lukeman Motor company and Jacksonville High School.

He and the other contest finalists, representing 15 states, were guests at an awards dinner at the Pick-Congress Hotel in Chicago Saturday evening.
